Development of Airfreight Hubs in the Greater Pearl River Delta Jana Schebera,2006-06-26

Inhaltsangabe Abstract Everything has beauty but not everyone sees it goes a famous saying by Confucius My wish in writing this paper is to convince readers of the peculiar beauty and importance of the highly dynamic aviation landscape of the southern Chinese Pearl River Delta Airfreight is an essential and highly sophisticated part of an economy s logistics infrastructure A functioning infrastructure is vital for the development of an economy in particular for its international trade As trade is a key component in China s economic success formula demand for an efficient infrastructure is high Air transportation has become one of the most effective tools to explore and serve world markets In today s highly competitive business world just in time delivery and good customer service are absolutely crucial The overall trend towards fast reliable delivery and the transformation of China's economy along with the value chain of production have boosted demand for air transportation. Due to these developments the air cargo market which is still at low levels particularly in domestic transportation is one of the fastest growing markets in China. The regional focus of this study is on the economic powerhouse of China the Pearl River Delta PRD located in the southern province of Guangdong. Everyone who knows the highly industrialised landscape of the PRD would probably agree that the region's nickname factory of the world is more than appropriate. The PRD has the highest per capita output in China and generates about one third of national exports. The Greater Pearl River Delta GPRD consists of the PRD and the Special Administrative Zones Hong Kong and Macao. In many respects it is one of the most interesting economic entities of the world. Economy and infrastructure are integrated on a very high level. The GPRD features many extremes its strong economic power its rapid growth that has been the highest in China for many years its population density and last but not least its aviation landscape. Within radial distance of about 100 km five international airports are at service creating the highest airport density in the world. Three of these airports are among China's top five airports. The clear leader among them is Hong Kong International Airport HKIA which has established itself as a major hub in Asia and has been the airport with the highest international air cargo throughput of the world for many years. Its dominant

The Global Enabling Trade Report 2008, 2008      Riding the New York Subway Stefan Hohne, 2021-02-16

A history of New York subway passengers as they navigated the system's constraints while striving for individuality or at least a smooth ride. When the subway first opened with much fanfare on October 27 1904 New York became a city of underground passengers almost overnight. In this book Stefan Hohne examines how the experiences of subway passengers in New York City were intertwined with cultural changes in urban mass society throughout the twentieth century. Hohne argues that underground transportation which early passengers found both exhilarating and distressing changed perceptions interactions and the organization of everyday life.

The Europeanisation of English Tort Law Paula Giliker, 2014-12-01

Tort law is often regarded as the clearest example of traditional common law reasoning. Yet in the past 40 years the common law of England and Wales has been subject to European influences as a result of the introduction of the European Communities Act 1972 and more recently the implementation of the Human Rights Act 1998 in October 2000. EU Directives have led to changes to the law relating to product liability health and safety in the workplace and defamation while Francovich liability introduces a new tort imposing State liability for breach of EU law. The 1998 Act has led to developments in privacy law and made the courts reconsider their approach to public authority liability and freedom of expression in defamation law. This book explores how English tort law has changed as a result of Europeanisation broadly defined as the influence of European Union and European human rights law. It also analyses how this influence has impacted on traditional common law reasoning. Has Europeanisation led to changes to the common law legal tradition or has the latter proved more resistant to change than might have been expected.
