Script-Based Semantics Salvatore Attardo,2020-02-24 The book contains essays in honor of Victor Raskin The contributions are all directly related to some of the major areas of work in which Raskin s scholarship has spanned for decades The obvious connecting idea is the encyclopedic script based foundation of lexical meaning which informs his pioneering work in semantics in the 1970s and 1980s The first part of the book collects articles directly concerned with script based semantics which examine both the theoretical and methodological premises of the idea and its applications Script based semantics is the foundation of both Raskin s ground breaking work in humor research addressed by the articles in part 2 and in Ontological semantics addressed in part 3 the most recent development of script based semantics The fourth part is dedicated to a less known but equally important strand of Raskin's research the applications of linguistics to other fields including writing lexicography and professional applications e.g. tourism Overall the book provides and up to date in depth discussion of an influential strand of the discussion on semantics and its most recent developments and influence on other seemingly unrelated fields such as Cognitive Linguistics

Discourses on Language and Integration Gabrielle

Hogan-Brun, Clare Mar-Molinero, Patrick Stevenson, 2009-03-20 One of the most pressing issues in contemporary European societies is the need to promote integration and social inclusion in the context of rapidly increasing migration A particular challenge confronting national governments is how to accommodate speakers of an ever increasing number of languages within what in most cases are still perceived as monolingual indigenous populations This has given rise to public debates in many countries on controversial policies imposing a requirement of competence in a national language and culture as a condition for acquiring citizenship However these debates are frequently conducted almost entirely at a national level within each state with little if any attention paid to the broader European context At the same time further EU enlargement and the ongoing rise in the rate of migration into and across Europe suggest that the salience of these issues is likely to continue to grow This volume offers a critical analysis of these debates and emerging discourses on integration and challenges the assumptions underlying the new language testing regimes

Journalism and the Political Felicitas Macgilchrist, 2011

Journalism is often thought of as the fourth estate of democracy This book suggests that journalism plays a more radical role in politics and explores new ways of thinking about news media discourse It develops an approach to investigating both hegemonic discourse and discursive fissures inconsistencies and tensions By analysing international news coverage of post Soviet Russia including the Beslan hostage taking Gazprom Litvinenko and human rights issues it demonstrates the re production of the common sense social order in which one particular area of the world is more developed civilized and democratic than other areas However drawing on Laclau Mouffe and other post foundational thinkers it also suggests that journalism is precisely the site where the instability of this global social order becomes visible The book should be of interest to scholars of discourse analysis journalism and communication studies cultural studies and political science and to anyone interested in positive discourse analysis and practical counter discursive strategies

Arab News and Conflict Samia

Bazzi, 2009 The Arab Israeli struggle is not only a struggle over land but a struggle over language representations Arab reporters as well as politicians believe that their political discourses about the Middle East conflict are objective accurate and credible Arab News and Conflict critically examines the role of language in the representations of events and ideologies found in news media Drawing on socio political linguistic approaches combined with real case studies the author offers a unique discourse analysis model for analysing politically sensitive language in the media The focus in this study is on the Arab media discourse in times of conflict with Israel and the US spanning the years 2001 to 2009 Using rich examples from outspoken Arab media outlets the study explores ideological and language facts about the Arab Israeli conflict This book is compelling reading for students and researchers of media and cultural studies discourse analysis and sociolinguistics and translation It is of equal interest to political analysts political speakers journalists and news editors who need to understand more about the ideological function of the language they use or the political journalistic linguistic nexus of power What We Remember Mariana Achugar, 2008-10-16 This interdisciplinary monograph explores the discursive manifestations of the conflict over how to remember and interpret the actions of the military during the last dictatorship in Uruguay 1973 1985 Through the exploration of the discursive ways in which this powerful group represents past events and participants we can trace the ideological struggle over how to reconstruct a traumatic past By looking at memory as a social and discursive practice the analysis identifies particular semiotic practices and linguistic patterns deployed in the construction of memory The discursive description of what is remembered how it is remembered and who remembers serves to explain how the institution's construction of the past is transformed and maintained to respond to outside criticism and create an institutional identity as a lawful state apparatus This book should interest discourse analysts historians sociologists and researchers in the field of transitional justice The Social Construction of SARS John Henry Powers, Xiaosui Xiao, 2008 When the SARS virus began its spread from southern China around the world in spring 2003 it caught regional and international health officials by surprise The SARS epidemic itself lasted for only a few months whereas its treatment in communicative terms keeps providing us with important lessons that can prepare us all for the much larger pandemic that many are predicting will eventually occur While the medical aspects of SARS are now relatively well understood the discursive rhetorical dimensions are much less so As an international epidemic SARS arrived in a number of distinctive societies with the result that different communities handled the crisis in different ways some far more effectively than others Accordingly the 12 chapters in The Social Construction of SARS are studies of how a major health related crisis was understood and dealt with from a communicative perspective in such diverse places as Hong Kong mainland China Singapore Taiwan Canada and the United States during the SARS outbreak The Post-communist Condition Aleksandra Galasińska, Dariusz Galasiński, 2010 This volume offers interdisciplinary perspectives on discourses in one national context of post communist transformation Proposing a macro micro approach to discourse analysis and transformation it examines a spectrum of topics including Polish history with its interpreters changes in political bodies and the media policies of the Catholic Church and the Institute of National Remembrance xenophobia and anti-Semitism with the emergence of unemployment and homelessness experiences of new gender relations and migrations In effect drawing upon unique sets of data the book shows how post communist transformation can be understood through analyses of the changing public and private discourses It shows Polish post communism as a fragile and uneasy transformation with people and institutions struggling to make sense of it and of life within it The volume will be of interest to a broad range of social scientists discourse analysts sociologists modern historians and political scientists as well as to the informed lay public Editorials and the Power of Media Elisabeth Le,2010 Editorials define at a given time how media construct their socio cultural environment and where they position themselves in it In this sense they are snapshots of media socio cultural identities whose study is crucial for the understanding of media actions and interactions on the political stage This book contributes to the study of media roles in politics with a methodological discursive communication identity framework and its application to a corpus of editorials This allows for the definition of editorials as a genre and it reveals that thanks to a very adroit interweaving of their socio cultural identities news media can play a much more active role on the political stage than studies on framing and agenda setting have hitherto shown The place of media in political communication models might therefore need to be reviewed This book is intended for all those interested in media and politics whatever their academic specializations European Parliaments Under Scrutiny Cornelia Ilie,2010 In the European tradition parliaments are central political institutions that play a crucial role in the development of democratic societies No other institution regularly offers a public arena for open deliberation and dissent for discussing opposite points of view and for reaching compromise solutions between political adversaries However in spite of the growing visibility of modern parliaments the study of parliamentary language use interaction practices and discourse strategies has long been under researched Based on extensive parliamentary data this book integrates a rich variety of innovative analytical approaches that explore the far reaching impacts of parliamentary practices and linguistic strategies on current political action and interaction Individual chapters problematise and re evaluate the discourse shaped identities and roles of Members of Parliament the structure and functions of parliamentary discourse genres interpersonal behaviour and intertextual meaning co construction in post Communist parliaments They offer broad cross cultural perspectives on parliamentary discursive psychology and argumentation The book provides essential reading for scholars and students of language and linguistics rhetoric political and social sciences as well as for anyone interested in language and politics

Shaping Minds Guy Ramsay,2008-11-18 Mental illness is an increasing concern of government health services across the globe It is timely therefore that community education about mental illness is subject to discourse analysis Shaping Minds explores how the psychoeducational message is presented to Chinese speaking audiences in China Taiwan and Australia The book uniquely examines community education materials in a language rarely examined by discourse analysts but which is nevertheless spoken by around a fifth of the world's population and constitutes an important minority language throughout the Western world The book identifies the discursive features that characterise the Chinese language texts and analyses them cross culturally highlighting the impact of cultural traditions political systems and dominant conceptions of society These insights into how Chinese language community health pamphlets and handbooks are positioned to shape the minds of readers will engage both discourse analysts and mental health professionals providing services to Chinese speaking communities across the globe Rhetoric in Detail Barbara Johnstone,Christopher Eisenhart,2008 The eleven studies in this volume illustrate and advance the synthesis of discourse analysis with rhetorical studies Rhetoric in Detail shows how a variety of techniques from discourse analysis can be useful in studying such concerns as agency legitimation controversy and style and how concepts from rhetoric including genre and figuration can enrich the work of discourse analysts The authors research sites range from government commissions political speeches newspaper reports and letters to interviews and conversations in beauty salons and online Methodological overviews interspersed throughout survey critical discourse analysis interactional sociolinguistics grounded theory computer aided corpus analysis narrative analysis and participant observation and provide suggestions for further reading Rhetoric in Detail is an invaluable source for rhetoricians looking for systematic grounded ways of approaching new more vernacular sites for rhetorical discourse and for discourse analysts interested in seeing what they can learn from the tradition and practice of rhetorical analysis Recontextualizing Humor Villy Tsakona,2020-02-10 Humor may surface in numerous and diverse contexts which at the same time determine how humor works its form and its functions and consequences for interlocutors Adopting a sociolinguistic and discourse analytic perspective this study is aligned with approaches to humor exploring the variety of humorous genres the wide range of sociopragmatic functions of humor and the more or less dissimilar perceptions speakers may have concerning what humor is what it means and how it works The chapters of this book propose a new theoretical approach to the analysis of humor by bringing context into focus Furthermore the study explores how we can teach about humor within a critical literacy framework creating classroom space for everyday humorous texts that are part of students social realities and simultaneously taking into account that humor may yield multiple disparaging and often conflicting interpretations This book is intended to appeal to humor researchers from various disciplines such as linguistics media studies cultural studies literary studies sociology anthropology folklore as well as to professionals or researchers in education Discourse and Power in a Multilingual World Adrian Blackledge,2009 The focus of this volume is on discourse linking race riots in England in 2001 with the Nationality Immigration and Asylum Act 2002 which extended legislation to test the English language proficiency of British citizenship applicants Handbook of Research on Contemporary Storytelling Methods Across New Media and Disciplines Mih?e?, Lorena Clara,Andreescu, Raluca,Dimitriu, Anda,2021-01-15 Stories are everywhere around us from the ads on TV or music video clips to the more sophisticated stories told by books or movies Everything comes wrapped in a story and the means employed to weave the narrative thread are just as important as the story itself In this context there is a need to understand the role storytelling plays in contemporary society which has changed drastically in recent decades Modern global society is no longer exclusively dominated by the time tested narrative media such as literature or films because new media such as videogames or social platforms have changed the way we understand create and replicate stories The Handbook of Research on Contemporary Storytelling Methods Across New Media and Disciplines is a comprehensive reference book that provides the relevant theoretical framework that concerns storytelling in modern society as well as the

Trajectories in Environmental Politics Graeme Hayes, Sikina Jinnah, Prakash Kashwan, David M. Konisky, Sherilyn Macgregor, John M. Meyer, Anthony R. Zito, 2022-03-30 This book explores the dominant framings and paradigms of environmental politics the relationship between academic analysis and environmental politics and reflects on the first thirty years of the journal Environmental Politics The book has two purposes The first is to identify and discuss the key themes that have driven scholarship in the field of environmental politics over the last three decades and to highlight how this has also led to oversights and silences and the marginalisation of important forms of analysis and thought As several chapters in the book explore problem solving frameworks have increasingly taken away space from more radical systemic challenge and critique as the key themes of environmental politics have become ever more central to the field of politics as a whole and as our understandings of social and environmental crisis become ever clearer and more urgent The second purpose of the volume is to map out a series of new and developing agendas for environmental politics The chapters in this volume focus foremost on questions of justice materiality and power Discussing state violence multispecies justice epistemic injustice the circular economy NGOs parties green transition and urban climate governance they call above all for greater attention to intersectionality and interdisciplinarity and for centering key insights about power relations and socio economic inequalities into increasingly widespread yet also often depoliticised topics in the study of environmental politics The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Environmental Politics
