Expressionism Norbert Wolf:

Expressionism Norbert Wolf, Uta Grosenick, 2004 Expressionism is a style of art in which the intention is not to reproduce a subject accurately but instead to portray it in such a way as to express the inner state of the artist The movement is also associated with Germany in particular and was influenced by such emotionally charged styles as Symbolism Fauvism and Cubism Leading Expressionists included Wassily Kandinsky George Grosz Franz Marc and Amadeo Modigliani

Symbolism Norbert Wolf, 2009 The year 1884 saw the appearance in Paris of a fin de siècle cult novel that was celebrated as an altogether perverse sensation on the European cultural scene The title of the book was A Rebours translated both as Against the Grain and Against Nature Its author Joris Karl Huysmans wrote it as a seductive textbook of decadence as an antidote to banal naturalism or realism Symbolism whose influence was felt well into the modernist era was an artistic religion substitute a spiritually charged cult of beauty A Symbolist picture or sculpture is mysterious on purpose In place of intellectual comprehension the work seeks to have the beholder experience its mysterious depth like a vision It is no wonder that Symbolists created some of the most fascinating artworks of their age

Romanticism Norbert Wolf, 2025-09-02 This richly illustrated volume invites readers to explore the phenomenon and fascination of Romanticism a movement that shaped the cultural and aesthetic landscape of the nineteenth century and continues to resonate in modern consciousness The Romantic era ignited a profound shift in the arts celebrating imagination emotion and the sublime power of nature The book offers a nuanced view of Romanticism's revolutionary impact It journeys through the movement's origins in the experimental ferment of the eighteenth century its apex in German French and British painting and its later echoes across Europe and North America The author examines key figures such as Caspar David Friedrich J M W Turner Eugene Delacroix and Théodore Géricault exploring their transformative approaches to landscape light and human passion The narrative also unravels the movement's intricate relationship with themes of melancholy the sublime and the spiritual reconciliation of the individual with the universal Acclaimed art historian Norbert Wolf illuminates Romanticism's capacity to evoke longing its poeticization of life through art and its engagement with profound contradictions an embrace of both light and shadow By tracing the stylistic and cultural trajectories of Romantic painting from Germany's High Romanticism to the North American Hudson River School he situates these works within broader artistic and intellectual traditions Filled with breathtaking reproductions of major works and backed by impeccable scholarship Romanticism reveals a movement that transcended national boundaries and bridged the intersection of emotion imagination and the sublime

Expressionism Norbert Wolf, Uta Grosenick, E.J. Wal, Elke Doelman, 2004-02-01 Overzicht van alle aspecten van het expressionisme een stroming in de Duitse schilderkunst in de eerste helft van de 20e eeuw Art, the Sublime, and Movement Amanda du Preez, 2022-01-31 This book is a critical interdisciplinary approach to the study of contemporary visual culture and image studies exploring ideas about space and place and ultimately contributing to the debates about being human in the digital age The upward and downward pull seem in a constant contest for humanity's attention. Both forces are powerful in the effects and affects they invoke. When tracing this iconological history, Amanda du Preez starts in the early nineteenth century, moving into the twentieth century and then spanning the whole century up to contemporary twenty-first century screen culture and space travels. Du Preez parses the intersecting pathways between Heaven and Earth, up and down, flying and falling through the concept of being spaced out. The idea of being spaced out is applied as a metaphor to trace the visual history of sublime encounters that displace Earth gravity, locality, belonging, home, real life, and embodiment. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, visual culture, media, and cultural studies, phenomenology, digital culture, mobility studies, and urban studies.

Driven to Darkness Vincent Brook, 2009-09-18. From its earliest days, the American film industry has attracted European artists. With the rise of Hitler, filmmakers of conscience in Germany and other countries, particularly those of Jewish origin, found it difficult to survive and fled for their work and their lives to the United States. Some had trouble adapting to Hollywood, but many were celebrated for their cinematic contributions, especially to the dark shadows of film noir. Driven to Darkness explores the influence of Jewish émigré directors and the development of this genre. While filmmakers such as Fritz Lang, Billy Wilder, Otto Preminger, and Edward G. Ulmer have been acknowledged as crucial to the noir canon, the impact of their Jewishness on their work has remained largely unexamined until now. Through lively and original analyses of key films, Vincent Brook penetrates the darkness, shedding new light on this popular film form and the artists who helped create it.

The European Avant-Garde - A Hundred Years Later, 2024-01-08. The title of this book, The European Avant-Garde: A Hundred Years Later, implies the European avant-garde took place a century ago, that it is a thing of the past. However, it does not aim to consolidate this position but to question it. It addresses temporality as the central dimension related to the notion of the avant-garde. The book brings forth original revisions of the theories of the avant-garde, the works of the avant-garde, the idea of the avant-garde as being the vanguard, the leading force of change. It addresses the returning of the avant-garde during the twentieth century and today. Expressionism Norbert Wolf, 2004. Expressionism Norbert Wolf, 2006. The Routledge Companion to Expressionism in a Transnational Context Isabel Wünsche, 2018-08-22. The Routledge Companion to Expressionism in a Transnational Context is a challenging exploration of the transnational formation, dissemination, and transformation of expressionism outside of the German-speaking world in regions such as Central and Eastern Europe, the Baltics, and Scandinavia, Western and Southern Europe, North and Latin America, and South Africa in the first half of the twentieth century. Comprising a series of essays by an international group of scholars in the fields of art history and literary and cultural studies, the volume addresses the intellectual discussions and artistic developments arising in the context of the expressionist movement in the various art centers and cultural regions. The authors also examine the implications of expressionism in artistic practice and its influence on modern and contemporary cultural production. Hugo von Hofmannsthal, Gottfried Benn and Bertold Brecht along with the thought of Nietzsche, Freud, Levi Strauss and Simmel and the art of German Expressionism are shown to present alternatives to the landscape and experience of modernity. In an examination of the concept of the exotic and of spatial experience in their cultural, subjective and philosophical contingencies, Gosetti Ferencei shows that exotic spaces may contest and reconfigure the relationship between the familiar and the foreign, the self and the other. Exotic spaces may serve not only to affirm the subject in a symbolic conquering of territory as emphasized in post colonial interpretations or project the fantasy of escapism to a lost paradise as utopian readings suggest, but condition moral, aesthetic or imaginative transformation. Such transformation while risking disaster or dissolution of the self as well as endangerment of the other may promote new possibilities of perceiving or being and reconfigure the boundaries of a familiar world. As exotic spaces are conceived as mystical, liberating, erotic, infectious, frightening or mysterious, several possibilities for transformation emerge in their exposure: re-enchantment through epiphany, the collapse of the rational self, liberation of the imagination from the confines of the familiar world and aesthetic transformation revealing the paradoxically primitive nature of modern experience. In strikingly original readings of canonical authors and compelling rediscoveries of forgotten ones, this study establishes that exotic experience can evidence the fragility of the European or Germanic self as depicted in modernist literature, revealing the usually unconsidered boundaries of the subject's own familiar world.
