Making Space Andrew MacLaran, 2014-04-04 Making Space studies the built environment by examining the private sector forces responsible for its development and the urban planning systems put in place to influence guide and manipulate its outcomes The first part provides a theoretical context for understanding the functions of the property development sector and the state's interventions through the medium of urban planning It analyses the relationship between planning and development and focuses on the increasingly widespread adoption of more pro active entrepreneurial planning agendas as a response to a growing disenchantment with traditional regulatory approaches The second part comprises case studies drawn from Australia New Zealand the USA the United Kingdom and Ireland which investigate the ways in which urban planning in different socio political contexts has influenced the outcomes of the property development process as well as the manner in which such planning systems have changed in order to enhance their influence

A Companion to the City Gary Bridge, Sophie Watson, 2008-06-09 A Companion to the City provides the reader with an indispensable and authoritative overview of the key debates controversies and questions concerning the city from a variety of theoretical vantage points with an international perspective Indispensable companion for students of the City Multidisciplinary approach of interest across several fields Includes contributions from major scholars in the field

The Enterprising City Centre Gwyndaf Williams, 2003-11-06 The Enterprising City Centre reveals exemplars of local partnership working the development and delivery of realistic implementation plans and the range of instruments available to create both an improved quality to the urban environment and enhanced commercial and cultural competitiveness of our major city centres That this was largely delivered in Manchester within a five year period of intensive development and renewal activity amply demonstrates the value of such experience for wider dissemination

Spatial Planning and the New Localism Graham Haughton, Philip Allmendinger, 2018-05-11 This book looks at the transition from New Labour's Spatial Planning approach to the Coalition Government's preferred Localism approach Localism we are told will liberate local planners from the heavy hand of central government and allow planning to flourish at the local level Alternatively austerity cuts nationally mean planning faces cuts In just two years the machinery of regional planning has been dismantled and local authorities are being asked to do more with less Innovation is also evident however notably with the introduction of neighbourhood planning and Local Enterprise Partnerships This collection contains chapters looking at the planning system overall sustainability and planning new approaches to infrastructure planning and the critical interface between urban policy local economic development and planning This book was published as a special issue of Planning Practice and Research It also contains a brand new afterword written by the editors Localism austerity and planning

Regenerating Deprived Urban Areas Hohmann, Rene Peter, 2013-10-16 In the face of continuing challenges of urban decline an increasing local policy activism can be observed in a number of European countries The implementation of area based initiatives ABIs for deprived urban areas such as The New Deal for Communities in England and the Social City Programme in Germany are examples of these New Localism s ABIs can be seen as test beds for new forms of urban governance seeking to foster an active participation of residents and the Voluntary Sector Based upon a comparative research in two cities Bristol in England and Duisburg in Germany this book is the first to cross nationally compare the impacts of ABIs in two deprived urban areas in England and Germany It evaluates the impacts of these New Localism s on organisations and development actors at the neighbourhood level Using a rich data set and applying a hands on methodology it applies a mixed method approach to help the reader with a wider spectrum of illustrations and is aimed at those studying and working in the field of urban regeneration and planning New State Spaces Neil Brenner,2004-09-10 In this synthetic interdisciplinary work Neil Brenner develops a new interpretation of the transformation of statehood under contemporary globalizing capitalism Whereas most analysts of the emergent post Westphalian world order have focused on supranational and national institutional realignments New State Spaces shows that strategic subnational spaces such as cities and city regions represent essential arenas in which states are being transformed Brenner traces the transformation of urban governance in western Europe during the last four decades and on this basis argues that inherited geographies of state power are being fundamentally rescaled Through a combination of theory construction historical analysis and cross national case studies of urban policy change New State Spaces provides an innovative analysis of the new formations of state power that are currently emerging This is a mature and sophisticated analysis by a major young scholar Neoliberal Spatial Governance Phil Allmendinger,2016-04-14 Neoliberal Spatial Governance explores the changing nature of English town and city planning as it has slowly but clearly transformed Once a system for regulating and balancing change in the built and natural environments in the public interest planning now finds itself facilitating development and economic growth for narrow sectional interests Whilst there is a lip service towards traditional values the progressive aims and inclusivity that provided planning s legitimacy and broad support have now largely disappeared The result is a growing backlash of distrust and discontent as planning has evolved into neoliberal spatial governance The tragedy of this change is that at a time when planning has a critical role in tackling major issues such as housing affordability and climate change it finds itself poorly resourced with low professional morale lacking legitimacy and support from local communities accused of bureaucracy and red tape from businesses and ministers and subject to regular disruptive reforms Yet all is not lost There is still demand and support for more comprehensive and progressive planning one that is not purely driven by the needs of developers and investors Resistance against the idea that planning exists to help roll out development is growing Neoliberal Spatial Governance explores the background and implications of the changes in planning under the governments of the past four decades and the ways we might think about halting and reversing this shift Coming Full Circle Wanda Lloyd,2020-02-04 Inspiring reading for aspiring journalists and students of civil rights Kirkus Reviews Wanda Smalls Lloyd s Coming Full Circle From Jim Crow to Journalism with a foreword by best selling author Tina

McElroy Ansa is the memoir of an African American woman who grew up privileged and educated in the restricted culture of the American South in the 1950s 1960s Her path was shaped by segregated social community and educational systems religious and home training a strong cultural foundation and early leadership opportunities Despite Jim Crow laws that affected where she lived how she was educated and what civil rights she would be denied Lloyd grew up to realize her childhood dream of working as a professional journalist In fact she would eventually hold some of the nation s highest ranking newspaper editorial positions and become one of the first African American women to be the top editor of a mainstream daily newspaper Along the way she helped her newspapers and other media organizations understand how the lack of newsroom and staff diversity interfered with perceptions of accuracy and balance for their audiences Her memoir is thus a window on the intersection of race gender culture and the media s role in our uniquely American experiment in democracy How Lloyd excelled in a profession where high ranking African American women were rare is a memorable story that will educate entertain and inspire Coming Full Circle is a self reflective exploration of the author s life journey from growing up in coastal Savannah Georgia to editing roles at seven daily newspapers around the country and circling back to her retirement in Savannah where she now teaches journalism to a new generation

Urban Regeneration in the UK

Andrew Tallon,2009-08-21 Exploring the streets of London Manchester Belfast Edinburgh or Cardiff one cannot help but notice the striking transformations taking place in the urban landscapes This prominent regeneration of urban areas in the UK and around the world has become an increasingly important issue amongst governments and populations The growing concern has been a result of the impacts of the decline of cities since the collapse of manufacturing industries and the heightening of global competition A range of innovative approaches to tackle urban problems have been taken over many decades to attempt to regenerate the fortunes of towns and cities across the UK This text provides an accessible yet critical synthesis of urban regeneration in the UK incorporating key policies approaches issues and debates The central objective of the book is to place the historical and contemporary regeneration agenda into context Section one sets up the conceptual and policy framework for urban regeneration in the UK SectionTwo traces policies that have been adopted by central government to influence the social economic and physical development of cities including early municipal interventions in the late nineteenth century community focused urban policies of the late 1960s entrepreneurial property led regeneration of the 1980s and competition for urban funds in the 1990s The penultimate section illustrates the key thematic policies and strategies that have been pursued by cities themselves focusing particularly on improving economic competitiveness and tackling social disadvantage These approaches are contextualized by discussions covering for example urban competitiveness policies and the focus on sustainable urban regeneration The final section summarizes key issues and debates facing urban regeneration and speculates upon future directions Urban Regeneration in the UK blends the approaches taken by central government programmes and cities themselves in the regeneration process The latest ideas and examples from across disciplines and across the UK's urban areas are illustrated. This book provides a comprehensive and up to date synthesis that will fill a significant gap in the current literature on regeneration and will be a tool for students as well as a seminal read for practitioners and researchers.

After Urban Regeneration Dave O'Brien, Peter Matthews, 2016. This book presents a comprehensive study of contemporary trends in urban policy and planning bringing leading scholars together to focus on gentrification and its aftermath with a special emphasis on the history and theory of community. Taking into account the changes to urban policy that followed the financial crisis of 2008 the contributors make a powerful case that the state must continue to play a major role in the maintenance of urban community that culture and society cannot bear the burden on their own. Based on research from the Connected Communities Programme the book will be a valuable resource for those working in geography urban studies planning sociology law and art as well as policy makers and community activists.

Corporate Social Responsibility and Urban Development E. Werna, R. Keivani, David Murphy, 2009-01-20. Urban development cooperation needs innovative solutions. Despite many efforts international assistance has failed to address the challenges faced by cities in developing countries. This book seeks to raise awareness about the value of corporate social responsibility as a tool in urban development assistance.

British Urban Policy Rob Imrie, Huw Thomas, 1999-04-28. This updated edition of British Urban Policy provides a comprehensive account of the policies programmes and effects of one of the most controversial urban policy programmes ever brought to bear upon British cities. The authors place the policies and practices of the urban development corporations (UDCs) in the wider sociopolitical context of evolving urban policy. Present case studies of eight UDCs and explore the legacies of the UDCs and the evolving framework for urban policy into the millennium.

A United Kingdom? John Mohan, 2014-04-23. The human geography of the UK is currently being reshaped by a number of forces such as globalisation transition in the organisations of production the changing character of state intervention and changing relationships with Europe. A consideration of the impacts of these forces on economic social and political landscapes is therefore an urgent task. At the same time enduring institutional features of the British economy and polity are also having important influences on socio economic processes. The result is a complex mosaic of uneven development which belies the notion of simplistic regional contrasts. Rather than simply mapping spatial inequality A United Kingdom charts the processes underpinning uneven development at a range of scales and for a number of key topics. The book draws upon and synthesises the latest contemporary research findings and places emphasis on the interrelated nature of economic social and political geographies. It treats the human geographies of the UK in a coherent and integrated way and asks whether contemporary processes of change are tending towards the reduction of socio spatial divisions or their reproduction in new forms.

Territorial Policy and Governance Iain Deas, Stephen Hincks, 2017-02-24. In response to both policy and conceptual debates alternative narratives have begun to emerge about territorial governance and policymaking. As local and regional policy actors strive to respond to the geographically uneven effects of the economic crises of the early twenty first century a crucial question emerges what are the opportunities and challenges presented by alternative forms of territorially based governance and policy The aim of this edited volume therefore is critically to explore the opportunities and challenges presented by different forms of territorial policy and governance Drawing on conceptual debates and empirical research from the United Kingdom and other international contexts the contributors engage with issues around the politics and governance of territorial development economic development planning and regeneration and the environment Territorial Policy and Governance addresses the question of how alternative forms of territorial governance and policy can help to shape patterns of urban and regional development highlighting the related opportunities constraints and challenges that confront their operationalisation This book will be essential reading for international audiences with an interest in territorial development governance politics human geography and planning and regeneration Deprivation,

State Interventions and Urban Communities in Britain, 1968-79 Peter Shapely, 2017-08-16 Focusing on a series of policy initiatives from the late 1960s through to the end of the 1970s this book looks at how successive governments tried to address growing concerns about urban deprivation across Britain It provides unique insights into policy and governance and into the socio economic and cultural causes and consequences of poverty Starting with the impact of redevelopment policies immigration and the rise of the inner city this book examines the pressures and challenges that explain the development of policy by successive Labour and Conservative governments It looks at the effectiveness and limits of different community development approaches and at the inadequacies of policy in tackling urban deprivation In doing so the book highlights the restricted impact of pilot projects and reform of public services in resolving deprivation as well as the broader limits of social planning and state welfare Crucially it also plots the shift in policy from an emphasis on achieving statutory service efficiencies and rolling out social development programmes towards an ever greater stress on regeneration and support for private capital as the solution to transforming the inner city Creating Smart-er Cities Mark Deakin, 2013-09-13

Drawing upon the smart experiences of world class cities in North America Canada and Europe this book provides the evidence to show how entrepreneurship based and market dependent representations of knowledge production are now being replaced with a community of policy makers academic leaders corporate strategists and growth management alliances with the potential to liberate cities from the stagnation which they have previously been locked into by offering communities the freedom to develop policies with the leadership and strategies capable of reaching beyond the idea of creative slack a process of reinvention whereby cities become smarter in using intellectual capital to not only meet the efficiency requirements of wealth creation but to become centres of creative slack the political leadership capable of not only being economically innovative or culturally creative but enterprising in opening up reflexively absorbing and discursively shaping the democratic governance of such developments the democratic governance to sustain such developments Drawing together the critical insights from papers from a collection of leading international experts on the transition to smart cities this book proposes to do what has recently been asked of those responsible for creating Smarter Cities That is provide the definitional components critical insights and institutional means by which to get beyond the all too often self congratulatory tone cities across the world strike when claiming to be smart and by focussing on the critical role master plans and design codes play in supporting the sustainable development of communities This book was published as a special issue of Urban Technology

The Top Books of the Year Full Circle Urban S The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Full Circle Urban S : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
