Salter, U.S. Army Research Institute for the Behavioral and Social Sciences, LITTON COMPUTER SERVICES MOUNTAIN VIEW CA., Litton Computers Services (Firm), U.S. Army Research Institute for the Behavioral and Social Sciences. ARI Field Unit at Fort Benning, 1987 Since the modern combat leader is faced with making many complex decisions under conditions of great stress and fatigue it is vital that he be provided with standardized job aids to assist him in accomplishing his combat mission Until the present report no effective standardized job aids have been available to the combat leader The Combat Leader s Guide CLG project was initiated to produce a modular job performance aid system for combat leaders use during periods of high stress in continuous combat The CLG is designed to 1 be fully usable under combat conditions 2 have a standardized format 3 be a modular highly flexible system 4 provide fast information retrieval 5 be easily personalized to individual need job assignment mission requirements equipment availability and area of operations by adding or removing modules 6 be easily supplemented by higher command 7 be fully usable under adverse weather and low light conditions and 8 utilize as many government standard components as possible The CLG was designed to be produced in modular format on waterproof and tear resistant paper It is fastened with post screws to allow easy addition or deletion of materiel The present research product represents camera ready copies of the front and back side of each page The prototype CLG and an accompanying feedback form were distributed to active Army noncommissioned officers and officers in units and schools and for desktop review to a number of former service members Over 40% of respondents returned their feedback forms with responses overwhelmingly in favor of the CLG s overall effectiveness and utility Based upon the feedback received changes were made to the prototype CLG Research Report ,2006 List of U.S. Army Research Institute Research and Technical Publications U.S. Army Research Institute for the Behavioral and Social Sciences, 2004 The Army Communicator ,1988 List of U.S. Army Research Institute Research and Technical Publications, October 1, 1997 to September 30, 1998 ,1999 Government Reports Announcements & Index ,1988 Infantry ,1984 List of U.S. Army Research Institute Research and Technical Publications, October 1, 1994 to September 30, 1999 ,2000 Mailing List (Infantry School (U.S.)) ,1984 Use of Services for Family Planning and Infertility, United States ,1982 Gerry E. Hendershot, Marjorie C. Horn, William D.

Mosher, 1988 The 1982 statistics on the use of family planning and infertility services presented in this report are preliminary results from Cycle III of the National Survey of Family Growth NSFG conducted by the National Center for Health Statistics Data were collected through personal interviews with a multistage area probability sample of 7969 women aged 15-44 A detailed series of questions was asked to obtain relatively complete estimates of the extent and type of family planning services received Statistics on family planning services are limited to women who were able to conceive 3 years before the interview date Overall 79% of currently married nonsterile women reported using some type of family planning service during the previous 3 years There were no statistically significant differences between white 79% black 75% or Hispanic 77% wives or between the 2 income groups The 1982 survey questions were more comprehensive than those of earlier cycles of the survey The annual rate of visits for family planning services in 1982 was 1077 visits 1000 women Teenagers had the highest annual visit rate 1581 1000 of any age group for all sources of family planning services combined Visit rates declined sharply with age from 1447 at ages 15-24 to 479 at ages 35-44 Similar declines with age also were found in the visit rates for white and black women separately Nevertheless the annual visit rate for black women 1334 1000 was significantly higher than that for white women 1033 The highest overall visit rate was for black women 15-19 years of age 1867 1000 Nearly 2/3 of all family planning visits were to private medical sources Teenagers of all races had higher family planning service visit rates to clinics than to private medical sources as did black women age 15-24 White women age 20 and older had higher visit rates to private medical services than to clinics Never married women had higher visit rates to clinics than currently or formerly married women Data were also collected in 1982 on use of medical services for infertility by women who had difficulty in conceiving or carrying a pregnancy to term About 1 million ever married women had 1 or more infertility visits in the 12 months before the interview During the 3 years before interview about 1.9 million women had infertility visits For all ever married women as well as for white and black women separately infertility services were more likely to be secured from private medical sources than from clinics The survey design reliability of the estimates and the terms used are explained in the technical notes
