Curriculum Responsiveness In Fet Colleges:

Curriculum Responsiveness in FET Colleges Jeanne Gamble, 2003 Examining the curriculum shift from vocational education and training VET to further education and training FET this book explores the complex challenges facing curriculum development in continuing education and vocational schools in South Africa The new strategic direction detailed here offers pre employed employed and unemployed workers different kinds of training to be competitive in a difficult labour market Particular attention is paid to lessons learned and problems experienced in other countries that can be applied to the current South African context Technical College Responsiveness Michael Cosser, 2003 This text analyses how technical colleges have responded to the emerging field of further education and training FET in South Africa The data and theories presented are the result of research conducted by the Human Sciences Research Council including surveys of technical college graduates and employers on their satisfaction with college graduates and institutional profiles of local labor markets The international case studies of vocational and technical education demonstrate the interrelatedness of education and training systems Praxis towards sustainable empowering learning environments in South Africa Dennis Francis, Sechaba Mahlomaholo, Milton Nkoane, 2010-01-01 This collection presents some of the best peer reviewed papers from a conference with the theme Creating sustainable empowering learning environments through scholarship of engagement FET Colleges South Africa. Department of Education, 2007 Critical Conversations on Knowledge, Curriculum and Epistemic Justice Margaret Blackie, Kathy Luckett, 2024-12-03 This edited collection that celebrates the legacy of Suellen Shay is located in Higher Education Studies and Development in South Africa the country where she lived and worked The book has international reach as the authors engage in contemporary debates around how to think about knowledge in education development work in professional education and more recently around the call to decolonise the curriculum Contributions draw on the social realist tradition in the sociology of education to discuss how curricula are or should be structured in order to make key forms of knowledge accessible to students The collection includes theoretical debates related to the field of higher education studies as well as chapters that analyse curricula and assessment in engineering the health professions tourism and music including the impact on curricula of interdisciplinary collaboration across different types of institution and knowledge This book will be important for scholars wanting to transform how universities and colleges think about curriculum design and practice It was originally published as a special issue of Teaching in Higher Education A scholarly inquiry into disciplinary practices in educational institutions Connie B. Zulu, Izak J. Oosthuizen, Charl C. Wolhuter, Corene de Wet, Rika Joubert, Ansie E. Kitching, Michael L. Marumo, Zahraa McDonald, Nicholas T. Mollo, Louis J. Oosthuizen, Ferdinand J. Potgieter, Bianke van Rooyen, Marius H. Smit, Amos T. Thebenyane, Andre van der Bijl, Johannes (Hannes) L. van der Walt, 2019-12-12 This book is a collection of chapters based on original research dealing with issues of discipline and disciplinary practices in educational institutions The aim of the book is to provide a scholarly and scientific perspective on the current state of discipline and disciplinary practices in schools and tertiary education settings The issue of discipline is investigated from diverse paradigmatic and methodological perspectives presenting empirical as well as also philosophical research The empirical perspective includes quantitative positivistic qualitative interpretive and mixed methods pragmatic designs and worldviews This book offers a ground breaking contribution to the field of learner and student discipline with insights into disciplinary practices and issues in educational institutions not hitherto researched such as Technical Vocational Education and Training colleges and universities Change Management in TVET Colleges Andre Kraak, Andrew Paterson, 2016-07-25 The Technical and Vocational Education and Training TVET college environment is marked by increasingly stark juxtapositions between what needs to be achieved in the post school education sector and the increasing difficulty of current conditions The triple challenge of poverty inequality and unemployment weighs heavily on the social political and economic fabric of the country and expectations are high that the TVET colleges can make a pivotal contribution to counter these challenges Despite laudable increases in TVET enrolment the education system needs to work harder to accommodate the weight of demand for post school further education and training FET band qualifications from young people not in education employment or training At the same time it is vital to secure adequate quality in TVET programmes which depend so much on the competence and commitment of college lecturers Agricultural, Biosystems, and Biological Engineering Education Umezuruike Linus Opara, 2024-09-30 Agricultural engineering developed as an engineering discipline underpinned by physics applies scientific principles knowledge and technological innovations in the agricultural and food industries During the last century there was exponential growth in engineering developments which has improved human wellbeing and radically changed how humans interact with each other and our planet Among these Agricultural Mechanization is ranked among the top 10 in a list of 20 Top Engineering Achievements of the last century that have had the greatest impact on the quality of life While many success stories abound the problems of low appeal among students identity crises and limited job opportunities in many climes continue to trouble the discipline s future in many parts of the world Yet agriculture and agricultural engineering remain fundamental to assuring food and nutrition security for a growing global population Agricultural Biosystems and Biological Engineering Education provides the first comprehensive global review and synthesis of different agricultural biosystems and biological engineering education approaches including a detailed exposition of current practices from different regions Key Features Describes novel approaches to curriculum design and reform Outlines current and emerging epistemology and pedagogies in ABBE education Provides a framework to grow agricultural engineering in Africa and other developing regions Highlights the role of ABBE education in the context of the SDGs Presented in 3 parts and containing 42 chapters this book covers the historical evolution of agricultural engineering education and discusses the emergence of biological and biosystems engineering education It will appeal to engineers and other professionals education planners and administrators and policy makers in agriculture and other biological industries

Shifting Understandings of Skills in South Africa Simon A. McGrath, 2004 The South African preoccupation with worker skills and skills acquisition is addressed and analyzed in this compilation of essays on the multiple and shifting meanings of the word skill within the country

New South African Review 3 Stephanie Allais, Prishani Naidoo, Devan Pillay, Roger Southall, 2013-03-01 An evaluation of the ANC's second phase of the national democratic revolution In the face of the continuing national tragedy of the inequality poverty and unemployment which have triggered rising working class discontent around the country the ANC announced a second phase of the national democratic revolution to deal with the challenges Ironically the ANC post Mangaung has resolved to preserve the core tenets of the minerals energy financial complex that defined racial capitalism while at the same time ratcheting up the revolutionary rhetoric to keep the working class and marginalised on the side. If the first phase was a tragedy of the unmet expectations of the majority, the second phase is likely to be a farce. The chapters in this volume are written by experts in their fields and address issues of politics, power and social class, economy, ecology and labour, public policy and social practice and South Africa beyond its borders. They examine some of these challenges and indicate that they are as much about the defective content of policies as their poor implementation. The third volume of the New South African Review continues the series by providing in-depth analyses of the key issues facing the country today.

Identifying Potential for Equitable Access to Tertiary Level Science Marissa Rollnick, 2010-07-20

Higher education internationally is in a state of transition and transformation leading to an increase in the level of participation and a consequent increase in the number of non-traditional and underprepared students. The appearance of these students provides a particular challenge in the sciences where adequate grounding is crucial. One response to this challenge has been the provision of access, foundation or second-chance programmes which operate on different models internationally. In South Africa, where the push for equity is strong in the wake of the apartheid era, programmes have generally been established at all tertiary institutions with some of the most successful of these programmes based at universities characterised by a high research output. Consequently, in the last decade, there has been a great deal of research into the effectiveness of these programmes both at a micro and macro level. Similar research in other countries exists but is patchy and often based on small groups of students. This book provides valuable information on what research has to say about disadvantaged and underprepared science students and how they learn, what works and what does not work. It provides an examination of issues related to the programmes, their structure, student selection and adjustment. Issues such as the learning of these students, their communicative ability and laboratory work come under the spotlight. Although examining the issue internationally, the book draws heavily on lessons from South Africa where there has been considerable experience of such programmes.

Changing Curriculum Jonathan D. Jansen, Pam Christie, 1999

The introduction of Outcomes-based Education (OBE) is the most controversial reform in the history of South African education. This volume is a critical analysis of OBE, its potential to succeed and its inherent implications for the education system.

Vocational Education and Training Through Open and Distance Learning Louise Moran, Greville Rumble, 2004-08-02

Conventional apprenticeships and older methods of professional training are not providing enough skilled workers. Governments, companies and colleges are now using open and distance learning to fill these gaps. Published in association with the Commonwealth of Learning, this unique review provides detailed analysis of worldwide experiences of vocational training and distance education. It looks at recent policy and practice at different levels, from transnational programmes and national policies to institutional and programme models. Offering guidance on how distance education and new technologies are being used to support vocational education and training, this book will help senior institutional managers and policy makers to understand and appreciate the role distance education can play in increasing skills levels in young people and the existing workforce the challenges in using educational technologies and distance education to deliver vocational education and training how to devise effective policies to meet these challenges     Curriculum Theory, Curriculum Theorising, and the Theoriser ,2020-12-29 Curriculum studies is at the core of the educational endeavour and informs what happens in every educational institution As a result of its criticality or primacy every educational practitioner appears to claim expertise in curriculum matters and what direction the field should take In Africa the curriculum practitioner has been given little or no space to theorise and orient the future of the field in Africa Instead European and American curriculum theorists have been allowed to exert a marked influence on the nature and direction of African theoretical and philosophical underpinnings This situation raises fundamental questions about the future of education in Africa and this volume explores and answers these questions relating to curriculum theory theorising and the theoriser by breaking traditions and experimenting on alternative approaches and pathways Contributors are Aruna Ankiah Gangadeen Lynn Biggs Eunice Champion Taryn Isaacs De Vega Kehdinga George Fomunyam Nadaraj Govender Angela James Simon Bheki Khoza Noma China Kubashe Nehemiah Latolla Jacqui L ck Dumisa Celumusa Mabuza Simeon Maile Suriamurthee Maistry Makhulu A Makumane Zvisinei Moyo Cedric Bheki Mpungose Pascal Nadal Blanche Ntombizodwa Ndlovu Christopher Ndlovu Emily Mangwaya Ndlovu Nellie Ngcongco James Deirdre Pratt Mukhtar Raban Nolundi Radana Makhosazana Edith Shoba Mahlapahlapana Themane Molaodi Tshelane and Denise Zinn
