of Humanism in Classical Islam and the Christian West George Makdisi, 2019-08-05 Challenging beliefs about intellectual culture Makdisi reaffirms the links between Western and Arabic thought and shows that although scholasticism and humanism have long been considered to be exclusive to the Western world they have their roots in the medieval Islamic world

The Return of Scepticism Gianni Paganini, 2013-03-14 This collection of articles the Vercelli conference proceedings places the theme of scepticism within its philosophical tradition It explores the English philosophical thinkers the French context as well as major Italian figures and Spanish culture It pays special attention to the relationships between history of philosophical ideas and the problems rising from the history of sciences medicine physics linguistics historical scholarship in the 17th and the 18th centuries

Neither Believer Nor Infidel Jonathan A. Cook, 2023-08-15 Shedding new light on both classic and lesser known works in the Melville canon with particular attention to the author's literary use of the Bible Neither Believer Nor Infidel examines the debate between religious skepticism and Christian faith that infused Herman Melville's writings following Moby Dick Jonathan A Cook's study is the first to focus on the decisive role of faith and doubt in Melville's writings following his mid career turn to shorter fiction and still later to poetry as a result of the commercial failures of Moby Dick and Pierre Nathaniel Hawthorne claimed that Melville can neither believe nor be comfortable in his unbelief a remark that encapsulates an essential truth about Melville's attitude to Christianity Like many of his Victorian contemporaries Melville spent his literary career poised between an intellectual rejection of Christian dogma and an emotional attachment to the consolations of non dogmatic Christian faith Accompanying this ambivalence was a lifelong devotion to the text of the King James Bible as both moral sourcebook and literary template Following a biographical overview of skeptical influences and manifestations in Melville's early life and career Cook examines the evidence of religious doubt and belief in Bartleby the Scrivener Cock a Doodle Do The Encantadas Israel Potter Battle Pieces Timoleon and Billy Budd Accessible for both the general reader and the scholar Neither Believer Nor Infidel clarifies the ambiguities of Melville's pervasive use of religion in his fiction and poetry In analyzing Melville's persistent oscillation between metaphysical rebellion and attenuated belief Cook elucidates both well known and under appreciated works

Smith III,2010-04-16 The written word is one of the defining elements of Christian experience As vigorous in the 1st century as it is in the 21st Christian literature has had a significant function in history and teachers and students need to be reminded of this powerful literary legacy Covering 2 000 years The Encyclopedia of Christian Literature is the first encyclopedia devoted to Christian writers and books In addition to an overview of the Christian literature this two volume set also includes 40 essays on the principal genres of Christian literature and more than 400 bio bibliographical essays describing the principal writers and their works These essays examine the evolution of Christian thought as reflected in the literature of every age The companion volume also features bibliographies an index a timeline of Christian Literature and a list of the greatest Christian authors The encyclopedia will appeal not only to scholars and Christian evangelicals but students and teachers in seminaries and theological schools as well as to the growing body of Christian readers and bibliophiles Norton's Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular ,1851 The Christian Union ,1888 Imperial Unknowns Cornel Zwierlein,2016-10-19 In this major study the history of the French and British trading empires in the early modern Mediterranean is used as a setting to test a new approach to the history of ignorance how can we understand the very act of ignoring in political economic religious cultural and scientific communication as a fundamental trigger that sets knowledge in motion Zwierlein explores whether the Scientific Revolution between 1650 and 1750 can be understood as just one of what were in fact many simultaneous epistemic movements and considers the role of the European empires in this phenomenon Deconstructing central categories like the mercantilist national the exchange of confessions between Western and Eastern Christians and the bridging of cultural gaps between European and Ottoman subjects Zwierlein argues that understanding what was not known by historical agents can be just as important as the history of knowledge itself Reading the Book of Nature Jonathan R. Topham, 2022-10-12 A powerful reimagining of the world in which a young Charles Darwin developed his theory of evolution When Charles Darwin returned to Britain from the Beagle voyage in 1836 the most talked about scientific books of the day were the Bridgewater Treatises This series of eight works was funded by a bequest of the last Earl of Bridgewater and written by leading men of science appointed by the president of the Royal Society to explore the Power Wisdom and Goodness of God as manifested in the Creation Securing public attention beyond all expectations the series offered Darwin's generation a range of approaches to one of the great questions of the age how to incorporate the newly emerging disciplinary sciences into Britain's overwhelmingly Christian culture Drawing on a wealth of archival and published sources including many unexplored by historians Jonathan R Topham examines how and to what extent the series contributed to a sense of congruence between Christianity and the sciences in the generation before the fabled Victorian conflict between science and religion Building on the distinctive insights of book history and paying close attention to the production circulation and use of the books Topham offers new perspectives on early Victorian science and the subject of science and religion as a whole
