Developing Thinking In Statistics Published In Association With The Open University:

Developing Thinking in Statistics Alan Graham, 2006-03-03 This book should prove to be an important addition to the relatively few publications that exist on statistical thinking. It very nicely encourages the reader to take an active learning approach through simultaneously promoting pedagogy with knowledge and skills enhancement in statistics. Understanding what the subject is for and what it can do are crucial in statistical education by getting the reader to think statistically. Mr Graham has provided us with a very readable book that helps to dispel the poor reputation that statistics has acquired over many years. Professor Neville Davies, Director Royal Statistical Society Centre for Statistical Education, Nottingham Trent University. Statistics is a key area of the school mathematics curriculum where maths and the real world meet. Although potentially a subject where teaching can be motivating and relevant to everyday concerns, it is often seen as boring and involving largely mechanical calculations. This book will enable teachers and others interested in statistical thinking to become excited and inspired by the big ideas of statistics and in turn teach them enthusiastically. Designed to heighten awareness of statistical ideas, the book explores key themes within statistics using ideas developed by the influential team at The Open University's Centre for Mathematics Education. Themes include Measurement, Variation, Randomness, Uncertainty. Arranged in an accessible task-based format, this is an essential text for all secondary maths teachers and students of maths education. It is a comprehensive book that will illuminate and inspire interest in the subject based on innovative use of ICT, engaging narrative, firm research and good practice. Developing Thinking in Statistics is a set book on the Open University Course ME626 Developing Statistical Thinking, part of the Graduate Diploma in Mathematics Education.

Using Thinking Skills in the Primary Classroom Peter Kelly, 2004-12-21 The good practice points add depth to the practical nature of this book and clearly set out its intention to provide reflection for teachers to extend their own skills and practice. Jan Baker, Head Teacher of Orchard Vale Community School. Thoughtfully written and certainly of value to trainee teachers and those already teaching in school. National Association for Gifted Children Newsletter. Most children already display a range of thinking skills when they communicate with each other and when they talk about their interests, whether those are soap operas or car engines, and this book presents an approach for classroom practice that will encourage teachers to build on the often quite sophisticated thinking skills the children in their class already have. The author highlights points for good practice, suggests some lesson ideas and builds in opportunities for professional reflection. Advice on the following is included: classroom organization, approaches to collaborative groupwork, developing children's and teachers' speaking and listening skills building on the thinking skills that children of all abilities display using questioning techniques to promote thinking skills in the classroom whole school issues Each chapter ends with a summary of key points and there is some photocopiable material included All teachers teaching assistants and those co ordinating the learning of gifted and talented pupils will find this book thought provoking stimulating and inspiring Creative Maths Activities for Able Students Anne Price,2006-04-18 All the ideas look easy to use and quick to prepare This is a very interesting and thought provoking book it manages to ask questions about how we teach able children but also provides some ideas and some materials to help The Association of Teachers of Mathematics Finding stimulating and challenging maths activities for able pupils in a mainstream classroom can be demanding for the busy teacher especially if maths is not your specialism Based on her experience as an Advanced Skills Teacher and LEA Consultant Anne Price explains the issues and theories surrounding the education of able pupils and links these to practical creative examples to be used in the classroom Useful resources include Photocopiable materials Advice on different teaching styles Activities and tasks for individuals groups or the whole class GATCOs Numeracy Consultants Learning Support Teachers and Student and class teachers looking for new and creative ways of teaching maths activities to able students will find this book invaluable Learning to Teach Mathematics in the Secondary School Sue Johnston-Wilder,Clare Lee,David Pimm,2010-09-13 What is the role of mathematics in the secondary classroom What is expected of a would be maths teacher How is mathematics best taught and learnt Learning to Teach Mathematics in the Secondary School combines theory and practice to present a broad introduction to the opportunities and challenges of teaching mathematics in the modern secondary school classroom Written specifically with the new and student teacher in mind the book covers a wide range of issues related to the teaching of mathematics including The role of ICT Assessment for Learning NEW Using mathematics in context NEW Communicating mathematically Planning mathematics lessons Including special needs pupils Teaching mathematics post 16 Professional Development Already a major text for many university teaching courses this fully revised third edition takes into account new developments in the National Curriculum as well as recent changes to the standards for Qualified Teacher Status Featuring two brand new chapters a glossary of useful terms addresses for resources and organisations and tasks designed to prompt critical reflection and support thinking and writing at Masters level this book will help you make the most of school experience during your training and beyond Designed for use as a core textbook this new edition of Learning to Teach Mathematics in the Secondary School provides essential guidance and advice for all trainee and practising teachers of secondary mathematics Developing Thinking in Geometry Sue Johnston-Wilder,John Mason,2005-09-14 Developing Thinking In Geometry has been constructed to enable teachers and their support staff to experience and to teach geometric thinking to pupils aged 7 16 years
