Multimodality Janina Wildfeuer, Jana Pflaeging, John Bateman, Ognyan Seizov, Chiao-I Tseng, 2019-11-18 Multimodality's popularity as a semiotic approach has not resulted in a common voice yet Its conceptual anchoring as well as its empirical applications often remain localized and disparate and ideas of a theory of multimodality are heterogeneous and uncoordinated For the field to move ahead it must achieve a more mature status of reflection mutual support and interaction with regard to both past and future directions The red thread across the disciplines reflected in this book is a common goal of capturing the mechanisms of synergetic knowledge construction and transmission using diverse forms of expressions i.e. multimodality The collection of chapters brought together in the book reflects both a diversity of disciplines and common interests and challenges thereby establishing an excellent roadmap for the future The contributions revisit and redefine theoretical concepts or empirical analyses which are crucial to the study of multimodality from various perspectives with a view towards evolving issues of multimodal analysis With this the book aims at repositioning the field as a well grounded scientific discipline with significant implications for future communication research in many fields of study Ecological Communication and Ecoliteracy Maria Bortoluzzi, Elisabetta Zurru, 2024-05-02 This open access volume is a call for ecological awareness and action through communication It offers perspectives on how we as humans posit ourselves in relation to and as part of the environment in both verbal and non verbal discourse The contributions investigate a variety of situated communicative practices and how they instantiate and potentially influence our actions Through the frameworks of ecolinguistics multimodal studies and ecoliteracy the book discusses how the environmental crisis is communicated as an urgent global and local issue in a variety of media texts and events The contributions present a wide range of case studies including news articles institutional websites artwork installations promotional texts signposting social campaigns and other and they explore how communicative actions can help meet the challenges of ecologically oriented change The focus is on the impact that linguistic and multimodal communication can have on acting in with and towards the environment seen as living ecosystems or lifescapes The chapters offer a reflection on the way we experience endorse reframe and resist value systems in ecological communication and propose alternative and healthier perspectives to respect and preserve the common and nurturing lifescapes through awareness and action The ebook editions of this book are available open access under a CC BY NC ND 4 0 licence on bloomsburycollections.com

Drawing multimodality's bigger picture: Metalanguages and corpora for multimodal analyses Janina Wildfeuer, Claudia Lehmann, 2024-07-30 Multimodality has most recently been described no longer as a research field or discipline on its own but rather as a stage of development within a field Bateman 2022a 49 The realization that 1 many different fields and disciplines now enter their own multimodal phase with new interest in multimodal phenomena and that 2 these disciplines all commit to the development of multimodality research with their own theoretical principles and methodological tools brings with it not only an immense breadth of potential analytical objects but also many new meta methodological issues We need to find ways of combining insights from the variously imported theoretical and methodological backgrounds brought along by previous non multimodal stages of any contributing disciplines Bateman 2022a 49 At the same time the search for a meta methodology for multimodal analyses is pushed further by the recent trend towards more empirical approaches to multimodal phenomena and the development and use of larger multimodal corpora that just as well require theoretical and methodological refinements We need to develop ways of strengthening claims with robustly applicable methods which nevertheless remain firmly anchored theoretically Bateman 2022b 64 For a productive handling of these issues disciplinary triangulation and finding a common language or metalanguage Maton newest results from data collection methods and multimodal corpus analyses that expand the current quantitative work by e g applying existing theories and methods to larger datasets or exploring the newest communication technologies We are particularly interested in seeing how works addressing these aspects contribute to finding ways of productive triangulation and integration for and within a meta methodology for multimodality research This Research Topic aims to bring together scholars from a variety of disciplines interested in multimodality research to review explore and advance the contributions that John Bateman as one of the key figures in multimodality research has made to both theory and method building as well as to the driving forward of multimodal empirical and corpus analyses We welcome contributions that for example critically address the theoretical and methodological advancements that John Bateman has made with regard to the notions of semiotic mode discourse semantics genre textuality etc apply one of the many approaches that John Bateman has developed for the empirical analysis of multimodal artefacts e g the GeM model for page based documents his work on multimodal film and audio visual analysis and the discourse semantics and or annotation approach to visual narratives to larger corpora or currently newly developing communicative situations expand on one of the abovementioned aspects with new ideas and insights from disciplines that have not yet been included in multimodality research Less Frequently Used Research Methodologies in Applied Linguistics A. Mehdi Riazi, 2024-01-15 Research methodology plays a pivotal role in generating new knowledge in any academic discipline Applied Linguistics AL researchers use a variety of research methodologies to address different research problems and research questions given its interdisciplinary nature Notwithstanding the plethora of research methodologies used by AL researchers there are some methodologies that are used less frequently The aim of this volume is to introduce and discuss these less frequently used methodologies Each methodology is discussed in two chapters a theoretical and a practical chapter In the theoretical chapters the theoretical foundations methodological orientation ethical issues and critiques and responses are discussed In the practical chapters a showcase study is presented and discussed including why the methodology was used how it was implemented the challenges the researchers faced and the insights they gained The volume contributes to the current methodological discussion in AL and provides early career and seasoned researchers with the necessary discussion about these methodological orientations Future AL researchers may use these methodologies to investigate research questions in their areas of interest In addition the volume can complement current methodological resources in postgraduate research methodology courses The Bloomsbury Handbook of Popular Music Video Analysis Lori A.
