Exploring Cybernetics Kybernetik Interdisziplinen Diskurs:

Exploring Cybernetics Sabina Jeschke, Robert Schmitt, Alicia Dröge, 2015-12-04 Die Beiträge des Sammelbandes befassen sich mit zentralen Themen der Kybernetik Was ist Kybernetik überhaupt Wie können wir sie nutzen und wo können wir sie einsetzen Die Autoren zeigen dass unser Digitalzeitalter von umfassenden technologischen Neuerungen komplexer Vernetzung und schnellen Innovationszyklen gekennzeichnet ist die sich klassischen Beschreibungsmodellen und traditionellen Regelungsmechanismen entziehen Immer vielfältiger interagierende Strukturen erfordern neue Methoden um diese Komplexität zu beschreiben und zu gestalten Hochkarätige WissenschaftlerInnen verschiedenster Fachgebiete erläutern die Kybernetik aus Sicht ihrer jeweiligen Disziplin

A Transdisciplinary Introduction to the World of Cybernetics E. W. Udo Küppers, 2023-10-24

This introduction to the world of cybernetics provides the basics and discusses the most important thought leaders models as well as theories Practical examples from the fields of biology ecology technology society and politics are used to illustrate the theoretical material Questions at the end of the chapters stimulate reflection and the author does not owe the answers A central theme in all cybernetic considerations and a guiding theme of the book are information exchange and communication

Cybernetics or Control and Communication in the Animal and the Machine, Reissue of the 1961 second edition

Norbert Wiener, 2019-10-08 A classic and influential work that laid the theoretical foundations for information theory and a timely text for contemporary informatics theorists and practitioners With the influential book Cybernetics first published in 1948 Norbert Wiener laid the theoretical foundations for the multidisciplinary field of cybernetics the study of controlling the flow of information in systems with feedback loops be they biological mechanical cognitive or social At the core of Wiener's theory is the message information sent and responded to feedback the functionality of a machine organism or society depends on the quality of messages Information corrupted by noise prevents homeostasis or equilibrium And yet Cybernetics is as philosophical as it is technical with the first chapter devoted to Newtonian and Bergsonian time and the philosophical mixed with the technical throughout This book brings the 1961 second edition back into print with new forewords by Doug Hill and Sanjoy Mitter Contemporary readers of Cybernetics will marvel at Wiener's prescience his warnings against noise his disdain for hucksters and gadget worshipers and his view of the mass media as the single greatest anti homeostatic force in society This edition of Cybernetics gives a new generation access to a classic text

Cybernetics: state of the art Werner, Liss C., 2017-10-17

CYBERNETICS STATE OF THE ART is the first volume of the book series CONVERSATIONS Driven by cybernetic thinking it engages with pressing questions for architecture urban planning design and automated infrastructure in an age of increasing connectivity AI and robotization and an evolutionary state of the Anthropocene perpetuating angst ridden anxiety as well as excitement and joy of a future that we will be able to predict with less and less certainty The book with a foreword by Omar Khan discusses cybernetic principles and devices developed in the late 20th century mainly developed by Ross Ashby and Gordon Pask second order cybernetics to Cybernetics Or Control and Communication in the Animal and the Machine Norbert Wiener,1961 It appers impossible for anyone seriously interested in our civilization to ignore this book It is a must book for those in every branch of science in addition economists politicians statesmen and businessmen cannot afford to overlook cybernetics and its tremendous even terrifying implications Cybernetics and Linguistics Igor' A. Cybernetics Jocelyn Chapman, 2020-05-21 For the Love of Cybernetics Personal Narratives by Cyberneticians is a collection of personal accounts that offer unique insights into cybernetics via the personal journeys of nine individuals. For the authors in this collection cybernetics is not their area of interest; it is how they think about what they do and it is their practice. Ray Ison, Bruce Clarke, Frank Galuzska, Paul Pangaro, Klaus Krippendorff, Peter Tuddenham, Lucas Pawlik, Bernard Scott, and Jocelyn Chapman differ in their lineage, emphasis and engagement with cybernetics. What they have in common is that they share the belief that cybernetics is not a tool to apply here and there but a unifying way of seeing the world that transforms how we behave thus increasing possibilities for positive systemic change. This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal World Futures.

Cybernetics in the Sciences, Engineering and Economy of the German Democratic Republic, 1964

Interrogating the Cybernetic Imaginary Sheryl Noreen Hamilton, 1999 This cultural history explores the coming into being of an emergent cultural sensibility of the computer age—the cybernetic imaginary. Articulated through four events which take place in public discourse—the thinking machine, the game, the future, and information—the analysis suggests that it is in the immediate postwar period that many of the taken-for-granted tropes, metaphors, and assumptions of current cyberspace culture are presented, negotiated, and normalized. This analysis is conducted in print mass media texts exploring cybernetics, computing machines, and their interaction in the period of 1944–1959. The material includes popular magazines, mass market non-fiction, fiction, and trade journals. The thinking machine as a discursive event establishes a fundamental functional equivalence between humans and computing machines, permitting indeed requiring the replacement of human mental labour with machines. The game rewrites the notion of what it means to be intelligent, locating valuable knowledge firmly within a model of rationalism. Science and mathematics becomes privileged as the knowledges through which to take decisions in all forms of social organization. The event of the future marks the future as a knowable domain and a properly knowable domain, marginalizing both the present and the past as relevant to knowledge. This confirms a teleological understanding of history, notions of technological progress, and the valuation of speed. Finally, information is redefined in this period as the successful transfer of valuable information rather than about meaning. Communication is thus reduced to a functional quantitative measurement. Information is offered as a universal measure of knowledge and information theory becomes a universal methodology. Yet none of these outcomes is preordained when the computing machine is introduced to the American public after World War II. It is in the process of their negotiation in the public domain that the cybernetic imaginary is produced. The cybernetic imaginary as a set of shared cultural assumptions has significant social power implications for how we understand the computer and ourselves to this day; it marks our age as a society of control.

Cybernetics Norbert Wiener Scan, 2025-01-30 Cybernetics Or the Control and Communication in the Animal and the Machine by Norbert Wiener is a seminal work that laid the foundation for the field of cybernetics. This book is widely regarded as one of the most influential contributions to the study of systems communication and control mechanisms across biological mechanical and computational domains The book is dense with mathematical formulations and examples but also includes conceptual discussions accessible to non specialists It begins with an introduction to the core principles and gradually moves into detailed applications and implications In an era where systems thinking and artificial intelligence are central to innovation Cybernetics remains a cornerstone for understanding how systems operate communicate and adapt Its emphasis on feedback loops and interdisciplinary approaches continues to resonate in both theoretical and practical contexts

Current Topics in Cybernetics and Systems J. Rose,2012-12-06 This book is a record of the contents of the papers accepted by the Congress Committee for presentation at the Fourth International Congress of Cybernetics and Systems Amsterdam The Netherlands 21 25 August 1978 Two hundred and forty five papers from authors from thirty three countries of all the five continents are included The papers are presented in an abridged form in order to highlight the main themes and produce a book that is both readable and relatively inexpensive It was felt that after the publication of the weighty and rather costly form of the Proceedings of the Third International Congress of Cybernetics and Systems held in Bucharest Romania in 1975 Modern Trends in Cybernetics and Systems eds Rose and Bilciu W O G S c and Springer Verlag 1977 3 volumes about 3500 pages 150 an abridged but comprehensive version would be more acceptable to readers It is worth noting that the full names and addresses of authors are given for each paper and requests to authors for more information and even full scale papers would produce a positive response As a matter of interest each paper carries in addition brief summaries The papers are arranged in each section or symposium in the alphabetical order of authors names this is not necessarily the order of presentation at the Congress

Cybernetics and the Origin of Information Raymond

Ruyer,2023-12-19 One of the lost classics of French philosophy Cybernetics and the Origin of Information has never before been published in English Raymond Ruyer who was a major influence on Simondon and Deleuze among others originally wrote this book one of the first critiques of Norbert Wiener's cybernetics program in 1954 At once critical and analytical it is a deep exploration of information theory cybernetics and the philosophical assumptions and implications of both Among the themes covered in the book are the main types of information machines information's relationship to behavior and communication and the nature of entropy and time in cybernetics This translation contributes to understanding the rich history of cybernetics and the philosophy of information A true hidden gem in the history of philosophical thought this text will help readers understand foundational criticisms of ideas that have led to artificial intelligence

The Cybernetic Society brings together facts and ideas which help give perspective to man s role in a cybernetic society Emphasizing the transforming power of technological innovation and the ties between technology and society the book explores the impact of industrialization on the working man systems design for social systems the relevance of cybernetics and machine translation and self reproducing machines The effects of technology on government education and science and the arts are also given consideration This volume consists of 10 chapters and begins with an introduction to the transforming power of technology before turning to the nature and significance of important technological innovations with some emphasis on the role of the computer and their connection to a variety of human concerns many of which are strongly rooted in the history of technology and science Emphasis is placed on energy and its transformation organization or synchronization and information Attention then shifts to the problems of industrial job displacement unemployment or underemployment and poverty from the time of the first Industrial Revolution to the present cybernated era Some of the economic and political solutions which have been proposed are highlighted The chapters that follow focus on how technology contributes to patterns of social change the potential of cybernetics to elucidate relationships between organic and inorganic systems and the uniqueness of the human mind versus intelligent machines The book concludes with a look at the futurists and their forecasting activities This book will be useful to students from all disciplines Cybernetics, Simulation, and Conflict Resolution American Society for Cybernetics,1971 Cybernetics of Cybernetics Heinz Von Foerster,1974 New Perspectives on Cybernetics G. Vijver,2013-06-29 Gertrudis Van de Vijver Seminar of Logic and Epistemology University of Ghent Before being classified under the fashionable denominators of complexity and chaos self organization and autonomy were intensely inquired into in the cybernetic tradition Despite all rejections that cybernetics has gone through in the second half of this century today its importance is more and more recognized Its decisive influence for connectionist theories autopoietic and constructivist theories for different forms of applied or experimental epistemology is being more and more understood and generally accepted It is mainly due to the success of connectionist models that we observe today a revival of interest for cybernetics The 1943 article by McCulloch and Pitts is evidently a founding article Cybernetics has however a much broader interest than the one linked to technical mathematical details relevant to the construction of networks For instance the evolution from first to second order cybernetics the ways of approaching biological and cognitive phenomena in the latter and the limits that were formulated there are particularly meaningful to understand current developments and divergences in connectionism A nuanced picture of cybernetic s history and its present state is therefore clearly epistemologically essential Cybernetics and systems '96 European Meeting on Cybernetics and Systems Research,1996
