Cereus Blooms at Night Shani Mootoo, 2009 This book is a haunting multi generational novel about the shifting faces of Mala adventurer and protector recluse and madwoman The plot contains sexual violence and mature themes Prov de l editor

Majesty in Canada Colin Coates, 2006-02-04 On the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of Queen Elizabeth s accession to the throne the Centre of Canadian Studies of the University of Edinburgh hosted its annual conference on the theme Majesty in Canada The essays that were presented at that conference reflect the wide ranging recognitions of the different roles that monarchs and their representatives have played in Canada The essays examine how Canadians have understood their ties to royalty and how the regal principle formed an important part of the national identity Royal tours vice regal initiatives representations of the sovereign s power and Canadian appeals to monarchical sentiments comprise the themes of these engaging essays providing an up to date look at the historical and current personal influence of the Crown in Canada

Canadian Gothic Cynthia Sugars, 2014-01-15 This book explores the Gothic tradition in Canadian literature by tracing a distinctive reworking of the British Gothic in Canada It traces the ways the Gothic genre was reinvented for a specifically Canadian context On the one hand Canadian writers expressed anxiety about the applicability of the British Gothic tradition to the colonies on the other they turned to the Gothic for its vitalising rather than unsettling potential After charting this history of Gothic infusion Canadian Gothic turns its attention to the body of Aboriginal and diasporic writings that respond to this discourse of national self invention from a post colonial perspective These counter narratives unsettle the naturalising force of this invented history rendering the sense of Gothic comfort newly strange The Canadian Gothic tradition has thus been a conflicted one which reimagines the Gothic as a form of cultural sustenance This volume offers an important reconsideration of the Gothic legacy in Canada

Forgotten Marlene Goldman, 2017-11-07 Since the 1860s long before scientists put a name to Alzheimer s disease Canadian authors have been writing about age related dementia Originally most of these stories were elegies designed to offer readers consolation Over time they evolved into narratives of gothic horror in which the illness is presented not as a normal consequence of aging but as an apocalyptic transformation Weaving together scientific cultural and aesthetic depictions of dementia and Alzheimer s disease Forgotten asserts that the only crisis associated with Canada s aging population is one of misunderstanding Revealing that turning illness into something monstrous can have dangerous consequences Marlene Goldman seeks to identify the political and social influences that have led to the gothic disease model and its effects on society Examining the works of authors such as Alice Munro Michael Ignatieff Jane Rule and Caroline Adderson alongside news stories and medical and historical discussions of Alzheimer s disease Goldman provides an alternative person centred perspective to the experiences of aging and age related dementia Deconstructing the myths that have transformed cognitive decline into a corrosive fantasy Forgotten establishes the pivotal role that fictional and non fictional narratives play in cultural interpretations of disease

Critical Perspectives on

Indo-Caribbean Women's Literature Joy Allison Indira Mahabir, Mariam Pirbhai, 2013 This book is the first collection on Indo Caribbean women's writing and the first work to offer a sustained analysis of the literature from a range of theoretical and critical perspectives such as ecocriticism, feminist, queer, post-colonial and Caribbean cultural theories. The essays not only lay the framework of an emerging and growing field but also critically situate internationally acclaimed writers such as Shani Mootoo, Lakshmi Persaud and Ramabai Espinet within this emerging tradition. Indo Caribbean women writers provide a fresh new perspective in Caribbean literature by it in their unique representations of plantation history, anti-colonial movements, diasporic identities, feminisms, ethnicity and race or contemporary Caribbean societies and culture. The book offers a theoretical reading of the poetics, politics and cultural traditions that inform Indo Caribbean women's writing, arguing that while women writers work with and through postcolonial and Caribbean cultural theories, they also respond to a distinctive set of influences and realities specific to their positioning within the Indo Caribbean community and the wider national, regional and global imaginary. Contributors visit the overlap between national and transnational engagements in Indo Caribbean women's literature, considering the writers' response to local or nationally specific contexts and the writers' response to the diasporic and transnational modalities of Caribbean and Indo Caribbean communities.

Diasporic Subjectivity and Cultural Brokering in Contemporary Post-Colonial Literatures Igor Maver, 2009-06-16 Diasporic writing simultaneously asserts a sense of belonging and expresses a sense of being ethnic in a society of immigration. The essays in this volume explore how contemporary diasporic writers in English use their works to mediate this dissonance and seek to work through the ethical, political and personal affiliations of diasporic identities and subjectivities. The essays call for a remapping of post-colonial literatures and a reevaluation of the Anglophone literary canon by including post-colonial diasporic literary discourses. Demonstrating that an intercultural dialogue and constant cultural brokering are a must in our post-colonial world, this volume is a valuable contribution to the ongoing discourse on post-colonial diasporic literatures and identities.

The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad-ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields, genres and periods in Canadian literary studies. The essays in this volume, written by prominent theorists in the field, reflect the plurality of critical perspectives, regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods. The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest, including 1) attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism, trauma and memory, citizenship, material culture, literary prizes, disability studies, literature and history, digital cultures, globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism; 2) interest in Indigenous literatures and settler-Indigenous relations; 3) attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada; 4) interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline; 5) a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole

Shapes of Silence Prama Tagore, 2009-03-17 Drawing from the insights of subaltern studies and postcolonial feminisms Prama Tagore brings together the work of a diverse group of writers Toni Morrison Shani Mootoo Louise Erdrich M K Indira Rashsundari Debi and Mahasweta Devi She focuses on the visceral affective nature of their narratives and explores the way that personal and historical trauma initially silenced may be recorded across generations as well as across complex national racial gender and sexual lines

Anti-Asian Violence in North America Patricia Wong Hall, Victor M. Hwang, 2001 Violent and sometimes fatal acts of racial hatred are drawing increasing attention around the nation Asian American and Asian Canadian authors discuss the impacts of racial crime exploring the relationship between the physical or verbal acts to issues of ethnic identity civil rights of immigrants Internet racism sexual violence language and violence economic scapegoating and police brutality They offer suggestions for combating hate crime with coalition building and community resisatnce as well as legal prosecution and police training The compelling narratives are a valuable resource for courses in Asian American studies race and ethnic studies sociology criminology and for anyone who wants to understand racial violence in North America Visit our website for sample chapters

Flight from Certainty , 2021-11-01 The World Next Door Rajini Srikanth, 2004 This book grows out of the question At this particular moment of tense geopolitics and inter linked economies what insights can South Asian American writing offer us about living in the world South Asian American literature with its focus on the multiple geographies and histories of the global dispersal of South Asians pulls back from a close up view of the United States to reveal a wider landscape of many nations and peoples South Asian American poets novelists and playwrights depict the nation as simultaneously discrete and entwined with the urgencies of places as diverse as Bangladesh Sri Lanka India Burma

Pakistan and Trinidad Drawing on the cosmopolitan sensibility of scholars like Anthony Appiah Vinay Dharwadkar Martha Nussbaum Bruce Robbins and Amartya Sen this book exhorts North American residents to envision connectedness with inhabitants of other lands The world out there arrives next door Writing the Earth, Darkly Isabel Hoving, 2017-02-08 Why do we find so many references to nature and the environment in the many Caribbean literary texts that try to come to terms with the contemporary age of globalization Even when these novels and poems do not seem to be concerned with environmental issues at all they abound with fragrant creepy or dark references to flowers insects trees gardens and mud This book discusses a range of Anglophone and Dutch language Caribbean literary texts to propose an answer It shows that some writers evoke nature to question oppressive notions of what is natural and what is not when it comes to race gender and desire Other writers choose to counter the destructive dichotomies of wildness order nature culture nature human that marked colonialism Instead they represent the environment as a field of interconnectedness marked by intense semiotic interaction in which human beings are also implicated But writing about nature can also be a means to reconnect with the very foundations of life itself In the most dramatic cases references to nature evoke an extra discursive space that then functions to subvert existing discourses That space may even mark the site of the annihilation of discourse or of the self These texts suggest that in times of globalization it is only the dark queer turn to matter that will free the path to imagining human existence in a new way The book's proposal to understand some of these fascinating texts as an effort to relate to the mind baffling explosive real is inspired by postcolonial trauma theory posthumanism and new materialism However Caribbean literature is a layered practice that does much more than merely explore the world's materiality It works simultaneously as cultural critique counter discourse and as the manipulation of affect This book therefore brings together ecocriticism with Caribbean and postcolonial studies the study of globalization trauma theory the study of gender and sexuality posthumanism and new materialism to bring out the full complexity of these wise texts Thus it hopes to show its readers their extraordinary innovative potential Asian American Short Story Writers Guiyou Huang, 2003-06-30 Asian America has produced numerous short story writers in the 20th century Some emerged after World War II yet most of these writers have flourished since 1980 The first reference of its kind this volume includes alphabetically arranged entries for 49 nationally and internationally acclaimed Asian American writers of short fiction Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a biography a discussion of major works and themes a survey of the writer's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies Writers include Frank Chin Sui Sin Far Shirely Geok lin Lim Toshio Mori and Bharati Mukherjee An introductory essay provides a close examination of the Asian American short story and the volume closes with a list of works for further reading Bearer of Risk Neta Gordon, 2022-04-15 The short story and the short story cycle have long been considered a marginal genre free to make room for fresh or risk taking voices But in thematizing masculinity in crisis the genre uses the premise of the marginal to elevate recuperative masculinity politics and nostalgia for traditional patriarchy Despite the scholarly tendency to link marginal genres and marginalized voices features of the CanLit infrastructure including genre criticism and literary prize culture are complicit in normalizing hegemonic masculinity and the Settler colonial project Bearers of Risk examines how male Canadian writers mobilize the early twenty first century short story cycle as an illustration of post 9 11 recuperative masculinity politics exposing the tendency to position White heteronormative men s viewpoints as objective Neta Gordon introduces the civil bearer of risk a figure who comprehends the position of men as being marked by or for failure and who reasserts masculine authority as civil duty towards community This book looks at contemporary experimental short story cycles debut cycles by ethnically minoritized and immigrant writers and cycles unified by setting whether suburban urban or rural Bearers of Risk unsettles popular notions of the inherent outsider status of the short story cycle while also scrutinizing expressions of recuperative masculinity politics through which men assert their right to reclaim the centre

Liminal Diasporas Rahul K. Gairola, Sarah Courtis, Tim Flanagan, 2024-11-08 Liminal Diasporas Contemporary Movements of Humanity and the Environment offers readers a new lens through which to critically re evaluate the necropolitics of migration Using the term liminal diasporas the co editors and range of authors define this notion as migratory bodies that are simultaneously subject to danger violence and precarious modalities of life The chapters in this edited volume cover a range of topics including diasporic camp life for Palestinians queer South Asian diasporas in the Caribbean close readings of various texts reformulations of home and homeland children s play games and even representations of zombie diaspora Overall these chapters along with the incisive Preface and Afterword that bookend them offer compelling readings of what it means today to be a liminal diaspora before the era of COVID 19 into today s woeful violence in Gaza Ukraine and other parts of the world Liminal Diasporas as such is a timely and urgent collection that compels us to rethink the human condition in relation to possibly the most material existential crises that our planet has ever witnessed The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Journal of Postcolonial Writing

From Old Woman to Older Women Sally Chivers, 2003 Drawing on the perspective of aging bodies in order to approach the study of contemporary Canadian women s fiction the author seeks to understand body criticism in general because elderly physical experiences lay bare crucial assumptions of thinking through the body It also investigates the mechanisms and effects of constructions of aging in order to combat the automatically negative reactions most readers have to the topic of old age

Queer Postcolonial Narratives and the Ethics of Witnessing Donna McCormack, 2015-07-30 Queer Postcolonial Narratives and the Ethics of Witnessing is a critically engaged exploration of power and its relation to ethics and bodies By revisiting and revising Judith Butler s and Homi Bhabha s queer and postcolonial theories of literary performance McCormack expands current understandings of the performative workings of power through an embodied multisensory ethics That remembering is an embodied act which necessitates an undoing of one s sense of self captures how colonial and familial histories silenced by hegemonic structures may only emerge through opaque bodily sensations These non institutionalised forms of witnessing serve both to reconfigure theories of performativity by re situating the act of witnessing as integral to the workings of power and to interrogate the current emphasis on speech in trauma studies by analysing the multifarious communal and public ways in which memories emerge In Queer Postcolonial Narratives and the Ethics of Witnessing the body is reinstated as central to both the workings of and the challenges to colonial discourses

Performing Hybridity May Joseph, Jennifer Fink, 1999 Amid the modern day complexities of migration and exile immigration and repatriation notions of stable national identity give way to ideas about cultural hybridity The authors represented in this volume use different forms of performative writing to question this process to ask how the production of new political identities destabilizes ideas about gender sexuality and the nation in the public sphere Contributors use forms such as the essay poem photography and case study to examine historically specific cases in which the notion of hybridity recasts our ideas of identity and performance the struggle for Aboriginal land rights in Australia Bahian carnival the creolization and pidginization of language in the Caribbean world queer videos and others

Cultural Grammars of Nation, Diaspora, and Indigeneity in Canada Christine Kim, Sophie McCall, Melina Baum Singer, 2012-05-09 Cultural Grammars of Nation Diaspora and Indigeneity in Canada considers how the terms of critical debate in literary and cultural studies in Canada have shifted with respect to race nation and difference In asking how Indigenous and diasporic interventions have remapped these debates the contributors argue that a new cultural grammar is at work and attempt to sketch out some of the ways it operates The essays reference pivotal moments in Canadian literary and cultural history and speak to ongoing debates about Canadian nationalism postcolonialism migrancy and transnationalism Topics covered include the Asian race riots in Vancouver in 1907 the cultural memory of internment and dispersal of Japanese Canadians in the 1940s the politics of migrant labour and the domestic labour scheme in the 1960s and the trial of Robert Pickton in Vancouver in 2007 The contributors are particularly interested in how diaspora and indigeneity continue to contribute to this critical reconfiguration and in how conversations about diaspora and indigeneity in the Canadian context have themselves been transformed Cultural Grammars is an attempt to address both the interconnections and the schisms between these multiply fractured critical terms as well as the larger conceptual shifts that have occurred in response to national and postnational arguments
