Mastriano, 2018-06-15 In July 1918 sensing that the German Army had lost crucial momentum Supreme Allied Commander Ferdinand Foch saw an opportunity to end the First World War In drafting his plans for a final grand offensive he assigned the most difficult sector the dense Argonne forest and the vast Meuse River valley to the American Expeditionary Forces under General John J Pershing There the Doughboys faced thickly defended German lines with terrain deemed impossible to fight through From September 26 through the November 11 armistice US forces suffered more than 20 000 casualties a week but the Allies ultimately prevailed in a decisive victory that helped to end the Great War In Thunder in the Argonne Douglas V Mastriano offers the most comprehensive account of this legendary campaign to date Not only does he provide American French and British perspectives on the offensive but he also offers for the first time in English the German view Mastriano presents a balanced analysis of successes and failures at all levels of command examining the leadership of the principals while also illuminating acts of heroism by individual soldiers The Meuse Argonne Offensive is widely regarded as one of America's finest hours and the amazing feats of Sergeant Alvin York Major Charles Whittlesey of the Lost Battalion and Lieutenant Sam Woodfill all accomplished in the midst of this maelstrom echo across the ages Published to coincide with the centennial of the campaign this engaging book offers a fresh look at the battle that forged the modern US Army
