Sex and Desire in Muslim Cultures Aymon Kreil, Lucia Sorbera, Serena Tolino, 2020-12-10 What have different ideas about sex and gender meant for people throughout the history of the Middle East and North Africa This book traces sex and desire in Muslim cultures through a collection of chapters that span the 9th to 21st centuries Looking at spaces and periods where sexual norms and the categories underpinning them emerge out of multiple subjectivities the book shows how people constantly negotiate the formulation of norms their boundaries and their subversion It demonstrates that the cultural and political meanings of sexualities in Muslim cultures as elsewhere emerge from very specific social and historical contexts The first part of the book examines how people constructed discussed and challenged sexual norms from the Abbasid to the Ottoman period The second part looks at literary and cinematic Arab cultural production as a site for the construction and transgression of gender norms The third part builds on feminist historiography and social anthropology to question simplistic dichotomies and binaries Each of the contributions shows how understanding of sexualities and the subjectivities that evolve from them are rooted in the mutually constitutive relationships between gender and political power In identifying the plurality of discourses on desires the book goes beyond the dichotomy of norm and transgression to glimpse what different sexual norms have meant at different times across the Middle East Disability in Antiquity Christian Laes, 2016-10-04 This volume is a major contribution to the field of disability history in the ancient world Contributions from leading international scholars examine deformity and disability from a variety of historical sociological and theoretical perspectives as represented in various media The volume is not confined to a narrow view of antiquity but includes a large number of pieces on ancient western Asia that provide a broad and comparative view of the topic and enable scholars to see this important topic in the round Disability in Antiquity is the first multidisciplinary volume to truly map out and explore the topic of disability in the ancient world and create new avenues of thought and research Persian and Arabic Literary Communities in the Seventeenth Century James White, 2023-06-15 Shortlisted for the 2024 British Kuwait Friendship Society Book Prize A wealth of scholarship has highlighted how commercial political and religious networks expanded across the Arabian Sea during the seventeenth century as merchants from South Asia traded goods in the ports of Yemen noblemen from Safavid Iran established themselves in the courts of the Mughal Empire and scholars from across the region came together to debate the Islamic sciences in the Arabian Peninsula's holy cities of Mecca and Medina This book demonstrates that the globalising tendency of migration created worldly literary systems which linked Iran India and the Arabian Peninsula through the production and circulation of classicizing Arabic and Persian poetry By close reading over seventy unstudied manuscripts of seventeenth century Arabic and Persian poetry that have remained hidden on the shelves of libraries in India Iran Turkey and Europe the book examines how migrant poets adapted shared poetic forms imagery and rhetoric to engage with their interlocutors and create communities in the cities where they settled The book begins by reconstructing overarching patterns in the movement of over a thousand authors and the economic basis for their migration before focusing on six case studies of literary communities which each represent a different location in the circulatory system of the Arabian Sea In so doing the book demonstrates the plurality of seventeenth century aesthetic movements a diversity which later nationalisms purposefully simplified and misread Disorder and Diagnosis Laura Frances Goffman, 2024-10-15 Disorder and Diagnosis offers a social and political history of medicine disease and public health in the Persian Gulf from the late nineteenth century until the 1973 oil boom Foregrounding the everyday practices of Gulf residents hospital patients quarantined passengers women migrant nurses and others too often excluded from histories of this region Laura Frances Goffman demonstrates how the Gulf and its Arabian hinterland served as a buffer zone between diseased India and white Europe as a space of scientific translation and ultimately as an object of development In placing health at the center of political and social change this book weaves the Gulf and Arabian Peninsula into global circulations of commodities and movements of people As a collection of institutions and infrastructures pursuits of health created shifting boundaries of rule between imperial officials indigenous elites and local populations As a set of practices seeking to manipulate the natural world health policies compelled scientists and administrators to categorize fluid populations and ambiguous territorialities And as a discourse health facilitated notions of racial difference opposing native uncleanness to white purity and hygiene and indigenous medicine to modern science Disorder and Diagnosis examines how Gulf residents through their engagements with health fiercely contested and actively shaped state and societal interactions

Ottoman Tulips, Ottoman Coffee Dana Sajdi, 2014-06-09 Tulips and coffee are defining cultural products of the Ottoman eighteenth century along with their related institutions of palace and coffeehouse These cultural products hold multiple meanings in the history and historiography of the period For example scholars argue that the janissary coffee house was used variously for such diverse means as headquarters for rebellion a Sufi lodge police station and racketeering office Ottoman Tulips Ottoman Coffee offers a critical exploration of a range of definitive cultural phenomena of the Ottoman 18th century including the coffee house print culture imperial architecture royal pageantry and festivals Chapters explore previously untouched subjects such as the changing forms of imperial ritual in Ottoman public circumcision celebrations as well as unravelling the historiography of the so called Tulip Period This has traditionally been characterised by the construction and eventual destruction of the famed palace of Saadabad and the reputedly failed project of the first Ottoman printing press The book reassesses these failures as reflective of the general ill preparedness of the Ottoman public for enlightened reform Most importantly this book rejects the prevailing view that the 18th century was in political and cultural decline and argues in fact it was a period of cultural dynamism and change Ottoman Tulips breaks free of the twin teleologies of Ottoman decline and Western induced change reassessing the impact of Westernization and modernization in the 18th century and revealing comparisons and interactions between the Ottoman court and its Safavid counterpart

The Economics of Ottoman Justice Metin Coşgel, Boğaç Ergene, 2016-10-27 A systematic analysis of legal practice in a sharia court in the Ottoman Empire during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries
