Getting Out of Bed in the Morning Alice J. Wisler, 2014-06-30 How to Wake Up in the Morning motivates readers who are facing grief and loss to get out of bed and face a life which although diminished by unfathomable sadness still holds purpose and beauty Written in devotional format How to Wake Up in the Morning is a companion for those going through sorrow associated with loss whether brought to the journey through the death of a loved one failing health job loss broken relationships or weakened family ties Losses are real and raw they often make people want to give up quit trying Yet as readers discover how their circumstances can be used to lift hands to God and in time reach others they will see how God can use them to be people of encouragement and find beauty once again in a life worth living These forty devotionals address the painful hardships realistically as well as the doubt worry and fear that come with them The pages are packed with tips on how readers should take care of themselves and draw near to God so that healing is possible Each devotional includes reflection prayer and suggestions for those who want to integrate walks into their daily routine

Refresh Kimberly M. Drew, Jocelyn Green, 2016-09-27 More than one fifth of US households with children have at least one child with special needs Raising a child with special needs is spiritually emotionally mentally and physically challenging Parents of these children have higher rates of depression anxiety and divorce They need encouragement to restore hope and a passion for God in their lives but the realities of having to be parent nurse therapist and caregiver make it difficult to find the time or initiative to seek encouragement Written by two moms who understand this complicated balancing act Refresh is designed to provide just what these parents need The 90 day devotional guides parents to spiritual truths that can be applied to the demands they face every day It offers perspective and hope through the varying stages and phases families experience from diagnosis to loss and grief Each day's devotional includes a reading from Scripture as well as stories and testimonies from parents who intimately know the struggle readers face Their children represent a wide range of special needs including autism cerebral palsy Down syndrome genetic disorders chronic illness and more Drew and Green show how the truths of God's Word are relevant regardless of the diagnosis Their devotional illuminates the unique lessons and perspectives to be gained as a result of raising a child with special needs Insightful and powerful Refresh will help weary parents grow spiritual roots and reach the water of life once more
