Landscape, Race and Memory Divya Praful Tolia-Kelly,2016-04-22 Memory is seldom explored through the experience of geographically mobile racialized populations Whilst the relationships between the political value of landscape and national memory have previously been written through there has been little mention of postcolonial diasporic racialized citizens Using both visual and material culture this book examines the value of landscape and memory for postcolonial migrants living in Britain It uses memory to examine how postcolonial citizenship in Britain is experienced through remembered citizenships of other geographies abroad By reflecting on the cultural landscapes of British Asian women the book reveals social historical narratives about migration citizenship and belonging New spaces of memory are presented as mobile and as politically charged with meaning as the more formal spaces of memorialization The book offers a refiguring of race memory as being critical to English heritage and postcolonial politics and makes an important contribution to the writings on memory race and landscape

Peacebuilding and Ex-Combatants Johanna Söderström,2014-12-17 The book examines how ex combatants in post war and peacebuilding settings engage in politics as seen in the case of Liberia The political mobilization of former combatants after war is often perceived as a threat ultimately undermining the security and stability of the state This book questions this simplified view and argues that understanding the political voice of former combatants is imperative Their post war role is not black and white they are not just bad or good citizens but rather engage in multiple political roles spoilers victims disengaged beneficiaries as well as motivated and active citizens By looking at the political attitudes and values of former combatants and their understanding of how politics functions the book sheds new light on the political reintegration of ex combatants It argues that political reintegration needs to be given serious attention at the micro level but also needs to be scrutinized in two ways first through the level of political involvement which reflects the extent and width of the ex combatants voice Second in order to make sense of political reintegration we also need to uncover what values and norms inform their political involvement The content of their political voice is captured through a comparison with democratic ideals Based on interviews with over 100 Liberian ex combatants the book highlights that their relationship with politics overall should be characterized as an expression of a politics of affection This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding African politics democratization political sociology conflict resolution and IR Security Studies in general

Handbook of Research Methods for Clinical and Health Psychology Jeremy Miles,Paul Gilbert,2005 Though psychology as a discipline has grown enormously in popularity in recent years compulsory courses in research methods and statistics are seldom embarked upon with any great enthusiasm within the undergraduate and postgraduate communities Many postgraduate and PhD students start their research ill equipped to design effective experiments and to properly analyse their results This lack of knowledge also limits their ability to critically assess and evaluate research done by others This book is a practical guide to carrying out research in health psychology and clinical psychology It bridges the gap between undergraduate and postgraduate study As well as describing the various techniques and methods available to students it provides them with a proper understanding of what specific technique does going beyond the introductory descriptions typical of most undergraduate methods books. The book describes both quantitative and qualitative approaches to data collection providing valuable advice on methods ranging from psychometric testing to discourse analysis. For both undergraduate and postgraduate students the book will be essential in making them aware of the full range of techniques available helping them to design scientifically rigorous experiments and effectively analyse their results.

Basic and Advanced Focus Groups David L. Morgan, 2018-07-13 Basic and Advanced Focus Groups illustrates both the different types of focus groups and how to decide among those options in order to produce the most effective focus groups possible. A variety of approaches to doing research with focus groups gives readers the tools to develop and examine their research designs starting with the basics. Advanced coverage in each chapter takes an in depth look at topics such as moderating focus groups using mixed methods and working with different sizes of groups. By taking a practical applied approach the author gives even novice students the knowledge and confidence to design and conduct effective focus group research while simultaneously providing more advanced researchers with the tools and knowledge to refine their current practices.

Advanced Nursing Research Ruth M. Tappen, 2015-08-14 Advanced Nursing Research From Theory to Practice Second Edition is a graduate level text takes a practical approach to preparing research proposals and carrying out research studies.

Focus Group Discussions Monique M. Hennink, 2013-12-13 The Understanding Research series focuses on the process of writing up social research. The series is broken down into three categories Understanding Statistics, Understanding Measurement and Understanding Qualitative Research. The books provide researchers with guides to understanding writing and evaluating social research. Each volume demonstrates how research should be represented including how to write up the methodology as well as the research findings. Each volume also reviews how to appropriately evaluate published research. Focus Group Discussions addresses the challenges associated with conducting and writing focus group research. It provides detailed guidance on the practical and theoretical considerations in conducting focus group discussions including designing the discussion guide, recruiting participants, training a field team, moderating techniques and ethical considerations. Monique Hennink describes how a methodology section is read and evaluated by others such as journal reviewers or thesis advisors. She provides readers with guidance on specific aspects of presenting research findings such as structuring narrative accounts, developing an argument using quotations, reporting focus group interaction, visual presentation formats and strategies for grounding study results. She describes the challenges in assessing focus groups and details practical strategies for assessing scientific rigor. The book includes case study examples of field research across a range of disciplines and international contexts. Hennink concludes the volume with an overview of current debates relating to the evaluation of qualitative research suggesting ways to critique the research design, methodology and results of focus group research.
