- 16) A patient is to receive Pitocin at 15 microgtt/min. The solution contains 10 U Pitocin in 1,000 mL D5W. Calculate the number of units of Pitocin the patient is receiving per hour.

$$15\text{microgtt/min} \times 60\text{min} = 900\text{microgtt/h}$$

$$\frac{900\text{microgtt}}{60\text{microgtt}} = \frac{1\text{mL}}{60\text{microgtt}} = 60X = \frac{900\text{microgtt}}{60\text{microgtt}} = 15\text{mL/h}$$

$$\frac{10\text{U}}{1000\text{mL}} = \frac{1000\text{mL}}{1000\text{mL}} = 1000X = \frac{150\text{U}}{1000\text{U/mL}} = 0.15\text{U/h}$$

Fetal Heart Rate Monitoring Wolfgang Künzel, 2012-12-06 In the past decade fetal heart rate monitoring has become a generally accepted method for fetal surveillance during pregnancy and labor Although its importance has been doubted recently I personally feel that this method has become an important obstetric tool It has not only improved our knowledge about fetal behavior and fetal condition throughout gestation but it has especially improved fetal surveillance during labor the most dangerous period of human life has never been as safe as nowadays The only people who can question the advantage of fetal heart rate monitoring are those who did not experience the period before fetal heart rate monitoring was generally introduced The first paper on the history of fetal heart rate monitoring takes us back to the beginning of fetal surveillance and provides an introduction to the different aspects of fetal observation which are covered later in this volume Common practices of fetal surveillance in different countries are discussed and the paths that future developments will take are suggested An outline of the physiological aspects of fetal heart rate regulation is followed by discussion of the pathophysiology with which the obstetrician is very often confronted
