Catastrophe and Catharsis: Perspectives on Disaster and Redemption in German Culture and Beyond ,2015

Catastrophe and Catharsis Katharina Gerstenberger,Tanja Nusser,2015 Destroying human habitat and taking human lives disasters be they natural man made or a combination threaten large populations even entire nations and societies They also disrupt the existing order and cause discontinuity in our sense of self and our perceptions of the world To restore order not only must human beings be rescued and affected areas rebuilt but the reality of the catastrophe must also be transformed into narrative The essays in this collection examine representations of disaster in literature film and mass media in German and international contexts exploring the nexus between disruption and recovery through narrative from the eighteenth century to the present Topics include the Lisbon earthquake the Paris Commune the Hamburg and Dresden fire bombings in the Second World War nuclear disasters in Alexander Kluge s films the filmic aesthetics of catastrophe Yoko Tawada s lectures on the Fukushima disaster and Christa Wolf s novel St rfall in light of that same disaster Joseph Haslinger and the tsunami of 2004 traditions regarding avalanche disaster in the Tyrol and the problems and implications of defining disaster Contributors Carol Anne Costabile Heming Yasemin Dayioglu Y cel Janine Hartman Jan Hinrichsen Claudia Jerzak Lars Koch Franz Mauelshagen Tanja Nusser Torsten Pflugmacher Christoph Weber Katharina Gerstenberger is Professor and Chair of the Department of Languages and Literature at the University of Utah Tanja Nusser is DAAD Visiting Associate Professor of German at the University of Cincinnati The Cambridge Companion to the Literature of Berlin Andrew Webber,2017-03-09 This book provides an informative overview of literary developments in Berlin since 1750 with more detailed readings of exemplary key texts Transnationalism in Contemporary German-language Literature German Studies Association. Conference,2015 Investigates the concept of transnationalism and its significance in and for German language literature and culture German-Language Nature Writing from Eighteenth Century to the Present Gabriele Dürbeck,Christine Kanz,2024-05-11 This volume examines the topic of German language nature writing in a broad historical context spanning more than two centuries It brings together contributions on the debates of the category Nature Writing by numerous renowned international scholars It discusses literary texts of natural history nature exploration nature poetry perception and reflection by German speaking authors since the 18th century including texts by Ulrike Draesner and on Esther Kinsky s writing The book asks whether the here discussed texts can should or may also be labeled as Nature Writing and how this new perspective on German literary history might change traditional classifications such as Naturlyrik nature poetry in German literary history Disruption in the Arts Lars Koch,Tobias Nanz,Johannes Pause,2018-08-21 The volume examines from a comparative perspective the phenomenon of aesthetic disruption within the various arts in contemporary culture It assumes that the political potential of contemporary art is not solely derived from presenting its audiences with openly political content but rather from creating a space of perception and interaction using formal means a space that makes hegemonic structures of action and communication observable thus problematizing their self evidence The contributions conceptualize historical and contemporary politics of form in the media which aim to be more than mere shock strategies which are concerned not just with the narcissistic exhibition of art as art but also with the creation of a new common horizon of experience They combine the analysis of paradigmatic works procedures and actions with reference to theoretical debates in the fields of literature media and art of the twentieth and twenty first centuries The essay collection shows how textual visual auditive or performative strategies disclose their own ways of functioning intervene in automated processes of reception and thus work on stimulating a sense of political possibilities The editors acknowledge support from the European Union s Seventh Framework Program FP 7 2007 2013 ERC grant agreement no 312454 Foreign Language Teaching and the Environment Charlotte Ann Melin, 2019-10-01 At a time when environmental humanities and sustainability studies are creating new opportunities for curricular innovation this volume examines factors key to successful implementation of cross curricular initiatives in language programs Contributors discuss theoretical issues pertinent to combining sustainability studies with foreign languages describe curricular models transferable to a range of instructional contexts and introduce program structures supportive of teaching cultures and languages across the curriculum Exploring the intersection of ecocritical theory second language acquisition research and disciplinary fields these essays demonstrate ways in which progressive language departments are being reconceived as relevant and viable programs of cross disciplinary studies They provide an introduction to teaching sustainability and environmental humanities topics in language literature and culture courses as well as a wide range of resources for teachers and diverse stakeholders in areas related to foreign language education

Border-Crossing Japanese Literature Akiko Uchiyama, Barbara Hartley, 2023-07-21 This collection focuses on metaphorical as well as temporal and physical border crossing in writing from and about Japan With a strong consciousness of gender and socio historic contexts contributors to the book adopt an intercultural and interdisciplinary approach to examine the writing of authors whose works break free from the confines of hegemonic Japanese literary endeavour By demonstrating how the texts analysed step outside the space of Japan they accordingly foreground the volatility of textual expression related to that space The authors discussed include Takahashi Mutsuo and Nagai Kaf both of whom take literary inspiration from geographical sites outside Japan Several chapters examine the work of exemplary border crossing poet novelist and essayist It Hiromi There are discussions of the work of Tawada Y ko whose ability to publish in German and Japanese marks her also as a representative writer of border crossing texts Two chapters address works by Murakami Haruki who although clearly affiliating with western cultural form is rarely discussed in specific border crossing terms The chapter on Ainu narratives invokes topics such as translation indigeneity and myth while an analysis of Japanese prisoner of war narratives notes the language and border crossing nexus A vital collection for scholars and students of Japanese literature

Library. Research Libraries,1997 Catastrophe and Identity in Post-War German Literature ,2005 The purpose of this study is to examine selected German literature dealing with issues of history and identity in light of the catastrophic reshaping of society after World War II and reunification The research process will involve an examination of selected authors and their works that are most relevant to the topic In order to provide a clear understanding not only of important literary themes but also of the appropriate historical context attention will be devoted to providing biographical information in addition to critical literary analysis Because this study is primarily historical in nature context is important for determining a given author s possible motives in writing The research will not only provide a better understanding of how history and identity have been addressed in modern German literature identifying common and recurring themes in significant periods but also demonstrate the value of using fiction in historical research The Language of Silence Ernestine Schlant,2004-11-23 Focusing on individual authors from Heinrich Boll to Gunther Grass Hermann Lenz to Peter Schneider The Language of Silence offers an analysis of West German literature as it tries to come to terms with the Holocaust and its impact on postwar West German society Exploring postwar literature as the barometer of Germany s unconsciously held values as well as of its professed conscience Ernestine Schlant demonstrates that the confrontation with the Holocaust has shifted over the decades from repression circumvention and omission to an open acknowledgement of the crimes Yet even today a language of silence remains since the victims and their suffering are still overlooked and ignored Learned and exacting Schlant s study makes an important contribution to our understanding of postwar German culture Sadness and Melancholy in German-language Literature and Culture Mary Cosgrove,Anna Richards,2012 Focusing on Sadness and Melancholy in German language Literature and Culture volume 6 investigates the often subversive function and meaning of sadness and melancholy in German language literature and culture from the seventeenth century to the present where arguably it has fallen from the heights of melancholy genius and artistic creativity of earlier epochs to become the embarrassing other of a Western civilization that prizes happiness as the mark of successful modern living Interrogating the distinction between sadness as an anthropological constant and melancholy as a shifting cultural discourse the contributions explore how different authors use established literary and cultural topoi from melancholy discourses to comment on topics as diverse as war religion gender inequality and modernity As well as essays on canonical figures including Goethe and Thomas Mann the volume features studies of sadness in lesser known writers such as Betty Paoli and Julia Schoch From publisher s website Sympathy for the Abyss Stephen D. Dowden,1986 No detailed description available for Sympathy for the Abyss Suicide in East German Literature Robert Blankenship,2017 The many fictional suicides in the literature of the German Democratic Republic have been greatly misunderstood The common assumption is that authoritarian oppression in East Germany led to an anomalous abundance of real suicides so that fictional suicides in GDR literature constitute a simple realistic reflection of East German society Robert Blankenship challenges this assumption by providing both a history of suicide in GDR literature and close readings of individual texts revealing that suicides in GDR literature rather than simply reflecting historical suicides contain rich literary attributes such as intertextuality haunting epistolarity and unorthodox narrative strategies Such literariness offered subversive potential beyond suggesting that real people killed themselves in a communist country This first book length study of fictional suicides in East German literature provides insight into the complex and dynamic rhetoric of the GDR Blankenship s underlying claim is that GDR literature ought to be read as literature with literary methodology not despite the country s politically and rhetorically charged nature but precisely because of it Suicide in East German Literature will be of interest to scholars of GDR literature humanities oriented scholars of suicide and those who are interested in the complex relationship between literature and history ROBERT BLANKENSHIP is Assistant Professor of German at California State University Long Beach Early References to "Storm and Stress" in German Literature, by Edwin H.
