House, 2015-12-11 The cross linguistic and cross cultural practice of translation is a field of rapidly growing international importance World renowned experts offer new and multidisciplinary insights on this subject viewing translation as social action and intercultural communication and as a phenomenon of languages in contact and a socio cognitive process

Translation, interpreting, cognition Tra&Co Group, 2021 Cognitive aspects of the translation process have become central in Translation and Interpreting Studies in recent years further establishing the field of Cognitive Translatology Empirical and interdisciplinary studies investigating translation and interpreting processes promise a hitherto unprecedented predictive and explanatory power This collection contains such studies which observe behaviour during translation and interpreting The contributions cover a vast area and investigate behaviour during translation and interpreting with a focus on training of future professionals on language processing more generally on the role of technology in the practice of translation and interpreting on translation of multimodal media texts on aspects of ergonomics and usability on emotions self concept and psychological factors and finally also on revision and post editing For the present publication we selected a number of contributions presented at the Second International Congress on Translation Interpreting and Cognition hosted by the Tra Co Lab at the Johannes Gutenberg University of Mainz

Translation as Communication across Languages and Cultures Juliane House, 2015-10-30 In this interdisciplinary book Juliane House breaks new ground by situating translation within Applied Linguistics In thirteen chapters she examines translation as a means of communication across different languages and cultures provides a critical overview of different approaches to translation of the link between culture and translation and between views of context and text in translation Featuring an account of translation from a linguistic cognitive perspective House covers problematic issues such as the existence of universals of translation cases of untranslatability and ways and means of assessing the quality of a translation Recent methodological and research avenues such as the role of corpora in translation and the effects of globalization processes on translation are presented in a neutral non biased manner The book concludes with a thorough historical account of the role of translation in foreign language learning and teaching and a discussion of new challenges and problems of the professional practice of translation in our world today Written by a highly experienced teacher and researcher in the field Translation as Communication across Languages and Cultures is an essential resource for students and researchers of Translation Studies Applied Linguistics and Communication Studies

Research and Professional Practice in Specialised Translation Federica Scarpa, 2020-09-18 Specialised translation has received very little attention from academic researchers but in fact accounts for the bulk of professional translation on a global scale and is taught in a growing number of university level translation programmes This book aims to provide three things Firstly it offers a description of what makes the approach to specialised translation distinctive from wider ranging approaches to Translation Studies adopted by translation scholars and applied linguists Secondly unlike the traditional approach to specialised translation this book explores a perspective on specialised translation that is much less focused on terminology and more on the function and reception of specialised translated texts Finally the author outlines a professionally oriented hands on approach to the teaching of specialised translation resulting from many years of teaching it to MA students The book will be of interest to Translation Studies students and scholars as well as professional translators who are interested in the theory on which their activity is based Research Methodologies in Translation Studies Gabriela Saldanha, Sharon O'Brien, 2014-04-08 As an interdisciplinary area of research translation studies attracts students and scholars with a wide range of backgrounds who then need to face the challenge of accounting for a complex object of enquiry that does not adapt itself well to traditional methods in other fields of investigation This book addresses the needs of such scholars whether they are students doing research at postgraduate level or more experienced researchers who want to familiarize themselves with methods outside their current field of expertise The book promotes a discerning and critical approach to scholarly investigation by providing the reader not only with the know how but also with insights into how new questions can be fruitfully explored through the coherent integration of different methods of research Understanding core principles of reliability validity and ethics is essential for any researcher no matter what methodology they adopt and a whole chapter is therefore devoted to these issues Research Methodologies in Translation Studies is divided into four different chapters according to whether the research focuses on the translation product the process of translation the participants involved or the context in which translation takes place An introductory chapter discusses issues of reliability credibility validity and ethics The impact of our research depends not only on its quality but also on successful dissemination and the final chapter therefore deals with what is also generally the final stage of the research process producing a research report The Pragmatic Translator Massimiliano Morini, 2013-01-01 Showcases a descriptive theory of translation based on pragmatics describing all processes and products of translation on the performative interpersonal and locative axes Teaching the Translation of Cultural Items Klaus Mundt, 2025-07-22 This book provides concrete pedagogical suggestions for teaching the translation of cultural items including so called untranslatables It is underpinned by sound educational theory and empirical data and sheds light onto a complex and under researched pedagogical area by testing the effectiveness of established teaching approaches The book adds to the repertoire of translation pedagogy by presenting elements of learner psychology positive psychology and humanistic education as vital parts of translator education in particular when engaging with the great challenge posed by the translation of cultural elements and learner barriers and anxieties The book argues that fostering knowledge building and training research skills will contribute to developing resilience and the ability to strategically engage with the challenge of translating cultural items in a holistic manner i e as contributors to a text s achievement At the same time it cautions educators against uncritical and exclusive subscription to specific pedagogical paradigms The book is of relevance to translation teachers and scholars as well those engaging in wider educational research revolving around complexity and threshold concepts It is of interest to translation students who would like to explore new perspectives in the area of practical translation of cultural items Translation Competence Carla Quinci, 2023-02-23 This book offers a systematic and comprehensive account of translation competence TC reflecting on its different models and conceptualisations throughout its development and outlining future directions for both theory and practice The volume charts the evolution of TC in line with related findings in empirical product and process oriented research In critically examining the different models of translation competence Quinci explores a wide range of connected issues of ongoing debate within Translation Studies including translation quality the revision process and translator self assessment The second section of the book investigates these themes at work in the design conduct and results of an award winning longitudinal research project which analysed the acquisition and development of TC in a sample group of translation trainees and professional translators The volume builds on the outcomes of this project to offer practical activities for translator education informed by theory and empirical research toward encouraging continued reflection and new directions for translation competence research and practice This book will be of interest to scholars in Translation Studies as well as translation trainees and active translation professionals

Quantitative Research Methods in Translation and Interpreting Studies Christopher Mellinger, Thomas Hanson, 2016-08-25 Quantitative Research Methods in Translation and Interpreting Studies encompasses all stages of the research process that include quantitative research methods from conceptualization to reporting In five parts the authors cover sampling techniques measurement and survey design how to describe data how to analyze differences how to analyze relationships how to interpret results Each part includes references to additional resources and extensive examples from published empirical work A quick reference table for specific tests is also included in the appendix This user friendly guide is the essential primer on quantitative methods for all students and researchers in translation and interpreting studies Accompanying materials are available online including step by step walkthroughs of how analysis was conducted and extra sample data sets for instruction and self study <https://www.routledge.com/9781138124967> Further resources for Translation and Interpreting Studies are available on the Routledge Translation Studies Portal <http://cw.routledge.com/textbooks/translationstudies>

The Role of Theory in Translator Training Daniela Di Mango, 2018-11-26 Translation study programs have always been torn between the expectations placed on them to provide students with a comprehensive education at an academic level but at the same time to prepare them for the demands of the professional translation market There is furthermore an ongoing debate about a supposed gap between translation theory and practice Several often opposing claims have been put forward concerning the usefulness of theory to professionals and students and how and when to best implement theoretical courses in translation curricula The aim of this book is to provide an overview of the different opinions and expectations that have been put forward in the literature and to test some of these claims empirically on student subjects who have been trained with either a practical or a theoretical focus on translation It thus gives insights into the role of both theoretical and practical aspects in translator training and the ways in which each of them can contribute to the development of translation competence

Innovation and Expansion in Translation Process Research Isabel Lacruz, Riitta Jääskeläinen, 2018-01-15 Cognitive research in translation and interpreting has reached a critical threshold of maturity that is triggering rapid expansion along exciting new paths that potentially lead to deeper connections with other disciplines

Innovation and Expansion in Translation Process Research reflects this broadening scope and reach emphasizing ongoing methodological innovations diversification of research topics and questions and rich interactions with adjacent fields of research The contributions to the volume can be grouped within four loosely defined themes advances in traditional topics in translation process research including problems in translation translation competence or expertise and specialization of translators advances in research into the emotional or affective aspects of translating and translator training innovations in machine translation and post editing expansion of cognitively oriented translation studies to include editing processes and reception studies This timely volume highlights the burgeoning growth diversification and connectivity of translation process research

The Ashgate Handbook of Legal Translation Le Cheng,King Kui Sin,Wagner Anne,2016-04-01 This volume investigates advances in the field of legal translation both from a theoretical and practical perspective with professional and academic insights from leading experts in the field Part I of the collection focuses on the exploration of legal translatability from a theoretical angle Covering fundamental issues such as equivalence in legal translation approaches to legal translation and the interaction between judicial interpretation and legal translation the authors offer contributions from philosophical rhetorical terminological and lexicographical perspectives Part II focuses on the analysis of legal translation from a practical perspective among different jurisdictions such as China the EU and Japan offering multiple and pluralistic viewpoints This book presents a collection of studies in legal translation which not only provide the latest international research findings among academics and practitioners but also furnish us with a new approach to and new insights into the phenomena and nature of legal translation and legal transfer The collection provides an invaluable reference for researchers practitioners academics and students specialising in law and legal translation philosophy sociology linguistics and semiotics

Journalistic Translation Sabir Hasan Rasul, 2019-05-08 This volume painstakingly formulates a composite model of translation procedures that covers both linguistic and cultural aspects inherent in translation The model is based on an integration of three classic taxonomies of translation procedures proposed by influential translation scholars namely Vinay and Darbelnet 1995 Newmark 1988 and Dickins Hervey and Higgins 2002 2016 The book combines these three taxonomies into an integrated model and extends it effectively to identify patterns of translation procedures and overall strategies in English Kurdish translation of journalistic texts The book is a breakthrough in the field of journalistic translation between the two languages With a clear definition and exemplification of each translation procedure the importance of the model is that it is replicable for future descriptive translation studies and can be carried out in other language pairs and on other genres Moreover the model is comprehensive in nature and covers almost all translational changes and shifts that may occur in the translation process Thus this model of translation procedures transcends previous frameworks in such a way that prospective translation researchers will not need to go back to these older models of translation procedures
