Discourse Theory and Political Analysis David R. Howarth, Aletta J. Norval, Yannis Stavrakakis, 2000 Drawing inspiration from the works of those such as Jacques Derrida and Michel Foucault the contributors address questions using a common theoretical language and also assess the future directions of discourse theory in the social sciences Discourse, Hegemony, and Populism in the Visegrád Four Seongcheol Kim, 2021-08-13 This is the first book length account of populism in the Visegrád Four V4 countries Czech Republic Hungary Poland and Slovakia for the first 30 years of multi party competition since the transformative events of 1989 91 in Central and Eastern Europe Advancing a post foundational approach to populism based on a semi formal reading of Ernesto Laclau s theory the book undertakes a detailed examination of how the people has been constructed in populist discourses in the party systems of the four countries since 1989 Drawing on a wealth of source material the book offers both a wide ranging and in depth overview and classification of populism in the V4 in terms of discursive e g centrist conservative left wing liberal nationalist social and hegemonic type e g authoritarian hegemonic generational counter hegemonic alike This book will be of interest to students and scholars of populism party politics and Central and Eastern Europe Laclau Simon Critchley, Oliver Marchart, 2012-12-06 Laclau A Critical Reader is the first full length critical appraisal of Laclau s work and includes contributions from several leading philosophers and theorists The first section examines Laclau s theory that the contest between universalism and particularism provides much of the philosophical background to political and social struggle taking up the important place accorded to amongst others Hegel and Lacan in Laclau s work The second section of the book considers what Laclau s radical democracy might look like and reflects on its ethical implications particularly in relation to Laclau s post Marxism and thinkers such as Jürgen Habermas The final section investigates the place of hegemony in Laclau s work the idea for which he is perhaps best known This stimulating collection also includes replies to his critics by Laclau and the important exchange between Laclau and Judith Butler on equality making it an excellent companion to Laclau s work and essential reading for students of political and social theory State Formation in Afghanistan Mujib Rahman Rahimi, 2017-08-17 The creation of Afghanistan in 1880 following the Second Anglo Afghan War gave an empowering voice to the Pashtun people the largest ethnic group in a diverse country In order to distil the narrative of the state s formation and early years a Pashtun centric version of history dominated Afghan history and the political process from 1880 to the 1970s Alternative discourses made no appearance in the fledgling state which lacked the scholarly institutions and any sense of recognition for history thus providing no alternatives to the narratives produced by the British whose quasi colonial influence in the region was supreme Since 1970 the ongoing crises in Afghanistan have opened the space for non Pashtuns including Tajiks Hazaras and Uzbeks to form new definitions of identity challenge the official discourse and call for the re writing of the long established narrative At the same time the Pashtun camp through their privileged position in the political settlements of 2001 have attempted to confront the desire for change in historical perceptions by re emphasising the Pashtun domination of Afghan history This crisis of hegemony has led to a deep antagonism between the Pashtun and non Pashtun perspectives of Afghan history and threatens the stability of political process in the country

Securitisation as Hegemonic Discourse Formation Hannah Broecker, 2022-10-25 This book offers a model for understanding securitization in terms of hegemonic discourse formations It re thinks the very meaning of security as well as the relationship between the understanding of security in traditional and critical approaches in security studies to find a common denominator between them. Deduced firmly from realist political philosophy and its analytic categories such as state based sovereignty security is presented as a function of discursive formations. Providing a sound discourse theoretical foundation which includes both linguistic and non linguistic practices as well as a focus on relationships of power the book offers a basis for the integration of insights generated by the different approaches to securitisation and enhances the analytical and explanatory depth of the concept. As part of its theoretical foundation the book further presents a fundamentally new image of long standing theoretical and conceptual challenges within speech act inspired approaches including the re formulation of central analytical categories such as the speaker audience context nexus. By explaining securitisation as signifying the boundaries of the construction of meaning it presents an original understanding of securitisation which is deeply integrated into the structures of the social construction of meaning. On this basis the book offers a new understanding of successful securitisation factors and insights into aspects that render specific objects more or less likely for securitisation. The book proceeds to discuss two central aspects of the securitisation debate. The constitution of power as well as an exploration of the nature of the political and politicisation. An empirical case study on the development security nexus offers further insights into the applicability of the theoretical model. This book will appeal to students researchers and scholars of political science and international relations IR interested in a better understanding of IR theory realism critical security studies and discourse analysis.

Islamism and the Quest for Hegemony in Indonesia Luqman Nul Hakim, 2023-02-25 This book examines the failure of Islamic politics in becoming a hegemonic force in Indonesia and the far reaching consequences for current practices of democracy and of Islam itself. In contrast to the thesis of compatibility between Islam and democracy following the dominant discourse of the Global War on Terror GWOT and neoliberal democracy this study situates Islamic politics in broader social settings by examining its nature and trajectories throughout Indonesia's modern political history. The book thus investigates how the practices of Islamic politics or Islamism have shaped and been transformed through political contestations and the formation of coalitions of multiple forces in constructing Indonesia's socio political landscape. Using the concept of hegemony from poststructuralist discourse theory the analytical framework applied in this book goes beyond liberal epistemologies of Islamism that prescribe the separation of religion from politics and treat Islamism as an object of intervention. Instead the book is premised on the contention that Indonesia is a political construction in which Islam has become one of the major discourses that have defined and transformed Indonesia's nation state throughout history. In this view it is argued that the nature and dynamics of Islamism are not driven primarily by different interpretations of religious doctrines cultural norms or by the imperative of institutions. Rather the struggles of different Islamist projects in their quest for hegemony are contingent on the outcomes of socio political changes and contestations that involve multiple political forces both within and beyond the Islamists in specific historical conjunctures.
