911 Statement

Calling 911 using a cell phone works differently than calling 911 on a land line. In order for a call to 911 emergency services to be able to provide your exact location, 911 services must be deployed in your area and you must have a GPS enabled and activated cell phone. Note: This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the FCC rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference to a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.
