Practising Spirituality Laura Beres, 2017-03-07 The steady increase in economic social environmental and political hardships experienced by many around the globe has led in recent years to a corresponding growth in the importance ascribed to finding meaning in life and to addressing the bigger questions As deliverers of care and assistance to people across many different faiths and cultures whose lives are impacted directly by these hardships current and future social workers must learn to apply concepts of spirituality in their own professional practice In this unique and inspiring book a diverse group of authors draws deeply on their own experiences of spirituality in practice providing a fascinating and often moving exploration of how meaning is derived in a variety of different contexts Topics discussed include Mindfulness meditation and the practice of Falun Gong The interaction between spirituality social justice and professional practice The role of spirituality in the provision of palliative care Indigenous spiritualities interconnectedness and human animal bonds The role of spirituality in providing hospitality and acceptance in practice Enriched by a wealth of case studies and a strong focus on critical reflection throughout Practising Spirituality is an important and thought provoking read for students and practitioners across the full range of health and social care disciplines from social work and counselling to nursing youth work and beyond

Types of Manorial Structure in the Northern Danelaw Frank Merry Stenton, 1910

Gothic Travel through Haunted Landscapes Lucie Armitt, Scott Brewster, 2022-12-06 This book argues that the process and experience of travel in Gothic literature provides a unique and transformative perspective on the relationship between fear and recurring cultural preoccupations from the late eighteenth century to the present ranging from concerns about climate change or the presence of the unseen to the negotiation of cultural difference and the apprehension produced by various modes of modern transport and unknown unknowable terrain The book follows travellers who take many fictional forms tourists commuters walkers explorers as well as the armchair tourist or reader as they encounter fascinating strange and often disconcerting weathers climates landscapes and topographies Gothic travel epitomises the wonder excitement suspicion or incomprehension that arises from journeys through familiar and unfamiliar terrain While exposure to the wild elemental or primitive could produce the elevation of the sublime in early Gothic increasingly the experience of travel raised unsettling questions about people places and environments that lay beyond established frames of knowledge Gothic travellers are haunted never alone and the experience of journeying through these landscapes provokes fears that may shadow them even after they have returned to home ground Climates of Fear reveals the persistent ways in which Gothic narratives of travel confront fears about the environment surveillance immigration and the foreign These abiding concerns speak loudly to the present time however when the encroachments on our immediate surroundings from climate change digital communication and geopolitical dislocation seem at once remote and intimate invisible yet urgent Thus the book also asks whether recent portrayals of Gothic journeys now pose different questions to the reader

Medieval English Travel

Anthony Bale, Sebastian Sobecki, 2019-01-09 Medieval English Travel A Critical Anthology is a comprehensive volume that consists of three sections: concise introductory essays written by leading specialists; an anthology of important and less well-known texts grouped by destination; and a selection of supporting bibliographies organised by type of voyage. This anthology presents some texts for the first time in a modern edition. The first section consists of six companion essays on Places Real and Imagined, Maps, the Organisation of Space, Encounters, Languages and Codes, Trade and Exchange, and Politics and Diplomacy. The organising principle for the anthology is one of expansive geography. Starting with local English narratives, the section moves to France, en route destinations, the Holy Land, and the Far East. In total, the anthology contains 26 texts or extracts, including new editions of Floris and Blanchefleur, The Stations of Rome, The Libelle of Englyshe Polycye, and Chaucer's Squire's Tale, in addition to less familiar texts such as Osborn Bokenham's Mappula Angliae, John Kay's Siege of Rhodes 1480, and Richard Torkington's Diaries of Englysshe Travell. The supporting bibliographies in turn take a functional approach to travel and support the texts by elucidating contexts for travel and travellers in five areas: commercial voyages, diplomatic and military travel, maps, rutters, and charts, practical needs, and religious voyages.
