Prehistoric Humans in Film and Television Michael Klossner,2015-01-09 From the early days of the movies cavemen have been a popular subject for filmmakers not surprisingly since the birth of cinema occurred only a few decades after the earliest scientific studies of prehistoric man. Filmmakers however were not constrained by the emerging science; instead they most often took a comedic look at prehistory, a trend that continued throughout the 20th century. Prehistoric humans also populated adventure fantasy films with the original One Million B.C. (1940) leading the charge. Documentaries were also made but it was not until the 1970s that accurate film accounts of prehistoric humans finally emerged. This exhaustive work provides detailed accounts of 581 film and television productions that feature depictions of human prehistory. Included are dramas and comedies set in human prehistory, documentaries and films and television shows in which prehistoric people somehow exist in historical periods from the advent of civilization up to the present or in extraterrestrial settings. Each entry includes full filmographic data including year of release, running time, production personnel, cast information, and format. A description of each film provides background on the prehistoric elements. Contemporary critical commentary is included for many of the works.

Fossils of the Carpathian Region István Fozy, István Szente, 2013-12-18. A comprehensive review of the fossil record of the Carpathian Basin. Fossils of the Carpathian Region describes and illustrates the region's fossils, recounts their history, and tells the stories of key people involved in paleontological research in the area. In addition to covering all the important fossils of this region, special attention is given to rare finds and complete skeletons. The region's fossils range from tiny foraminifera to the Transylvanian dinosaurs and mammals of the Carpathian Basin. The book also gives nonspecialists the opportunity to gain a basic understanding of paleontology. Sidebars present brief biographies of important figures and explain how to collect, prepare, and interpret fossils. An excellently written scientific book. The good illustrations are an incentive to start reading and dive into the wide area covered by two experts in their respective fields. A rich source of otherwise not published background knowledge on the paleontology and geology of the region. Christian A. Meyer, Natural History Museum, Basel. Fossils of the Carpathian Region is beautifully produced with high quality color illustrations throughout and an exhaustive bibliography and index. Highly recommended. Choice. This book fills a gap in the geological texts on the Carpathians, especially in Hungary, and offers a valuable wealth of geological, paleontological, and scientific historical information from the Ordovician to the Pleistocene. This extensive and relatively inexpensive work is an unrivaled recommendation for amateurs and amateur geologists, paleontologists. Zentralblatt für Geologie und Paläontologie, translated from German.

Boys' Life, 1994-11. Boys' Life is the official youth magazine for the Boy Scouts of America. Published since 1911, it contains a proven mix of news, nature, sports, history, fiction, science, comics, and Scouting.
