The syllabus content that follows is divided into three sections: Biology (B1–B13), Chemistry (C1–C14) and Physics (P1–P8). Candidates must study all three sections.

All candidates should be taught the Core syllabus content. Candidates who are only taught the Core syllabus content can achieve a maximum of grade CC. Candidates aiming for grades A*–A* to CC should be taught the Extended syllabus content. The Extended syllabus content includes both the Core and the Supplement. Candidates should be made familiar with the information found in sections 7.1, 7.2, 7.3 and 7.4.

In delivering the course, teachers should aim to show the relevance of concepts to the learners' everyday lives and to the world around them. The syllabus content has been designed so as to allow teachers to develop flexible programmes which meet all of the general aims of the syllabus while drawing on appropriate local and international contexts.

Scientific subjects are, by their nature, experimental. Wherever possible, learners should pursue a fully integrated course which allows them to develop their practical skills by carrying out practical work and investigations within all of the topics listed.
