Superintendent of Documents,1953 Reclaiming the Land Gregg Macey, Jonathan Z. Cannon, 2007-06-22 Marianne Horinko Executive Vice President Global Environment and Technology Foundation On August 7 1978 President Carter declared a state of emergency in the community of Love Canal New York The President urged residents of Love Canal to evacuate not because of a recent catastrophic event but because of something that occurred in the 1940 s and 1950 s This Niagara Falls community had been developed on land that was formerly used as a landfill Although the landfill was closed in 1953 it had been a dumping ground for tons of chemical wastes and that waste would eventually create an environment extremely dangerous to human health The image of chemicals seeping into the basements of American homes would produce widespread panic but would also raise the environmental consciousness of a nation and produce a legislative response that was equal to the task Americans celebrated the first Earth Day in April 1970 Throughout the rest of the decade we passed legislation intended to fulfill the promise of that day to create a clean and safe environment However there were still holes in our environmental protection in 1978 evidenced by the problems at Love Canal In response Congress passed the Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation and Liability Act CERCLA or as many people call it Superfund Passed in 1980 this law was intended to address problems like the ones faced at Love Canal

The Fracking Debate Jonathan M. Fisk,2017-08-07 The disputes around fracking and oil and gas policy follow a long tradition of complicated intergovernmental relationships Proponents argue that fracking supports new and well paying jobs revitalizes state and local economies and that it can help replace reliance on other fossil fuels Skeptics and opponents contend that oil and gas production via fracking contaminates air and water resources causes earthquakes and can ruin the character of many communities Examining the intergovernmental politics of the first oil and natural gas boom of the 21st century The Fracking Debate Second edition offers a holistic understanding of the politics that characterize oil and natural gas operations including why local governments are challenging their state s preemptive authority in order to initiate a larger conversation about improving intergovernmental relationships Author Jonathan Fisk presents a novel argument about the ways in which local state regional and national approaches to governance of shale gas development can work together to reduce conflict and forward the interests of the communities exposed to development asking important questions such as What state structures govern state local relations What state institutions impact and shape oil and gas production What is the policymaking context in the state What are the costs and benefits of hydraulic fracturing at the national state and local levels How are risks and rewards distributed within states What local policies have challenged the state and why would local communities challenge the state The result is a book that demonstrates that when stakeholders acknowledge their interdependencies and one another s expertise they create design and implement more responsive strategic and targeted public policies The Fracking Debate Second edition will be required reading for courses on oil and gas policy in the United States environmental politics and domestic energy politics as well as a vital reference for practitioners and policymakers working in these fields
