Dostoevsky Rowan Williams,2008-01-01 Rowan Williams explores the intricacies of speech fiction metaphor and iconography in the works of one of literature s most complex and most misunderstood authors Williams investigation focuses on the four major novels of Dostoevsky s maturity Crime and Punishment The Idiot Devils and The Brothers Karamazov He argues that understanding Dostoevsky s style and goals as a writer of fiction is inseparable from understanding his religious commitments Any reader who enters the rich and insightful world of Williams Dostoevsky will emerge a more thoughtful and appreciative reader for it Dostoevsky's Political Thought Richard Avramenko, Lee Trepanier,2013-05-23 Recognized as one of the greatest novelists of all time Fyodor Dostoevsky continues to inspire and instigate questions about religion philosophy and literature However there has been a neglect looking at his political thought its philosophical and religious foundations its role in nineteenth century Europe and its relevance for us today Dostoevsky s Political Thought explores Dostoevsky s political thought in his fictional and nonfictional works with contributions from scholars of political science philosophy history and Russian Studies From a variety of perspectives these scholars contribute to a greater understanding of Dostoevsky not only as a political thinker but also as a writer philosopher and religious thinker More Than

Communion Scott MacDougall,2015-05-21 The dominant contemporary model for ecclesiology theological views of the church itself is the ecclesiology of communion MacDougall argues that communion ecclesiologies are often marked by a problematic theological imagination of the future eschatology He argues further that as a result our ways of practising and being the church are not as robust as they might otherwise be Re imagining the church in the light of God s promised future then becomes a critical conceptual and practical task MacDougall presents a detailed exploration of what communion ecclesiologies are and some of the problems they raise He offers two case studies of such theologies by examining how distinguished theologians John Zizioulas and John Milbank understand the church and the future how these combine in their work and the conceptual and practical implications of their perspectives He then offers an alternative theological view and demonstrates the effects that such a shift would have In doing so MacDougall offers a proposal for recovering the more to communion and to ecclesiology to help us imagine a church that is not beyond the world as in Zizioulas or over against the world as in Milbank but in and for the world in love and service This concept is worked out in conversation with systematic theologians such as J rgen Moltmann Wolfhart Pannenberg and Johannes Baptist Metz and by engaging with a theology of Christian practices currently being developed by practical theologians such as Dorothy C Bass Craig Dykstra and those associated with their ongoing project The potential for the church to become an agent of discipleship love and service can best be realised when the church anticipates God s promised perfection in the full communion between God and humanity among human beings within human persons and between humanity and the rest of creation The Fellowship of the

Beatific Vision Norm Klassen,2016-11-09 In The Canterbury Tales Geoffrey Chaucer asks a basic human question How do we overcome tyranny His answer goes to the heart of a revolutionary way of thinking about the very end of human existence and the nature of created being His answer declared performatively over the course of a symbolic pilgrimage urges the view that humanity has an intrinsic need of grace in order to be itself In portraying this outlook Chaucer contributes to what has been called the palaeo Christian understanding of creaturely freedom Paradoxically genuine freedom grows out of the dependency of all things upon God In imaginatively inhabiting this view of reality Chaucer aligns himself with that other great poet theologian of the Middle Ages Dante Both are true Christian humanists They recognize in art a fragile opportunity not to reduce reality to a set of dogmatic propositions but to participate in an ever deepening mystery Chaucer effectively calls all would be members of the pilgrim fellowship that is the church to behave as artists interpretively responding to God in the finitude of their existence together

Idiot, Sojourning Soul Justin Rosolino, 2020-01-29 What is Christianity What is it supposed to be In a world where Trump Obama Putin and Lady Gaga all claim Christianity as their spiritual home it is not an easy question to answer Part memoir part historical theological analysis Idiot Sojourning Soul tells the story of one former skeptic's exploration of Christian spirituality Justin Rosolino was raised in a post Christian context where all gods were up for grabs and all truth claims equally dubious While studying political theory in college Justin found himself drawn to the writings of Augustine Kierkegaard and Martin Luther King Jr Much to his surprise he resonated with their profoundly Christian accounts of human nature desire lack and love With wit and scholarly precision Idiot examines Christianity's historical development from its ancient beginnings to its current and confounding condition The result is a must read for anyone who has ever wondered what Jesus was really up to and why contemporary Christianity bears so little semblance to its namesake

The Saving Mysteries of Jesus Christ Edgardo Colón-Emeric, Mark Gorman, 2019-09-04 Jesus is Lord This scandalous confession is an act of worship a pledge of allegiance a call to service and a saving act Yet who is Jesus Christ How should we understand his life his death his resurrection and his work of salvation This book offers a perspective from the Wesleyan tradition on these vital questions It introduces readers to christology the study of Christ The authors encourage readers to ponder the mystery of salvation at work in Christ's entire life and to make the confession Jesus is Lord their own

My God, My God Michael P. Jensen, 2013-06-14 Once upon a time it was not so difficult to believe Believing in God was like breathing It was a second sense of which people were hardly aware But in an age when our faith is mainly in science and technology is it possible to believe anymore Michael P Jensen takes a searching look at what makes us believe or not believe in God in this contemporary world He converses with troubled souls cranks crackpots and conspiracy theorists and even with the devil himself This entertaining and stimulating journey through the underworld of our beliefs will have you wondering whether things are always what they seem

Jesus in the Theology of Rowan Williams Brett Gray, 2016-11-17 Brett Gray traces the portrayal of Christ that emerges throughout Williams' diverse writings including in his engagements with literature and philosophy What emerges is a vision of Jesus that grows from the roots of the Christian tradition but is pronounced in a contemporary idiom and sensitive to modern concerns Although attentive to the broad sweep of the Christian tradition Williams Christology is also seen in this book to be a particular British artefact shaped in dialogue with thinkers such as Donald MacKinnon and Gillian Rose What is ultimately brought to the surface in this work is the profoundly hopeful if frequently under pronounced eschatology underlying Williams Christology Jesus is the last word changing creation's possibilities and summoning it into an endless and vivifying journey

Dostoevsky's Incarnational Realism Paul J. Contino, 2020-08-17 In this book Paul Contino offers a theological study of Dostoevsky's final novel The Brothers Karamazov He argues that incarnational realism animates the vision of the novel and the decisions and actions of its hero Alyosha Fyodorovich Karamazov The book takes a close look at Alyosha's mentor the Elder Zosima and the way his role as a confessor and his vision of responsibility to all for all develops and influences Alyosha The remainder of the study which serves as a kind of reader's guide to the novel follows Alyosha as he takes up the mantle of his elder develops as a monk in the world and at the end of three days ascends in his vision of Cana The study attends also to Alyosha's brothers and his ministry to them Mitya's struggle to become a new man and Ivan's anguished groping toward responsibility Finally Contino traces Alyosha's generative role with the young people he encounters and his final message of hope

Fyodor Dostoevsky, Walker Percy, and the Age of Suicide John F. Desmond, 2019-01-09 Fyodor Dostoevsky Walker Percy and the Age of Suicide is a study of the phenomenon of suicide in modern and post modern society as represented in the major fictional works of Fyodor Dostoevsky and Walker Percy In his study suicide is understood in both a literal and spiritual sense as referring to both the actual suicides in their works and to the broader social malaise of spiritual suicide or despair In the 19th century Dostoevsky called suicide the terrible question of our age For his part Percy understood 20th century Western culture as suicidal in both its social political and military behavior and in the deeper sense that its citizenry had suffered an ontological loss of self or deformation of being Likewise Thomas Merton called the 20th century an age of suicide

Theology and the Films of Terrence Malick Christopher B. Barnett, Clark J. Elliston, 2016-08-12 Terrence Malick is one of the most important and controversial filmmakers of the last few decades Yet his renown does not stem from box office receipts but rather from his inimitable cinematic vision that mixes luminous shots of nature dreamlike voiceovers and plots centered on enduring existential questions Although scholars have thoroughly examined Malick's background in philosophy they have been slower to respond to his theological concerns This volume is the first to focus on the ways in which Malick integrates theological inquiries and motifs into his films The book begins with an exploration of Malick's career as a filmmaker and shows how his Heideggerian interests relate to theology Further essays from established and up and coming scholars analyze seven of Malick's most prominent films Badlands 1973 Days of Heaven 1978 The Thin Red Line 1998 The New World 2005 The Tree of Life 2011 To the Wonder 2012 and Knight of Cups 2015 to show how his cinematic techniques point toward and overlap with principles of Christian theology. A thorough study of an iconic filmmaker, this book is an essential resource for students and scholars in the emerging field of religion and film.

Fundamental Theology Matthew L. Becker, 2024-01-25 Encyclopedic in scope, this book offers wide-ranging coverage of the foundational teachings and practices within the mainstream of the classical Christian tradition. It begins with their roots in the Scriptures and also branches out into Eastern and Western Christianity, ancient, medieval, and modern to the present day. Part I provides an overview of some of these routes, then presents an historical survey of Christianity's major traditions. Part II unpacks some of the character of that revelation, focusing particularly on epistemological and procedural questions. Finally, Part III looks at Christian theology in a university setting, the possibility and shape of theology as a university discipline, its major subfields, and its relations with humanities and the sciences, respectively.

Fundamental Theology: A Protestant Perspective 2nd edition includes a wide range of pedagogical features: each chapter begins with an outline, thesis statement, highlighted in bold, charts, and graphs, relevant headings and subheadings employed throughout the book, keywords, provides a survey of pertinent reference literature, questions for review and discussion, annotated suggestions for further reading.
