Documents, Working Papers - Council of Europe, Parliamentary Assembly Council of Europe. Parliamentary Assembly, 2005-10 〇〇〇〇〇〇 〇〇, 2002 20 Record, 1997 Literary Agents in the Transatlantic Book Trade Cécile Cottenet, 2017-04-07 By way of a case study of one of the oldest French book agencies Agence Hoffman this book analyzes the role played by French literary agents in the importation of US fiction and literature into France in the years following World War II It sheds light on the material conditions of the circulation of texts across the Atlantic between 1944 and 1955 exploring the fine mechanisms of agents negotiations which allowed texts and ideas to cross borders While providing comparative insights into the history of publishing in France and in the United States in the immediate aftermath of the war this book aims at foregrounding the role of the book agent an all too often neglected intermediary in the field of book history Grounded in archival work conducted both in France and the United States this study is based on previously unexamined correspondence Considering the concept of mediation as central in the field of print culture this book addresses the dearth of scholarship on literary agents on both sides of the Atlantic and intersects with the current scholarship on transatlantic internationalism and transnational cultural and trade networks as evidenced by the recently emerged field of sociology of translation in Europe Research Handbook on the Economics of Intellectual Property Law Ben Depoorter, Peter Menell, David Schwartz, 2019 Both law and economics and intellectual property law have expanded dramatically in tandem over recent decades This field defining two volume Handbook featuring the leading legal empirical and law and economics scholars studying intellectual property rights provides wide ranging and in depth analysis both of the economic theory underpinning intellectual property law and the use of analytical methods to study it International Crimes: Volume I: Genocide Guénaél Mettraux, 2019-06-18 Judge Mettraux's four volume compendium International Crimes Law and Practice will provide the most detailed and authoritative account to date of the law of international crimes It is a scholarly tour de force providing a unique blend of academic rigour and an insight into the practice of international criminal law The compendium is unrivalled in its breadth and depth covering almost a century of legal practice dozens of jurisdictions national and international thousands of decisions and judgments and hundreds of cases This first volume discusses in detail the law of genocide its definition elements normative status and relationship to the other core international crimes While the book is an invaluable tool for academics and researchers it is particularly suited to legal practitioners guiding the reader through the practical and evidential challenges associated with the prosecution of international crimes Family Ambiguity and Domestic Violence in Asia Maznah Mohamad, Saskia Wieringa, 2013 Domestic violence in Asia is explored in this analysis through questions of family ambiguity and the relationship between concept law and strategy Comparative experiences in the Asian context enable an examination of the effectiveness of family regulations and laws in diverse national cultural and religious settings Key questions relate to the limits and relevance of the human rights discourse in resolving family conflicts the extent to which power and control in intimate relationships can actually be regulated by a set of inanimate homogeneous and uniform policies and legislations and how the state relates to the family as an ambiguous unit given state rules of governance that perpetuate unequal gender relations Carefully considering the many components of domestic violence such as state intervention versus the private domain and differences in legislation across Asia the book offers new theoretical insights to the conceptualization of the family culture and law and provides reasoned new perspectives on the effectiveness or inadequacy of present policies and enforcement strategies against domestic violence in Asia

The War on Sex David M. Halperin, Trevor Hoppe, 2017-03-09 The past fifty years are conventionally understood to have witnessed an uninterrupted expansion of sexual rights and liberties in the United States This state of the art collection tells a different story while progress has been made in marriage equality reproductive rights access to birth control and other areas government and civil society are waging a war on stigmatized sex by means of law surveillance and social control The contributors document the history and operation of sex offender registries and the criminalization of HIV as well as highly punitive measures against sex work that do more to harm women than to combat human trafficking They reveal that sex crimes are punished more harshly than other crimes while new legal and administrative regulations drastically restrict who is permitted to have sex By examining how the ever intensifying war on sex affects both privileged and marginalized communities the essays collected here show why sexual liberation is indispensable to social justice and human rights Contributors Alexis Agathocleous Elizabeth Bernstein J Wallace Borchert Mary Anne Case Owen Daniel McCarter Scott De Orio David M Halperin Amber Hollibaugh Trevor Hoppe Hans Tao Ming Huang Regina Kunzel Roger N Lancaster Judith Levine Laura Mansnerus Erica R Meiners R Noll Melissa Petro Carol Queen Penelope Saunders Sean Strub Maurice Tomlinson Gregory Tomso

The Telecommunications Act of 1996: The "Costs" of Managed Competition Dale E. Lehman, Dennis Weisman, 2012-12-06 The Telecommunications Act of 1996 envisioned a competitive free for all in the U S telecommunications industry with removal of barriers to entry in local telecommunications markets and the lifting of the artificial restrictions that kept the Regional Bell Operating Companies RBOCs out of the interLATA long distance market After close to 5 years only one RBOC has been granted permission controversially to enter the interLATA market and local competition has yet to provide most consumers with meaningful choices In addition the wave of mergers across the industry has raised the specter of putting the former Bell System back together again Policymakers now openly question whether the Act can deliver what it promised Three principal themes are developed in this book First there has been a coordination failure between Congress and the FCC in translating the principles embodied in the Act into practice The authors provide evidence for this by analyzing stock market reactions to legislative and regulatory actions This coordination failure was largely predictable given the ambiguity in the Act as well as conflicting jurisdictions between the FCC and the states Second the Act calls for wholesale prices to be based on cost Regulators adopted a costing standard TELRIC that provides a means to subsidize competitive entry in local telephone service markets The ready adoption of the TELRIC standard by regulators is shown to be tied to the third theme price cap regulation provides regulators with insurance against the adverse effects of competition in local telephone markets Statistical analysis reveals that regulators in price cap states set uniformly lower unbundled network element prices lower barriers to entry in comparison with regulators in rate of return and earnings sharing states The result is a triumph of regulatory processes over market processes the antithesis of the purpose of the Act Gays and Lesbians in the Democratic Process Ellen D. B. Riggle, Barry L. Tadlock, 1999 In this collection of articles the various authors examine the interaction of gays and lesbians with the democratic process in regards to public policy public opinion and political representation
