Exploring Archive Historical Photography Ethnologisches:

Exploring the Archive Manuela Fischer, Michael Kraus, 2015-07-15 The Ethnologisches Museum in Berlin holds more than 6 500 historical black and white photographs from Latin America. These images were produced between 1868 and 1936 and mainly depict ethnological and archaeological motifs although some portray views of urban or natural landscapes. The contributions to this volume focus on particular series from this extensive archive. In doing so they illustrate the enormous potential for research inherent within such repositories of memory represent a diverse set of approaches and provide varied interpretations of historical photographs. The contributions focus on the contexts in which these images were produced and provide interpretations of the intentions behind some of the photographs. Moreover they analyse the acquisition of these photographs and the manner in which they have been preserved and disseminated. Additionally the contributions highlight the manners in which the images have been used and the impact of some of the formats in which the photographs were published. This richly illustrated volume is complemented by the digital reproductions available online at <http://www.smb-digital.de> Photography in Latin America Gisela Cánepa Koch, Ingrid Kummels, 2016-05-15 Historical photographs taken in Latin America have now become key sites for memory politics, ethnographic imagination and the negotiation of identity. This volume opens up a set of questions relating to the contemporaneous agency of images as well as their current appropriation via new technologies. Case studies of pictures taken in Mexico, Colombia, Peru and Brazil analyze these processes by tracing how the images have been resignified over time and space. The contributions examine photographs that have been recently rediscovered by such diverse actors as European museums, human rights organizations, anthropologists, shamans, local historians and communities of internet users.

Ethnographers Before Malinowski Frederico Delgado Rosa, Han F. Vermeulen, 2022-06-10 Focusing on some of the most important ethnographers in early anthropology this volume explores twelve defining works in the foundational period from 1870 to 1922. It challenges the assumption that intensive fieldwork and monographs based on it emerged only in the twentieth century. What has been regarded as the age of armchair anthropologists was in reality an era of active ethnographic fieldworkers including women practitioners and Indigenous experts. Their accounts have multiple layers of meaning, style and content that deserve fresh reading. This reference work is a vital source for rewriting the history of anthropology.

The Lowland South American World Casey High, Luiz Costa, 2024-12-12 The Lowland South American World showcases cutting edge research on the anthropology of Lowland South America providing both an in-depth knowledge of Lowland South American life ways and engaging readers in urgent social, environmental and political issues in the contemporary world. Covering the vast expanse of a region that includes all of South America except for the Andes, its 40 chapters engage with questions of what Lowland South America means as a geographical designation both in studies of Indigenous Amazonian peoples and other lowland areas of the continent. They emphasize the multiple ways that local practices and cosmologies challenge conventional Western ideas about nature, culture personhood sociality community and Indigenous people Some of the regions well known contributions to anthropology such as animism perspectivism and novel approaches to the body are updated here with new ethnography and in light of the varying political situations in which the regions peoples find themselves With contributions by authors from 15 different countries including a number of Indigenous anthropologists and activists this book will set the agenda for future research in the continent The Lowland South American World is a valuable resource for scholars and students of anthropology Latin American studies and Indigenous studies as well as history geography and other social sciences
