Robert of Chester's Redaction of Euclid's Elements, the so-called Adelard II Version H.L. Busard,M. Folkerts,2012-12-06 The Latin Version II till now attributed to Adelard of Bath is edited here for the first time It was the most influential Euclid text in the Latin West in the 12th and 13th centuries As the large number of manuscripts and the numerous quotations in other scientific and philosophical texts show it was far better known than the three Euclid translations made from the Arabic in the 12th century Adelard of Bath version I Hermann of Carinthia Gerard of Cremona Version II became the basis of later reworkings in which the enunciations were taken over but new proofs supplied the most important text of this kind is the redaction made by Campanus in the late 1250s which became the standard Latin Euclid in the later Middle Ages The introduction deals with the questions of when and by whom version II was written Since Marshall Clagett s fundamental article 1953 it has been generally accepted that version II is one of three Euclid texts attributable to Adelard of Bath But a comparison of the text of version II with those of versions I and III yields little or no reason to assume that Adelard was the author of version II Version II must have been written later than version I and before version III its author was acquainted with Euclid texts of the Boethius tradition and with two of those transmitted from Arabic version I almost certainly by Adelard and the version by Hermann of Carinthia
