Exploring a Low-Carbon Development Path for Vietnam Pierre Audinet, Bipul Singh, Duane T. Kexel, Suphachol Suphachalasai, Pedzi Makumbe, Kristy Mayer, 2015-12-31 Bringing together a large set of data and building on two years of consultations in Vietnam with Government counterparts research organizations state owned enterprises private sector and Vietnam international development partners the report formulates two scenarios to explore and analyze Vietnam's options up to the year 2030 a business as usual and a low carbon development scenario Based on a thorough data modeling effort for the key carbon emitting sectors of Vietnam the report also provides some policy guidance for the Government's consideration This report is also unique as it brings together and presents data on multiple sectors of Vietnam's economy making this information available for future reference This effort is the result of two years of collaboration with the Government of Vietnam as part of the Vietnam Low Carbon Options Assessment technical assistance By highlighting several economic opportunities and clarifying the issues at hand this work is a milestone in this complex debate and I believe will help all stakeholders willing to consider and responsible to design the policies and measures to address those challenges

Institutional setting for nature-based solutions and REDD+ policies and projects in Viet Nam Pham, T.T., Vu, T.P., Nguyen, T.M.L., Hoang, T.L., Trần Ngọc, M.H., 2022-07-30 The Green Fiscal Mechanism and Reform for Low Carbon Development Akihisa Mori, Paul Ekins, Stefan Speck, Soo-Cheol Lee, Kazuhiro Ueta, 2013-10-30 This book reviews how far East Asian nations have implemented green fiscal reform and show how they can advance carbon energy tax reform to realize low carbon development with special reference to European policy and experience East Asian nations are learning European experiences to adopt them in their political economic and institutional contexts However implementation has been slow in practice partly due to low acceptability that comes from the same concerns as in Europe and partly due to weak institutional arrangements for the reform The slow progress in the revenue side turns our eyes on expenditure side how East Asian nations have increased environmental related expenditures and how far they have greened sectorial expenditures This lifecycle assessment of the fiscal reform coupled with the assessment of the institutional arrangement constitutes the features of this book The book helps to provide overall picture of green fiscal reform and carbon energy tax reform in the East Asian region The region has a variety of countries from lowest income to high income nations Nations have different interests in substance and barriers for reform This book covers recent development of environmental fiscal reform and carbon energy taxation in wider nations in the region including South Korea Taiwan Thailand Vietnam Indonesia and Japan In addition the book's holistic view helps to understand why a specific nation has interest and concern on some aspects of the reforms Green Growth and Low Carbon Development in East Asia Fumikazu Yoshida, Akihisa Mori, 2015-05-08 The concept of green growth coupled with one of green economy and low carbon development is a global concern especially in the face of the multiple crises that the world has faced in recent years climate oil food and financial crises In East Asia this concept is regarded as the key in transforming cheap labour dependent export oriented industries towards a more sustainable development Green Growth and Low Carbon Development in East Asia examines the beginnings of low carbon green growth in practice in East Asia and how effectively it has directed East Asian nations especially Korea China and Japan to put environment and climate challenges as the core target zone for investment and growth Special focus is paid to energy and international trade areas in which these nations compete with pioneered nations of Europe and the United States to develop renewable energy industries and enhance their international competitiveness On the basis of the lessons learned in East Asia together with a comparison of Russia this book discusses the applicability and limitations of this developmental approach taken by the developing nations and resource rich emerging economies including the conditions and contexts in which nations are able to transition into sustainable development through the use of low carbon green growth strategies

The Business of Low-Carbon Tourism Abhishek Singh Bhati,Valeriya Radomskaya,Jacob Wood,Alexander Josiassen,2025-07-25 The millions of tourists who visit tropical nations annually underscore the region s significance in global tourism However these nations receive little scholarly attention compared to major countries This book fills that gap presenting a unique in depth exploration of the pressing transformations and shared sustainability challenges faced by nations and territories in the Tropics providing valuable insights and solutions for low carbon tourism development and offering a novel attempt to progress the responsible tourism agenda The book contributes to the emerging field of low carbon tourism It concentrates on tourism intensive tropical countries exploring nation specific and regional measures that could encourage low carbon operations within the tourism sector It focuses on distinct populations host communities and service providers in the Tropics distinguishing it from most texts on sustainability and low carbon tourism that either focus on Western perspectives or strive for universal applicability The chapters place the discussion within a contemporary context and introduce the challenges this era holds including the role of marketing policies and regulations innovation social norms and values in promoting low carbon transition in tourism Topics covered in this book include but are not limited to low impact visitor behavior and low carbon planning voluntary nudged or compulsory participation in emission reduction initiatives infrastructural social and psychological barriers to change greenwashing and responsible marketing ethnocentrism and the politics of low carbon tourism Targeted primarily at academics and professionals in tourism business environmental management policy studies and public administration this practical and insightful book is essential reading for anyone interested in low carbon tourism development and the challenges that lie ahead

Planning, Development and Management of Sustainable Cities Tan Yigitcanlar,Md. (Liton) Kamruzzaman,2019-04-30 The concept of sustainable urban development has been pushed to the forefront of policymaking and politics as the world wakes up to the impacts of climate change and the destructive effects of the Anthropocene Climate change has emerged to be one of the biggest challenges faced by our planet today threatening both built and natural systems with long term consequences which may be irreversible While there is a vast body of literature on sustainability and sustainable urban development there is currently limited focus on how to cohesively bring together the vital issues of the planning development and management of sustainable cities Moreover it has been widely stated that current practices and lifestyles cannot continue if we are to leave a healthy living planet to not only the next generation but also to the generations beyond The current global school strikes for climate action known as Fridays for Future evidences this The book advocates the view that the focus needs to rest on ways in which our cities and industries can become green enough to avoid urban ecocide This book fills a gap in the literature by bringing together issues related to the planning development and management of cities and focusing on a triple bottom line approach to sustainability

Energy and Decarbonization in Southeast Asia, volume 2 Mirza Sadaqat Huda,Sharon Seah,Qiu Jiahui,2025-05-27 Southeast Asia is poised to play a pivotal role in global energy decarbonization driven by its rapidly expanding economies and growing populations However the region remains heavily reliant on fossil fuels to meet its energy demand Energy and Decarbonization in Southeast Asia delves into the critical research topics shaping the region s path towards sustainable energy transformation From regional interconnectivity via the ASEAN Power Grid to advancements in solar and wind energy carbon capture and storage low carbon hydrogen and green financing this book provides a comprehensive exploration of innovative strategies and pressing challenges Featuring contemporary case studies across three key themes socio economic and environmental challenges technological and political pathways and strategies to foster regional cooperation this volume offers actionable insights for Southeast Asian policymakers researchers and practitioners By addressing fundamental questions surrounding the region s evolving climate priorities the authors present a forward looking analysis of the energy sector s transition and its implications for the future Beni Suryadi Acting Executive Director ASEAN Centre for Energy The volume captures very important political and economic nuances involved in transitioning from a heavy dependence on fossil fuels to renewable energy resource nationalism and the challenges involved in driving decisions to carry out cross border

Just Energy Transitions and Coal Bed Methane Theresia Betty Sumarno, 2021-10-18 This book discusses how Coal Bed Methane CBM could help the acceleration of the energy transition in a just way in Indonesia due to the country's potential CBM reserves and current dependence on climate damaging coal Developing countries face multiple challenges in achieving their energy transitions CBM in Indonesia could potentially be a catalyst for energy transition and subsequently improve access to energy However CBM faces numerous challenges and although Indonesia first developed its domestic CBM sector over more than a decade ago they are still to implement this successfully This book exposes the challenges and opportunities of CBM exploring what lessons other countries could learn from Indonesia to improve the industry with a view to achieving energy transition and climate change targets This book will be an invaluable reference for researchers and practitioners working in this field Coal and Coalbed Gas Romeo M. Flores, Tim A. Moore, 2024-01-24 Coal and Coalbed Gas Future Directions and Opportunities Second Edition introduces the latest in coal geology research and the engineering of gas extraction Importantly the second edition examines how over the last 10 years research has both changed focus and where it is conducted This shift essentially depicts a tale of two worlds one half Western Europe North America moving away from coal and coalbed gas research and production towards cleaner energy resources and the other half Asia Pacific region Eastern Europe South America increasing both research and usage of coal These changes are marked by a precipitous fall in coalbed gas production in North America however at the same time there has been a significant rise in coal and coalbed gas production in Australia China and India The driver for higher production and its associated research is a quest for affordable energy and economic security that a large resource base brings to any country like Australia's first large scale coalbed gas to liquid natural gas projects supplying the demand for cleaner burning LNG to the Asian Pacific region Since the last edition of this book global climate change policies have more forcibly emphasized the impact of methane from coal mines and placed these emissions equal to or even more harmful than CO₂ emissions from fossil fuels in general Governmental policies have prioritized capture use and storage of CO₂ burning coal in new highly efficient low emission power plants and gas pre drainage of coal mines The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development OECD countries and China are also introducing new research into alternative non fuel uses for coal such as carbon fibers nanocarbons graphene soil amendments and as an unconventional ore for critical elements New to this edition Each chapter is substantially changed from the 1st edition including expanded and new literature citations and reviews important new data and information new features and materials as well as re organized and re designed themes Importantly three new chapters cover global coal endowment and gas potential groundwater systems related to coalbed gas production and biogenic gas generation as well as the changing landscape of coal and coalbed gas influenced by global climate change and net zero carbon greenhouse gas emissions

FOREWORD When I reviewed the first edition of this book my initial thought was Do we need another book on coal geology and then I read it and realised Yes we need this book and my students downloaded copies as soon as it was available So now we come to 2023 and a lot has happened in the past decade For a different reason we might ask if we still need this book or even coal geoscientists and engineers as the world aims for rapid decarbonisation of the energy sector and a reduction of coal as a feedstock for industrial resources like steel manufacture Vietnam Economic News ,2012-04-24
