Exploring Socio-cultural Themes in Education Joan H. Strouse, 2006 Exploring Socio-cultural Themes in Education Joan Strouse, 2001 This book presents a unique opportunity to read many original source materials written by authors representing diverse points of view and a broad spectrum of history in the field of education. It offers a personal philosophical perspective on the work of teaching, the function of schools in our society, and the relationships between education and productivity. Unlike most introductions to the profession, the issues raised in this book bring readers face to face with themselves and with the challenging dilemmas they will confront as teachers. It provides exceptional coverage of community and the changing social, cultural, linguistic, and ethnic landscape of our society and its impact on schools, children, and teaching. In addition, the book answers the following questions: What are the relationships between culture, society, and education? What are the dynamics of daily life in schools as institutions in particular organizational and community contexts? In what ways are gender, language, culture, race, social class, and the relationship between school and work important to education? What orientations and strategies can teachers adopt that will enable them to become more transformative educators? For individuals contemplating a career in teaching.

Beyond the Comparative John C. Weidman, W. James Jacob, 2012-01-01 We are pleased to introduce this inaugural volume in the PSCIE Series: Beyond the Comparative: Advancing Theory and Its Application to Practice, which expands on the life work of University of Pittsburgh Professor Rolland G. Paulston. 1929-2006 Recognized as a stalwart in the field of comparative and international education, Paulston's most widely recognized contribution is in social cartography. He demonstrated that mapping comparative international and development education is no easy task and, depending on the perspective of the mapper, there may be multiple cartographies to chart. The 35 contributors to this volume, representing a range of senior and junior scholars from various CIDE backgrounds and perspectives, celebrate the life and work of Paulston by addressing issues, perspectives, and approaches related to charting the future course of the field. The volume reports on new research in several genres, as well as conceptual analysis. As the title suggests, authors were encouraged to go beyond established canons of CIDE. The cover art, The CIDE Theoretical Compass, was conceptualized by the editors and depicts that theory selection and theory generation are an ongoing and important process in comparative international and development education. CIDE. The image was designed by artist Natalie Jacob, which positions the CIDE Theoretical Compass over Rolland G. Paulston's 1993 concentric circle map.
