Australia The first section examines the signature pedagogies in the humanities and fine arts fields of philosophy foreign language instruction communication art and design and arts entrepreneurship The second section describes signature pedagogies in the social and natural sciences political science economics and chemistry Section three highlights the interdisciplinary fields of Ignatian pedagogy women s studies and disability studies and the book concludes with four chapters on professional pedagogies nursing occupational therapy social work and teacher education that illustrate how these pedagogies change as the social context changes as their knowledge base expands or as online delivery of instruction increases often corralled by assessment and management systems is becoming more diffuse and distributed Learning supposedly more focused on skill outcomes and employability retains a more broadly educative function The publicness of higher education has not disappeared as public funding has diminished but taken on new forms With contributions from leading figures drawn from a wide range of countries this book provides an authoritative analysis of many of the major issues which dominate discussion with respect to policy practice and research in the field of higher education and it can expect to become a major source book for all who are interested in the development of higher education in the 21st Century
