Yamada: Knowledge, Education and Social Structur ,2023-06-27 In searching for the potential that lies in African societies the chapters of this volume consider relationships between knowledge education and social structure from multiple angles from a macro continental scale to national education systems schools and local communities The themes that cut across the chapters include education as a mode of transmitting values the contrasting effects of school credentials and knowledge for use politics and interactions among people surrounding a school and knowledge acquisition as a subjective process The rich empirical analyses suggest that the subjective commitment of and mutuality among people will make the acquired knowledge a powerful tool for conviviality to realize a stable life even given the turmoil created by rapid institutional and environmental changes that confront African societies

Education in Zambia Brendan Patrick Carmody,1999 This book fills a gap by providing a much needed history of Catholic missionary education in Zambia It traces the contribution of the Catholic Church s contribution to the development of education in Zambia over more than a century providing more widely an overview of Zambia s educational history and insights into the development of the country s political history It articulates the perspectives of missionaries and officials of education departments of Zambian students lecturers and administrators The study further vividly illustrates how the mission school generated creative tension between modernity and education and Christian conversion and analyses the psychological impacts of religious conversion and how these have been played out in Zambia It argues that in the circumstances Catholic schools have been instruments of liberation in Zambia but duly recognises the ambiguities of modernisation and the need to respect and acknowledge the riches of local tradition

Achieving Education for All through Public-Private Partnerships? Pauline Rose,2013-09-13 Concern for achieving Millennium Development Goals MDGs by 2015 has led to a focus on the role that non state providers NSPs can offer in extending access and improving quality of basic services While NSPs can help to fill a gap in provision to those excluded from state provision recent growth in both for profit and not for profit providers in developing countries has sometimes resulted in fragmentation of service delivery To address this attention is increasingly given in the education sector to developing partnerships between governments and NSPs Partnerships are further driven by the expectation that the state has the moral social and legal responsibility for overall education service delivery and so should play a role in facilitating and regulating NSPs Even where the ultimate aim of both non state providers and the state is to provide education of acceptable quality to all children this book provides evidence from diverse contexts across Africa South Asia and Latin America to highlight the challenges in them partnering to achieve this This book was published as a special issue of Development in Practice
