Trauma in Jonathan Safran Foer's "Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close" Michelle Klein, 2016-08-08 Seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2 0 University of Koblenz Landau Anglistik course 20th Century Novels language English abstract Trauma seems to me being an essential topic to discuss in school as everybody sooner or later has to deal with loss or already dealt with it in the past As every student can identify with this potential challenge it is important for them to get to know different ways of dealing with trauma Foer s story even reveals that coping with trauma is able to bring people from different races and ages together Even if people s trauma is caused by different events there will be a connection between these people Moreover it would be possible to teach this topic interdisciplinary and interdisciplinary in ethics or religious education classes As everyone could be affected by trauma I determined this topic for my planned lesson The reason for choosing the subtopics namely inventing and heavy boots referring to Oskar Grandfather Schell s aphasia and the doorknobs and finally suppressing and the feeling of being needed with regard to Grandmother Schell reveal concreteness for the main topic I decided to teach the topic by group work to facilitate the exchange of experiences without the danger to be exposed in front of the class I thought this is the best way as the students can talk about how they perceived the character and his or her ability to deal with the trauma they have gone through The team work is followed by a presentation and discussion of this work to ensure all students have reached the same level of knowledge Moreover it is important have the ability to emphasise with this character and change their perspectives or contribute their own experiences with loss to explain the others why somebody could show such behaviour I will analyse the topic by a characterisation following by a psychoanalytic approach For one it is important to get to know why people are behaving differently after experiencing loss and second it is illuminating for the students to become aware that trauma can be responsible for the person concerned being left with an altered personality The lesson I have planned relates to both characterisation and psychoanalytic approaches After the lesson the students should have general knowledge about trauma and its effects Furthermore it should be clear that trauma can only be overcome by going through two phases which build up upon each other

9/11 Culture Jeffrey Melnick,2011-09-15 9 11 Culture serves as a timely and accessible introduction to the complexities of American culture in the wake of the 9 11 attacks Gives balanced examinations of a broad catalogue of artifacts from film music photography literary fiction and other popular arts Investigates the ways that 9 11 has exerted a shaping force on a wide range of practices from the politics of femininity to the poetics of redemption Includes pedagogical material to assist understanding and teaching including film and discographies and a useful teachers preface

Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller,2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James s The Ambassadors to McCarthy s The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distil the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification

Bookishness Jessica Pressman,2020-12-01 Twenty first century culture is obsessed with books In a time when many voices have joined to predict the death of print books continue to resurface in new and unexpected ways From the proliferation of shelfies to Jane Austen themed leggings and from decorative pillows printed with beloved book covers to bookwork sculptures exhibited in prestigious collections books are everywhere and are not just for reading Writers have caught up with this trend many contemporary novels depict books as central characters or fetishize paper and print thematically and formally In Bookishness Jessica Pressman examines the new status of the book as object and symbol She explores the rise of bookishness as an identity and an aesthetic strategy that proliferates from store window display to experimental writing. Ranging from literature to kitsch objects, stop motion animation films to book design, Pressman considers the multivalent meanings of books in contemporary culture. Books can represent shelter from or a weapon against the dangers of the digital; they can act as memorials and express a sense of loss. Examining the works of writers such as Jonathan Safran Foer, Jennifer Egan, Mark Z. Danielewski, and Leanne Shapton, Pressman illuminates the status of the book as a fetish object and its significance for understanding contemporary fakery. Bringing together media studies, book history, and literary criticism, Bookishness explains how books still give meaning to our lives in a digital age. The Literature Book DK, 2016-05-26. It helps you appreciate, for example, how Dickens' Bleak House paints a picture of deprivation in 19th-century England, or how Stalin's climb to power was the backdrop for George Orwell's 1984. Charting the intersection of aesthetic representation and the material conditions of urban space, The City Since 9/11 posits that the contemporary metropolis provides a significant context for reassessing theoretical concerns related to narrative, identity, home, and personal precarity. In the years since the September 11 attacks, writers and filmmakers have explored urban spaces as contested sites shaped by the prevailing discourses of neoliberalism, homeland security, and the war on terror, but also haunted by an absence in the landscape that registers loss and prefigures future menace. In works of literature, film, and television, the city emerges as a paradoxical space of permanence and vulnerability and a convergence point for anxieties about globalization, structural inequality, and apocalyptic violence. Building on previous scholarship addressing trauma and the spectacle of terror, the contributors also draw upon works of philosophy, urban studies, and postmodern geography to theorize how literary and visual representations expose the persistent conflicts that arise as cities rebuild in the shadow of past ruins Their essays advance new lines of argument that clarify art's role in contemporary debates about spatial practices gentrification cosmopolitanism memory and history nostalgia the uncanny and the abject postmodern virtuality the politics of realism and the economic and social life of cities The book offers fresh readings of familiar post 9/11 novels such as Jonathan Safran Foer's Extremely Loud & Incredibly Close but it also considers works by Teju Cole Joseph O'Neill Silver Krieger Colum McCann Ronald Sukenick Jonathan Lethem Thomas Pynchon Colson Whitehead Paul Auster William Gibson Amitav Ghosh and Katherine Boo In addition The City Since 9/11 includes essays on the films Children of Men Hugo and the adaptation of Extremely Loud & Incredibly Close chapters on the television series The Bridge The Killing and The Wire and an analysis of Michael Arad's Reflecting Absence and the 9/11 Memorial
