Devices of Wonder Barbara Maria Stafford, Frances Terpak, J. Paul Getty Museum, 2001 Exhibition held at the J Paul Getty Museum Los Angeles 13 November 2001 to 3 February 2002      Devices of Curiosity Oliver Gaycken, 2015 Devices of Curiosity excavates a largely unknown genre of early cinema the popular science film Primarily a work of cinema history it also draws on the insights of the history of science Beginning around 1903 a variety of producers made films about scientific topics for general audiences inspired by a vision of cinema as an educational medium This book traces the development of popular science films over the first half of the silent era from its beginnings in England to its flourishing in France around 1910 Devices of Curiosity also considers how popular science films exemplify the circulation of knowledge These films initially relied upon previous traditions such as the magic lantern lecture for their representational strategies and they continually had recourse to established visual iconography but they also created novel visual paradigms and led to the creation of ambitious new film collections Finally the book discerns a transit between nonfictional and fictional modes seeing affinities between popular science films and certain aspects of fiction films particularly Louis Feuillade's crime melodramas This kind of circulation is important for an understanding of the wider relevance of early popular science films which impacted the formation of the documentary educational and avant garde cinemas      Devices of Wonder , The J Paul Getty Trust presents the online version of the exhibition Devices of Wonder which was at the Getty from November 13 2001 through February 3 2002 The exhibition features devices that were forerunners to modern cinema cyborgs computers and other optical devices      The Book of Wonders Rudolph John Bodmer, 1915      The Theological Intentions of Mark's Literary Devices Dean B. Deppe, 2015-10-22 What sets The Theological Intentions of Mark's Literary Devices apart from other books What niche does it fill that makes its publication important This volume will interest all those who value a literary approach to the Gospel of Mark Dean Deppe introduces some new literary devices in the research of the Gospel of Mark as well as demonstrates the theological intentions of Mark when he employs these literary devices Deppe argues that Mark employs the literary devices of intercalation framework allusionary repetitions narrative surprises and three types of mirroring to indicate where he speaks symbolically and metaphorically at two levels Mark employs these literary devices not just for dramatic tension and irony but also for theological reasons to apply the Jesus tradition to specific problems in his own day      Aristotelianism and Magic in Early Modern Europe Donato Verardi, 2023-06-15 Reframing Aristotle's natural philosophy this wide ranging collection of essays reveals the centrality of magic to his thinking From late medieval and Renaissance discussions on the attribution of magical works to Aristotle to the philosophical and social justifications of magic international contributors chart magic as the mother science of natural philosophy Tracing the nascent presence of Aristotelianism in early modern Europe this volume shows the adaptability and openness of Aristotelianism to magic Weaving the paranormal and the scientific together it pairs the supposed superstition of the pre modern era with modern scientific sensibilities Essays focus on the work of early modern scholars and magicians such as Giambattista Della Porta Wolferd Senguerd and Johann Nikolaus Martius The attribution of the Secretum secretorum to Aristotle the role of illusionism and the relationship between the technical and magical all provide further insight into the complex picture of magic Aristotle and early modern Europe Aristotelianism and Magic in Early Modern Europe proposes an innovative way of approaching the development of pre modern science whilst also acknowledging the crucial role that concepts like magic and illusion played in Aristotle s time

Doing Experimental Media Archaeology Andreas Fickers, Annie Oever, 2022-12-31 This book offers a plea to take the materiality of media technologies and the sensorial and tacit dimensions of media use into account in the writing of the histories of media and technology In short it is a bold attempt to question media history from the perspective of an experimental media archaeology approach It offers a systematic reflection on the value and function of hands on experimentation in research and teaching Doing Experimental Media Archaeology Theory is the twin volume to Doing Experimental Media Archaeology Practice authored by Tim van der Heijden and Aleksander Kolkowski

Wonder Shows Fred Nadis, 2005-01-13 In Wonder Shows Fred Nadis offers a colorful history of these traveling magicians inventors popular science lecturers and other presenters of miracle science who revealed science and technology to the public in awe inspiring fashion The book provides an innovative synthesis of the history of performance with a wider study of culture science and religion from the antebellum period to the present

Cinema and Secularism Mark Cauchi, 2023-12-14 Cinema and Secularism is the first collection to make the relationship between cinema and secularism thematic utilizing a number of different methodological approaches to examine their identification and differentiation across film theory film aesthetics film history and throughout global cinema The emergence of moving images and the history of cinema historically coincide with the emergence of secularism as a concept and discourse More than historically coinciding however cinema and secularism would seem to have and many contemporary theorists and critics seem to assume a more intrinsic almost ontological connection to each other While early film theorists and critics explicitly addressed questions about secularism religion and cinema once the study of film was professionalized and secularized in the Western academy in both film studies and religious studies explicit and critical attention to the relationship between cinema and secularism rapidly declined Indeed if one canvases film scholarship today one will find barely any works dedicated to thinking critically about the relationship between cinema and secularism Extending the recent secular turn in the humanities and social sciences Cinema and Secularism provokes critical reflection on its titular concepts Making contributions to theory philosophy criticism and history the chapters in this pioneering volume collectively interrogate the assumption that cinema is secular how secularism is conceived and related to cinema differently in different film cultures and whether the world is disenchanted or enchanted in cinema Coming from intellectually diverse backgrounds in film studies religious studies and philosophy the interdisciplinary contributors to this book cover films and traditions of thought from America Europe Africa the Middle East South Asia and East Asia In these ways Cinema and Secularism opens new areas of inquiry in the study of film and contributes to the ongoing interrogation of secularism more broadly
