

Expository Essay Outline Sample

The following maps a commonly used structure for many academic essays. Use this outline to guide you as you compose your own argument, research or even descriptive essay.

Introduction

Opening Sentence

Start your paper with a general statement about your topic that catches the reader's attention, a relevant quotation, question, anecdote, fascinating fact, definition, analogy, the position opposing one you will take, or a dilemma that needs a solution.

Context

Provide the information the reader will need to understand the topic.

Thesis Statement

State your arguable position on the topic that you will support with evidence in your body paragraphs.

Body Paragraphs

Topic Sentence

Provide the main idea of the paragraph.

Support

Include specific textual evidence: cited quotes, paraphrases or summary; or evidence that supports your thesis from other sources: anecdotes, first-person interviews or your own experience.

Analysis

Explain to the reader the significance of the evidence you have provided. Think about why you chose to include it. How does the piece of evidence support your thesis?

Transition

Connect each paragraph with a sentence or two that demonstrates how each idea leads into the next, and how they work together to support your position.

Conclusion

Provide the reader an overview of the main ideas you discussed, but also be sure to highlight the progression of your thought process, offer solutions, next steps or present new questions that your paper generated. Don't only restate your thesis but show the significance of your synthesis of the information.

Developing International EFL/ESL Scholarly Writers Donna Bain Butler, 2015-03-30 This study had a research purpose and a pedagogical purpose. Research disclosed the dynamic changing nature of learner internal and learner external variables that influence strategic competence for developing EFL/ESL writers. This competence was found necessary for international graduate students to move from writer centered learning to reader centered communication. The research instruments proved to be practical tools for guiding learners processes of learning and writing a scholarly paper or article and avoiding plagiarism. The implication for teachers and program administrators is a systematic approach for developing self regulation control in EFL/ESL writing. The first part of the book reports on the mixed methods quantitative and qualitative research. The second part gives an in depth report of the 6 cases used in the research. The third part presents tools for systematically developing self regulation in scholarly and academic writing with a student and teacher checklists for formative assessment that are valid and reliable and a model syllabus for teachers that can be adapted across disciplines and genres. These tools deal with learning strategies and their applications to writing and writing instruction.

The activities and assessment tools can be used by classroom teachers and ESL teachers working alone or together. In this book you will find ways to incorporate English and the home languages of the ESL students into the same lesson suggestions for informal individual and group assessments for reading writing and oral language ideas for welcoming new ESL students examples of criteria that can be used for the assessment of ESL students open ended lessons and units for all learners with accompanying reproducible masters.

Integrating Technology into the Writing Process, Everyone Can Write Howard Gelman, 2015-03-15 Everyone Can Write is an easy to understand practical how to write book that is accessible to everyone from a business executive wanting to polish his reports to a retiree wanting to chronicle her family history. It solves the problems that beginning writers struggle with by giving them an easy to follow and simple set of rules that allows them to write rapidly and clearly. The book outlines the three forms of non fiction writing report narrative and essay. Each one is dissected and a set of rules applied to each structure. The rules are easily put into practice and vary for each structure. For example in report writing two easy to apply rules are 25 words to a sentence and 3 or 4 sentences in a paragraph The author has also developed a foolproof method of structuring your writing so that you make effective use of your time It s based on the easy to remember three step formula Pre write Free write Re write Pre write refers to researching the necessary information Free write refers to getting the information onto the computer screen Re write refers to the essential task of editing the writing into clear readable text This technique allows writers to become the editors of their own writing thereby dramatically improving its quality The essentials of grammar and punctuation easily confused words and other useful tips for writers are also covered
