Disability And Social Change A South African Agenda

Brian Watermeyer

Disability And Social Change A South African Agenda:

Disability and Social Change Brian Watermeyer, 2006 This powerful volume represents the broadest engagement with disability issues in South Africa yet Themes include theoretical approaches to and representations of disability governmental and civil society responses to disability issues aspects of education as these pertain to the oppression liberation of disabled people social security for disabled people the complex politics permeating service provision relationships and a consideration of disability in relation to human spaces physical economic and philosophical Firmly located within the social model of disability this collection resonates powerfully with contemporary thinking and research in the disability field and sets a new benchmark for cutting edge debates in a transforming South Africa Disability and Social Change A South African Agenda

, Access to work for disabled persons in South Africa: A rights critique Meryl Candice du Plessis, 2017-06-22 Assumptions of inability and the perceived costs of employing disabled persons are two of the primary reasons why it has been impossible or difficult for many capable disabled persons to access work and to continue working This book considers the South African legal framework that seeks to promote such access and critiques it with particular reference to the intersections of the rights to equality and access to social security One of the primary arguments is the need for a more active conception of social security in which access to work for disabled persons is recognised as an integral component of promoting both social security and substantive equality Disability in the Global South Shaun Grech, Karen Soldatic, 2016-11-08 This first of its kind volume spans the breadth of disability research and practice specifically focusing on the global South Established and emerging scholars alongside advocates adopt a critical and interdisciplinary stance to probe challenge and shift common held social understandings of disability in established discourses epistemologies and practices including those in prominent areas such as global health disability studies and international development Motivated by decolonizing approaches contributors carefully weave the lived and embodied experiences of disabled people families and communities through contextual cultural spatial racial economic identity and geopolitical complexities and heterogeneities Dispatches from Ghana Lebanon Sri Lanka Cambodia Venezuela among many others spotlight the complex uncertainties of modern geopolitics of coloniality emergent forms of governance including neoliberal globalization war and conflicts the interstices of gender race ethnicity space and religion structural barriers to redistribution and realization of rights and processes of disability representation This handbook examines in rigorous depth established practices and discourses in disability including those on development rights policies and practices opening a space for critical debate on hegemonic and often unquestioned terrains Highlights of the coverage include Critical issues in conceptualizing disability across cultures time and space The challenges of disability models metrics and statistics Disability poverty and livelihoods in urban and rural contexts Disability interstices with migration race ethnicity gender and sexuality Disability religion and customary societies and practice The UNCRPD disability rights orientations and instrumentalities Redistributive systems including budgeting cash transfer systems and programming Global South North partnerships intercultural methodologies in disability research This much awaited handbook provides students academics practitioners and policymakers with an authoritative framework for critical thinking and debate about disability while pushing theoretical and practical frontiers in unprecedented ways Disability and Social Justice in Kenya Nina Berman,Rebecca Monteleone,2022-05-19 The first interdisciplinary and multivocal study of its kind to review achievements and challenges related to the situation of persons with disabilities in Kenya today The Palgrave Handbook of Disability and Citizenship in the Global South Brian Watermeyer,Judith McKenzie,Leslie Swartz,2018-08-11 This handbook questions debates and subverts commonly held assumptions about disability and citizenship in the global postcolonial context Discourses of citizenship and human rights so elemental to strategies for addressing disability based inequality in wealthier nations have vastly different ramifications in societies of the Global South where resources for development are limited democratic processes may be uncertain and access to education health transport and other key services cannot be taken for granted In a broad range of areas relevant to disability equity and transformation an eclectic group of contributors critically consider whether when and how citizenship may be used as a lever of change in circumstances far removed from UN boardrooms in New York or Geneva Debate is polyvocal with voices from the South engaging with those from the North disabled people with nondisabled and activists and politicians intersecting with researchers and theoreticians Along the way accepted wisdoms on a host of issues in disability and international development are enriched and problematized The volume explores what life for disabled people in low and middle income countries tells us about subjects such as identity and intersectionality labour and the global market family life and intimate relationships migration climate change access to the digital world participation in sport and the performing arts and much else Disability and Social Media Katie Ellis,Mike Kent,2016-11-10 Social media is popularly seen as an important media for people with disability in terms of communication exchange and activism These sites potentially increase both employment and leisure opportunities for one of the most traditionally isolated groups in society However the offline inaccessible environment has to a certain degree been replicated online and particularly in social networking sites Social media is becoming an increasingly important part of our lives yet the impact on people with disabilities has gone largely unscrutinised Similarly while social media and disability are often both observed through a focus on the Western developed and English speaking world different global perspectives are often overlooked This collection explores the opportunities and challenges social media represents for the social inclusion of people with disabilities from a variety of different global perspectives that include Africa Arabia and Asia along with European American and Australasian perspectives and experiences The Routledge International Handbook of Disability and Global Health Lieketseng Ned,Minerva Rivas Velarde,Satendra Singh,Leslie Swartz,Karen Soldatić,2024-05-31 This handbook will raise awareness about the importance of health and well being of people with disabilities in the context of the global development agenda Leaving No one Behind There has been a growing discussion on how people with disabilities should be included in the global health landscape. An estimated one billion people have some form of disability, 80% of whom live in low and middle income settings. People with disabilities are more likely to be poor with restricted access to health and social services, education, rehabilitation and employment. Despite this, people with disabilities are often overlooked in global health and development efforts. Furthermore, the COVID-19 pandemic has shown that unless systematically planned for and included in policies and programmes, people with disabilities remain at an increased risk of being adversely affected in times of humanitarian crisis and emergency disasters.

Divided into eight sections: Disability and Health Frameworks, Health Justice, Rights and Bioethics, Gendering Disability, Health Disability and Global Mental Health, Disability and Access to Healthcare, Including Workforce Development, Crises and Health Technology, and Digital Health, Disability Ageing and Dementia Care. This handbook covers the full range of topics pertaining to disability and global health, including inclusive health access, to rehabilitation, global mental health and disability, medical training and disability, community based inclusive development for improving health and rehabilitation, maternal health and sexual reproduction, preventive care and health promotion for people with disabilities, health disability and indigenous knowledges, bioethics and human rights, data protection and health in the global south. It will be of interest to all scholars, students and professionals working in the fields of disability studies, health studies, nursing, medicine, allied health, development studies and sociology.

The Routledge Handbook of Disability in Southern Africa Tsitsi Chataika, 2018-07-27. This comprehensive ground breaking southern African centred collection spans the breadth of disability research and practice. Reputable and emerging scholars together with disability advocates adopt a critical and interdisciplinary stance to prove, challenge and shift commonly held social understanding of disability in traditional discourses, frontiers and practices in prominent areas such as international development, disability studies, education, culture, health, religion, gender, sports, tourism, ICT, theatre, media, housing and legislation. This handbook provides a body of interdisciplinary analyses suitable for the development of disability studies in southern Africa. Through drawing upon and introducing resources from several disciplines, theoretical perspectives and personal narratives from disability activists, it reflects on disability and sustainable development in southern Africa. It also addresses a clear need to bring together interdisciplinary perspectives and narratives on disability and sustainable development in ways that do not undermine disability politics advanced by disabled people across the world. The handbook further acknowledges and builds upon the huge body of literature that understands the social, cultural, educational, psychological, economic, historical and political facets of the exclusion of disabled people. The handbook covers the following broad themes: Disability inclusion, ICT and sustainable development, Access to education from early childhood development up to higher education, Disability employment, entrepreneurship and community based rehabilitation, Religion, gender and parenthood, Tourism, sports and accessibility, Compelling narratives from disability activists on societal attitudes toward disability, media advocacy, accessible housing and social exclusion. Thus, this much awaited handbook provides students academics practitioners development partners policy makers and activists with an authoritative framework for critical thinking and debates that inform policy and practice in incomparable ways with the view to promoting inclusive and sustainable development Professionalisation of Students with Disabilities into the Teaching Profession in South African Higher Education Sibonokuhle Ndlovu, 2024-07-15

To solve the global challenges of the present society contemporary scholarship requires that all diverse social groups are included in knowledge production through education Professionalisation is one way in which diverse social groups can engage in knowledge production in higher education While all kinds of professionalisation produce citizens who can contribute to the social political and economic development the teaching profession is foundational as most people have come through the hands of teachers from basic to higher education Teaching has been referred to as the noblest of professions because it does not only require acquisition of knowledge and skills but high levels of professionalism dignity honour and the ability to lead by example While inclusion of all diverse social groups is topical after attainment of independence in African countries largely and in South Africa particularly professionalisation of students with disabilities into the teaching profession and in settings for integrated learning has received little attention from scholars in the disability field Professionalisation of Students with Disabilities into the Teaching Profession in South African Higher Education critically reflects on what affordances and challenges face students with disabilities in professionalisation into the teaching professions and on how students are socialised to identify with the profession It does so from the lived experiences of students with disabilities the academics who teach them the support staff and the author's nuanced understanding of the professionalisation the teaching profession and transformation to include all in the South African context of higher education Towards a Contextual Psychology of Disability Brian Watermeyer, 2013 This innovative work argues that a psychological framework of disability is an essential part of developing a more cohesive disability movement Presenting conceptual ideas which describe psychological dynamics confronting disabled people in an exclusionary and prejudiced world this volume is an important contribution to the literature It will interest students and researchers of disability studies Routledge Handbook of Disability Studies Nick Watson, 2013-03-01 The Routledge Handbook of Disability Studies takes a multidisciplinary approach to disability and provides an authoritative and up to date overview of the main issues in the field around the world today Adopting an international perspective and consisting entirely of newly commissioned chapters arranged thematically it surveys the state of the discipline examining emerging and cutting edge areas as well as core areas of contention Divided in five sections this comprehensive handbook covers different models and approaches to disability how key impairment groups have engaged with disability studies and the writings within the discipline policy and legislation responses to disability studies and to disability activism disability studies and its interaction with other disciplines such as history philosophy and science and technology studies disability studies and different life experiences examining how disability and disability studies intersects with ethnicity sexuality gender childhood and ageing

Containing chapters from an international selection of leading scholars this authoritative handbook is an invaluable reference for all academics researchers and more advanced students in disability studies and associated disciplines such as sociology health studies and social work The Routledge International Handbook of Disability Human Rights Hierarchies Stephen Meyers, Megan McCloskey, Gabor Petri, 2023-10-31 Disability is defined by hierarchy Regardless of culture or context persons with disabilities are almost always pushed to the bottom of the social hierarchy With the advent of the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities 2006 disability human rights seemingly provided a path forward for tearing down ableist social hierarchies and ensuring that all persons with disabilities everywhere were treated equally Despite important progress the disability human rights project not only remains incomplete but has often created new hierarchies among persons with disabilities themselves or across the human rights it promotes Certain groups of persons with disabilities have gained new voices while others remain silenced and certain rights are prioritized over others depending on what states international organizations or advocates want rather than what those on the ground need most This volume was inspired both by the continued need to expose human rights violations against persons with disabilities but to also explore the nuanced role that hierarchies play in the spread implementation and protection of disability human rights The enjoyment of human rights is not equal nor is the recognition of specific individuals and groups rights In order to change this situation inequalities across the disability human rights movement must be explored Divided into five parts Who counts as disabled Political social and cultural context Which rights on top whose rights on bottom Pushed to the periphery in the disability rights movement Representations of disability and comprised of 34 newly written chapters including case studies from the Anglophone Caribbean Bangladesh Bosnia Herzegovina China Ghana Haiti Hungary India Israel Kenya Latin America Poland Russia Scotland Serbia and South Africa and other countries this book will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies sociology human rights law and social policy African Sexualities Sylvia Tamale, 2011-06-23 A groundbreaking book accessible but scholarly by African activists It uses research life stories and artistic expression including essays case studies poetry news clips songs fiction memoirs letters interviews short film scripts and photographs to examine dominant and deviant sexualities and investigate the intersections between sex power masculinities and femininities It also opens a space particularly for young people to think about African sexualities in different ways Disability & International Development Malcolm MacLachlan, Leslie Swartz, 2009-07-21 One of the greatest challenges facing modern global health is how to include the most marginalized and impoverished people in international efforts to promote social and economic development In Disability and International Development disability rights are situated within the broader context of global health and the need for much greater inter sector collaboration Reports from a broad cross section of low and middle income countries locales as diverse as Zimbabwe Bolivia Kyrgyzstan and Papua New Guinea move beyond surface discussions of what is working and what shows promise to discuss political and governance contexts the roles of disabled persons in research by outsiders concurrent struggles e.g. women's or children's rights and instructive inroads made by community activists and national Disabled People's Organizations. The results are provocative and offer new lenses for viewing both the issues and the populations they affect. Each of the book's chapters spotlights a topic as representative of the enormity and immediacy of challenges to inclusive global health including: The impact of international human rights law on domestic law and local traditions; The effect of failed states on the lives of people with disabilities; Empowerment and advocacy disability organizations and movements; HIV/AIDS interventions with disabled persons; Assistive technologies in low income countries; Strategies for improving the lives of children with disabilities; Cross disciplinary as well as cross cultural Disability and International Development. It will attract a wide audience of professionals in rehabilitation, social welfare and human rights governmental and non governmental organizations and disabled people's organizations, researchers and practitioners. It will also be relevant to those working in health and welfare administration, health policy, international aid and development and human rights. In addition, graduate students in disability studies, public and global health and international development should find this an important guide to the future of these fields.

Systems Thinking for Global Health Frédérique Vallières, Hasheem Mannan, Fiona Larkan, Naonori Kodate, 2023. This book considers the importance of applying a systems thinking approach to Global Health challenges, one that examines both the individual elements within a system as well as the interrelationships between them. It outlines the core concepts of a systems thinking approach and how they can be applied to current Global Health problems.

Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Policy and Practice Jennifer Lavia, Michele Moore, 2009-09-10. This book provides a space in which struggles for indigenous knowledge within communities are articulated, valued, heard and responded to. The volume takes change as its focus yet acknowledges that the origins and significance of change are frequently found to be unsettling. Contributors explore different understandings of change that forge sustainable, inclusive and just communities and examine issues related to citizenship, resistance, peacemaking, critical literacies and second chance opportunities. The authors seek to promote advocacy of change that recognises the importance of an informed engagement with cross cultural issues in order to foreground those missing perspectives that are often marginalised, silenced, ignored or denied. All contributors are concerned with how the process of change can bridge the gap between social justice and exclusion and develop critical understandings of the implications of changing policy and practice for those within and working with the educational organisations and communities.

A Better Future Jacqueline Bhabha, Wenona Giles, Faraaz Mahomed, 2020-09-17. Policy makers, advocates and scholars have long concentrated on the importance of equal access to primary and secondary education as a foundation for a democratic and just society. Despite the growing importance of higher and specialist education in an increasingly technological and skill focused global market, tertiary education has attracted much less attention. And yet universities and colleges are epicentres of egregious disparities in access which impinge on traditionally marginalized communities such as racial minorities, migrants, indigenous populations.

and people with disabilities By drawing attention to this issue and assembling first rate material from scholars and policy makers across the globe this book performs an invaluable service for those interested in understanding and fighting a highly significant violation of educational opportunity and social justice Handbook of Research on Inclusive and Accessible Education Maguvhe, Mbulaheni Obert,Mpya, Nwacoye Gladness,Sadiki, Marubini Christinah,2024-02-16 In the vast expanse of education a pervasive issue remains in the marginalization and lack of visibility of individuals with disabilities Despite a strong desire for inclusivity recent research suggests that fewer than 5% of children with disabilities in 51 countries across sub Saharan Africa and South Asia are enrolled in primary school This exclusion is not solely in enrollment numbers even those who manage to attend face learning environments ill equipped to adapt to their needs leading to further isolation Girls with disabilities in particular endure heightened vulnerability to abuse reflecting a systemic failure to provide an environment that fosters equality dignity and respect for all The Handbook of Research on Inclusive and Accessible Education emerges as an inspiration for change providing a profound solution to the persistent issue of exclusion The book encapsulates a collective effort to reimagine education It advocates for a paradigm shift moving away from the confinement of special schools and towards inclusive mainstream settings By addressing controversies sharing successes and outlining prospects the book serves as a comprehensive guide for special school governing bodies curriculum advisors university lecturers and all stakeholders committed to reshaping education Inequality, Socio-cultural Differentiation and Social Structures in Africa Dieter Neubert,2019-06-25 This book contends that conventional class concepts are not able to adequately capture social inequality and socio cultural differentiation in Africa Earlier empirical findings concerning ethnicity neo traditional authorities patron client relations lifestyles gender social networks informal social security and even the older debate on class in Africa have provided evidence that class concepts do not apply yet these findings have mostly been ignored For an analysis of the social structures and persisting extreme inequality in African societies and in other societies of the world we need to go beyond class consider the empirical realities and provincialise our conventional theories This book develops a new framework for the analysis of social structure based on empirical findings and more nuanced approaches including livelihood analysis and intersectionality and will be useful for students and scholars in African studies and development studies sociology social anthropology political science and geography
