Crocodile That Liked People:

Crocodile Whisperers Keith K. Millheim, 2022-02-10 The Blue Ring Assassin introduced Zoe Waring, daughter of an Aboriginal mother and an Irish Australian father. An expert on venomous sea life, she became a vigilante and assassin eliminating people who escaped the law. She now returns but questions her job when she is contracted to terminate a Tokyo oyabun, the leader of the Inagawa kai yakuza. Due to her hesitation, Zoe is now the target of her employer, a Jewish group called Der Finder with ties to the Mossad. The top Der Finder assassin in the United States is known as The Invisible Man, and he has never failed a contract. An airplane crash in the Florida Everglades involving Werner Kline changes everything though, as The Invisible Man goes to Australia to hunt Zoe. Werner's sister Beth Kline is a good-hearted rebel with a cause, an avid environmentalist with a strong connection to nature, is drawn to Broome, Western Australia, where she meets an Aboriginal mystic and a maverick priest. Beth demonstrates the ability to communicate with deadly saltwater crocs, becoming known as a crocodile whisperer. She never expected the consequences of this incredible skill or her newfound connection to Zoe Waring.

Sleeping Like a Hare Catherine Buckle, 2015 At least once a week when I was a kid, my mother would send me to the shops to get things she had forgotten or had run out of. Stay off the road, Lovemore. Those were always the last words I heard. 25 years later, it had been raining, so we didn't bother to put on our shoes and just walked barefoot. We were sleeping when we heard a knock on the door. It was the police. They had followed our footprints. This is the story of one man's encounters in the Diaspora. A journey to the unknown, made from necessity, not choice, to save his family from the collapse of Zimbabwe.

The Crocodile That Liked People Grace Divine, 2015-12-02 www.GraceDivine.com This is a story about a crocodile who becomes friends with a human man. It is inspired by a true story. Crocodiles and other reptiles are not apparently what we thought they were. This book will help your child connect with nature and with animals. THE RECIPE OF THE

CROCODILE Steffen Pichler, 2023-03-24 For over 250 million years, the crocodile, in the sense of a form of life, occupied the top of the food pyramid between water and land. However, this included many different species, most of which were not linearly descended from each other, despite enormous similarity. Often they were even only very distantly related in the huge family tree of reptiles. Now Steffen Pichler shows that this pronounced convergence must be grounded above all in a recurrent selective orientation towards one specific goal, namely the broadest possible ecological harmony. Based on years of observations of free saltwater crocodiles in northern Australia and the evaluation of palaeontological studies, he proves that this manifested seamlessly in every aspect of physique and behaviour. The heavy body can glide almost turbulence-free on mirror-smooth water surfaces. The all-day existence is so extremely unobtrusive and quiet that disturbances caused to other creatures are close to zero. The killing of prey is done in an utmost surprising way and mostly within seconds. In addition, there are many positive effects, such as those as health police through the automatic selection of diseased fish or even that of an indirect protector of the well-rehearsed ecosystem against disruptive intruders. The author explains that with real observation and a little thinking around the corner the ecological harmony of the crocodile becomes as obvious that there can be no stable counterarguments and that even the best engineer could not find any potential for an optimization. However in the public alienated from nature artificial factors like focused slow motion films of the mostly tiny moments of killing prey form the dominant impression. This and some other distracting influences make not only the layman miss a chance to use the crocodile for very deep insights. Pichler shows how the reflection of the crocodile form reveals a whole structure of most fundamental natural laws which were literally missed by the civilising sciences although their exploration would have been of highest importance for mankind. And he takes the logical conclusion so far that it eventually even reaches beyond the boundaries of space and time.

The Race to Kangaroo Cliff Alexander McCall Smith, 2019-04-09 In this third and final installment of the School Ship Tobermory adventure series the same loveable cast and crew are back sailing to new locales in Australia with adventures that don't disappoint Ben and Fee MacTavish and the rest of the school ship Tobermory crew head to Australia to take part in a tall ships race. But after a good start the Tobermory unexpectedly changes course to rescue a local boy Will who is stranded on the rocks. When the ship's dog Henry disappears Will helps Ben, Fee and their friends find him but as the trail leads them deeper into the Outback they begin to realize that a missing dog is the least of their problems. Join the crew aboard the Tobermory as they set sail from their home base in Mull to the Southern Hemisphere on an adventure they won't soon forget.

Cousins and Crocodiles Jane Bowring, 2007 Crocodile Undone Marcus Baynes-Rock, 2020-03-24 Across the world animals are being domesticated at an unprecedented rate and scale. But what exactly is domestication and what does it tell us about ourselves? In this book Marcus Baynes Rock seeks the common thread linking stories about the domestication of Australia's native animals, arguing that domestication is part of a process by which late modernity threatens to undo the world. In a deeply personal account the author tells of his encounters with crocodiles and emus behind fences, dingoes and kangaroos crossing boundaries and native bees producing honey in his suburban backyard. Drawing on comparisons between Aboriginal and colonial Australians Baynes Rock reveals how the domestication of Australia's fauna is a process of unmaking. As an extension of late modernity the connections that tie humans and other animals to wider ecologies are being severed, threatening to isolate us and our domesticates from the rest of the world. It is here that Baynes Rock reveals a key difference between Aboriginal and colonial Australian modes of landscape management while one is focused on a systemic approach and sees humans as integral to ecological integrity the other seeks to sever domesticates from ecological processes. The question that emerges is: How might we reconfigure and maintain these connections without undoing humanity? Written in the author's characteristically frank, passionate and humorous style Crocodile Undone takes the reader on a journey across both physical and philosophical landscapes. This fascinating narrative will appeal to anyone interested in the vital connections between humans and animals.
