Dwellings The Vernacular House World Wide:

Dwellings: Paul Oliver, 2007-05-01 An exploration of the types and forms of vernacular houses worldwide Vernacular Architecture in the 21st Century Lindsay Asquith, Marcel Vellinga, 2006-03-10 The issues surrounding the function and meaning of vernacular architecture in the twenty first century are complex and extensive Taking a distinctively rigorous theoretical approach this book considers these issues from a number of perspectives broadening current debate to a wider multidisciplinary audience These collected essays from the leading experts in the field focus on theory education and practice in this essential sector of architecture and help to formulate solutions to the environmental disaster management and housing challenges facing the global community today Architecture and Anthropology Adam Jasper, 2020-05-21 Both architecture and anthropology emerged as autonomous theoretical disciplines in the 18th century enlightenment Throughout the 19th century the fields shared a common icon the primitive hut and a common concern with both routine needs and ceremonial behaviours Both could lay strong claims to a special knowledge of the everyday And yet in the 20th century notwithstanding genre classics such as Bernard Rudofsky's Architecture without Architects or Paul Oliver's Shelter and various attempts to make architecture anthropocentric such as Corbusier's Modulor disciplinary exchanges between architecture and anthropology were often disappointingly slight This book attempts to locate the various points of departure that might be taken in a contemporary discussion between architecture and anthropology The results are radical post colonial theory is here counterpoised to 19th century theories of primitivism archaeology is set against dentistry fieldwork is juxtaposed against indigenous critique and climate science is applied to questions of shelter This publication will be of interest to both architects and anthropologists The chapters in this book were originally published within two special issues of Architectural Theory Review Research into Design for Communities, Volume 2 Amaresh Chakrabarti, Debkumar Chakrabarti, 2017-04-13 This book showcases cutting edge research papers from the 6th International Conference on Research into Design ICoRD 2017 the largest in India in this area written by eminent researchers from across the world on design process technologies methods and tools and their impact on innovation for supporting design for communities While design traditionally focused on the development of products for the individual the emerging consensus on working towards a more sustainable world demands greater attention to designing for and with communities so as to promote their sustenance and harmony within each community and across communities The special features of the book are the insights into the product and system innovation process and the host of methods and tools from all major areas of design research for the enhancement of the innovation process The main benefit of the book for researchers in various areas of design and innovation are access to the latest quality research in this area with the largest collection of research from India For practitioners and educators it is exposure to an empirically validated suite of theories models methods and tools that can be taught and practiced for design led innovation The contents of this volume will be of use to researchers and professionals

working in the areas on industrial design manufacturing consumer goods and industrial management Designing Sustainable Cities in the Developing World Georgia Butina Watson,2016-04-22 Can conservation of the built heritage be reconciled with the speed of urban change in cities of the developing world What are the tools of sustainable design and how can communities participate in the design of the environments in which they live and work These are some of the questions explored within this innovative and richly illustrated book A wealth of examples drawn from Mexico Brazil Indonesia Egypt Saudi Arabia India and Myanmar demonstrate how rapid physical and social change has swept away historic urban quarters and the cultural heritage they represent Written in an accessible style the rich mix of concepts research methods analysis and practice based tools is designed for academics and professionals alike Leading academics Zetter and Watson have produced a fascinating book that is amongst the first to explore the concept of urban sustainability within the context of urban design in the developing world Thermal Comfort in Hot Dry Climates Ahmadreza Foruzanmehr,2017-09-14 With increases in global temperatures the risk of overheating is expected to rise around the world This results in a much higher dependency upon energy intensive cooling systems and air conditioners to provide thermal comfort but how sustainable is this in a world where problems with the production of electricity are predicted Vernacular houses in hot and dry central Iran have been adapted to the climate through passive cooling techniques and this book provides a valuable assessment of the thermal performance of such housing Shedding new light on the ability of traditional housing forms to provide thermal comfort Thermal Comfort in Hot Dry Climates identifies the main cooling systems and methods in traditional houses in central Iran and examines how architectural elements such as central courtyards distinct seasonal rooms loggias basements and wind catchers can contribute to the provision of thermal comfort in vernacular houses Ethno-Architecture and the Politics of Migration Mirjana Lozanovska,2015-12-22 Ethno Architecture and the Politics of Migration explores the interface between migration and architecture Cities have been substantially affected by transnational migration but the physical manifestations of migration in architecture and its effect on streetscape neighbourhood and city have so far been understudied This contributed volume examines how migrants interact with adapt and construct new architecture Looking at the physical urban and cultural impact of these changes on a variety of sites the authors explore architecture as an identity category and investigate what buildings and places associated with migration tell us about central questions of belonging culture community and home in regions such as North America Australia and the UK An important contribution to debates on place identity and the transformation of places as a result of mobility and globalised economies in the 21st century

Architecture, Islam, and Identity in West Africa Michelle Apotsos,2016-05-20 Architecture Islam and Identity in West Africa shows you the relationship between architecture and Islamic identity in West Africa The book looks broadly across Muslim West Africa and takes an in depth study of the village of Larabanga a small Muslim community in Northern Ghana to help you see how the built environment encodes cultural history through form material and space creating an architectural narrative that outlines the contours of this distinctive Muslim identity Apotsos explores how modern technology heritage and tourism have increasingly affected the contemporary architectural character of this community revealing the village s current state of social cultural and spiritual flux More than 60 black and white images illustrate how architectural components within this setting express the distinctive narratives value systems and realities that make up the unique composition of this Afro Islamic community

The Principles of Housing Peter King,2015-11-19 The Principles of Housing is an engaging and discursive introduction to the key topics within housing studies Whereas many books get bogged down in country specific policy or small innovations this book argues that the fundamental concepts of what we call housing are relatively stable and unchangeable By focusing on universal principles the book provides an introduction to housing that can be used by students world wide The book consists of a series of short chapters relating to the key issues of housing such as borrowing choice finance government need reform and welfare Each chapter is designed to be a starting point for a wider conversation with discussion questions and a number of think pieces and international case studies to help students connect these general principles to their own surroundings Written by renowned housing expert Peter King The Principles of Housing succeeds in being accessible and engaging without shying away from the complexities of housing issues The book will be invaluable to students on housing related courses across finance real estate planning development politics and sociology subjects The book would also be useful to housing professionals and policy makers aiming to expand their understanding of housing issues

Efficiency Energy from Waste Energy and Transportation Loose Fit City Maurice Mitchell, Bo Tang, 2017-09-22 Drawn from a lifetime's experience of shared city making from the bottom up within rapidly expanding urban metabolisms in Delhi Mumbai Agra Kathmandu West Africa and London Loose Fit City is about the ways in which city residents can learn through making to engage with the dynamic process of creating their own city It looks at the nature and processes involved in loosely fitting together elements made by different people at different scales and times with different intentions into a civic entity which is greater than the sum of its parts It shows how bottom up learning through making can create a more vibrant and democratic city than the more flattened top down centrally planned factory made version Loose Fit City provides a new take on the subject of architecture defined as the study and practice of fitting together physical and cultural topography It provides a comprehensive view of how the fourth dimension of time fits loosely together with the three spatial dimensions at different scales within the human horizon so as to layer meaning and depth within the places and metabolism of the city fabric The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory C. Greig Crysler, Stephen Cairns, Hilde Heynen, 2012-01-10 The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory documents and builds upon some of the most innovative developments in architectural theory over the last two decades Bringing into dialogue a range of geographically institutionally and historically competing positions the book examines and explores parallel debates in related fields The book is divided into eight sections Power Difference Embodiment Aesthetics Pleasure Excess Nation Spectacle Modernity History Memory Tradition Design Practice Production Technology Science Virtuality Nature Landscape Sustainability City Metropolis Territory Creating openings for future lines of inquiry and establishing the basis for new directions for education research and practice the book organizes itself around specific case studies to provide a critical interpretive and speculative enquiry into the relevant debates in architectural theory A methodical authoritative and comprehensive addition to the literature the Handbook is suitable for academics researchers and practitioners in architecture urban geography cultural studies sociology and geography House and Home Thomas Barrie, 2017-03-16 House and home are words routinely used to describe where and how one lives This book challenges predominant definitions and argues that domesticity fundamentally satisfies the human need to create and inhabit a defined place in the world Consequently house and home have performed numerous cultural and ontological roles and have been assiduously represented in scripture literature art and philosophy This book presents how the search for home in an unpredictable world led people to create myths about the origins of architecture houses for their gods and house tombs for eternal life Turning to more recent topics it discusses how writers often used simple huts as a means to address the essentials of existence modernist architects envisioned the capacity of house and home to improve society and the suburban house was positioned as a superior setting for culture and family Throughout the book house and home are critically examined to illustrate the perennial role and capacity of architecture to articulate the human condition position it more meaningfully in the world and assist in our collective homecoming Cities' Vocabularies: The

Influences and Formations Nabil Mohareb, Antonella Versaci, Yasser Mahgoub, Sreetheran Maruthaveeran, Francesco Alberti, 2021-01-23 This book discusses several topics regarding different vocabularies such as sacred architecture heritage buildings open spaces landmarks and street escapes all of which have a direct influence on the city form The city form is also affected by the indirect impact of the citizens themselves for example their culture which in turn depends on the arts as can be seen and embodied in morals paintings media digital art and sculpture The book also examines the fundamental elements that are responsible for the identity of the city Presenting case studies that demonstrate the how implementing the concept of the responsibility of architecture and arts affects the development of our cities the book offers a new approach that is based on the available features of a city and explores how planners and decision makers can use these features to address the myriad problems that our cities are facing

Earth Architecture Ronald Rael, 2009 The ground we walk on and grow crops in also just happens to be the most widely used building material on the planet Civilizations throughout time have used it to create stable warm low impact structures The world's first skyscrapers were built of mud brick Paul Revere Chairman Mao and Ronald Reagan all lived in earth houses at various points in their lives and several of the buildings housing Donald Judd's priceless collection at the Chinati Foundation in Marfa Texas are made of mud brick While the vast legacy of traditional and vernacular earthen construction has been widely discussed little attention has been paid to the contemporary tradition of earth architecture Author Ronald Rael founder of Eartharchitecture.org provides a history of building with earth in the modern era focusing particularly on projects constructed in the last few decades that use rammed earth mud brick compressed earth cob and several other interesting techniques Earth Architecture presents a selection of more than 40 projects that exemplify new creative uses of the oldest building material on the planet
