

Easy III Power/Communications Module

Power/Com Module Overview

The Power-Communications (Power/Com) Module is the central connection point for the Easy III and computer hardware for power supply and information exchange. The amplifier and photic stimulator hardware plug into the power/com module, and the PC connects to the Power/Com Module with an Ethernet cable to communicate with the amplifier and photic stimulator.

Easy III Power/Com Placement

The Power/Communications module connects the Easy III amplifier to its host computer.

- In a cart configuration, the Power/Communications Module can be mounted to the cart with a Power/Communications Module Holder Kit, placing it in proximity to the devices it connects to: the PC, the Easy III Amplifier, and the Isolation Transformer. The Power/Communications Module also utilizes a grounding wire, which attaches to the cart.
- The Power/Communications module can also be placed adjacent to the patient on a night stand or on the floor.

Note: Verify the power communication module is placed in a location where the patient will not trip or become entangled in the wires.
