Special Committee on Aging, 2009     Nursing Homes, 2006     Losing A Million Minds Office of Technology Assessment, 2002-09

Prepared at the request of several committees of Congress this report discusses the medical social political and financial aspects of dementia in the elderly and assesses the impact of these diseases on the Nation The U S Office of Technology Assessment published this first government report on Alzheimer's disease in 1987     Losing a million minds : confronting the tragedy of Alzheimer's disease and other dementias., 1987     Dementia in Nursing Homes Sandra Schüssler, Christa Lohrmann, 2017-05-19 Written by leading international experts this book discusses the latest advances in the field of dementia in nursing homes The topics and findings covered are based on their survey and on a scientific literature review Dementia is spreading worldwide placing a growing burden on healthcare systems and caregivers as well as those affected With increasing and complex care needs nursing home admission is often necessary Globally over half of nursing home residents suffer from dementia The book provides essential information on the most important issues in dementia in nursing homes today including meaningful activities patient person centered care psychosocial interventions challenging behavior inclusion and support of family members pain staff training and education communication polypharmacy quality of life end of life care and advanced care planning depression delirium multidisciplinary approaches physical restraints and care dependency Each topic is covered by an international expert in dementia As such the book will appeal to professional nurses nursing scientists nursing students other healthcare professionals and to a broad readership and will provide a valuable resource for those working in nursing homes as well as researchers in the field      National Directory of Educational Programs in Gerontology, 1991      Practical Psychiatry in the Long-Term Care Home David K Conn, Nathan Herrmann, Alanna Kaye, Dmytro Rewilak, Barbara Schogt, 2007-05-01 This is a practical book aimed at providing training and guidance for staff members in long term care facilities The goal is to help staff understand and solve the wide range of psychiatric and behavioral problems which are encountered on a day to day basis Numerous clinical illustrations are presented This material is invaluable for all team members nurses physicians social workers psychologists and occupational therapists It is especially helpful for frontline health aids who work most closely with the residents and for supervisors and administrators As a result it also serves as a useful tool for teaching students The emphasis is on training all members of the staff to provide the highest quality of care in the most cost effective and productive manner The authors have worked together for many years at the Baycrest Centre for Geriatric Care a large university affiliated multilevel geriatric center which has an international reputation for its excellence in the care of the elderly      Multilingual Interaction and Dementia Charlotta Plejert, Camilla Lindholm, Robert W. Schrauf, 2017-04-12 This book brings together international linguistic research with a focus on interaction in multilingual encounters involving people with dementia in care and healthcare settings The methodologies used Conversation Analysis Ethnography and Discursive Constructionism capture practices on the micro level revealing how very subtle details may be of critical importance for the everyday well being of participants with dementia particularly in settings and contexts where there is a lack of a common verbal language of interlocutors or where language abilities have been lost as a result of dementia Chapters analyse the practices and actions employed by interlocutors to facilitate mutual understanding enhance high quality social relations and assure optimal care and treatment in spite of language and cognitive difficulties with an emphasis put on the participants remaining capacities and what can be achieved between people with dementia and their interlocutors in a collaborative fashion This book goes beyond the study of two party communication to address multiparty and group interactions which are common in residential care and other healthcare settings and will be of interest to professionals and policy makers as well as to medical sciences and linguistics researchers and students      Universal Coverage of Long-Term Care in the United States Douglas A. Wolfe, Nancy Folbre, 2012-09-01 As millions of baby boomers retire and age in the coming years more American families will confront difficult choices about the long term care of their loved ones The swelling ranks of the disabled and elderly who need such care including home care adult day care or a nursing home stay are faced with a strained inequitable and expensive system How will American society and policy adapt to this demographic transition In Universal Coverage of Long Term Care in the United States editors Nancy Folbre and Douglas Wolf and an expert group of care researchers assess the current U S long term care policies and exercise what can be learned from other countries facing similar care demands After the high profile suspension of the Obama Administration s public long term insurance program in 2011 Robert Hudson and Howard Gleckman provide concrete suggestions for lowering the cost and improving the quality of long term care coverage in America In a deeply personal and empirically rigorous analysis family care expert Carol Levine draws crucial lessons from her experience as a caregiver for her ailing husband She sheds light on the often fraught interactions that occur between the formal care system and family caregivers and analyzes how public policy can best support long term family care The volume next examines recent reforms in other developed countries and finds valuable lessons for American policy makers Contributors David Bell and Alison Bowes discuss the provision of personal care services in Scotland which have been publicly financed since 2002 Their analysis shows that the new program reduced costs improved efficiency and allowed more recipients to receive care The volume assesses the political and institutional prospects for moving towards a truly universal long term care system in the United States Robyn Stone provides a sobering overview of the formal paid long term care workforce in America which is in crisis due to increasing demand and a shortage of qualified workers Economist Leonard Burman focuses on public finances of the long term care system which will come under increasing strain as more Americans rely on Medicaid to pay for their long term care In the volume s concluding chapter Folbre and Wolf summarize criticisms of existing long term care policies and outline particular reforms that can move the United States toward a universal system of long term care insurance Universal Coverage of Long Term Care in the United States provides an essential resource on how to improve the long term care sector in America and helps advance the national debate on this pressing topic This volume is available for free download on the Foundation s website as are the volume s individual chapters

Care Work in Europe Claire Cameron, Peter Moss, 2007-09-06 This groundbreaking comparative study provides a cross national and cross sectoral study of care work in Europe today covering policy provision and practice It provokes much needed new thinking about the current situation and future direction of care work
