in the Pacific Northwest based on his wildly popular Outside Magazine piece Wit's End isn't just a state of mind. It's the name of a gravel road, the address of a run-down off-the-grid cabin, 120 shabby square feet of fixer-upper Patrick Hutchison purchased on a whim in the mossy woods of the Cascade Mountains in Washington state. To say Hutchison didn't know what he was getting into is no more an exaggeration than to say he's a man with nearly zero carpentry skills. Well, used to be. You can learn a lot over six years of renovations. CABIN is the story of those renovations, but it's also a love story of a place of possibilities and of the process of construction of seeing what could be instead of what is. It is a book for those who know what it's like to bite off more than you can chew or who desperately wish to.
