Emotional Intelligence As Reflected In Teacher Talk An Exploratory Reading:

Emotional Intelligence As Reflected in Teacher-Talk Bhavani Sanjeeviraja, 2013 Emotional Intelligence is gaining precedence in almost all fields of study. It has more scope and relevance in the field of education. A place where learners meet teachers. In this little world, interaction forms the medium of knowledge sharing and transfer. Failing to strike the right chord would lead to a faulty tune. This book would show some direction to the pedagogic world regarding the role of Emotional Intelligence and Teacher Talk. This book travels into the inner recess of the brain and comes out with simple solutions for the pedagogic world. Applying Critical Thinking and Analysis in Social Work Michaela Rogers, Dan Allen, 2019-04-08

This highly practical guidebook will help you develop the critical and analytical skills essential to your successful social work education and evidence-informed reflective practice. Key features include: Theoretical break-down and simplification of key theories; How to avoid common pitfalls; Activities to help you cement your learning; Case studies applicable in practice. This will support you right from the very beginning of your programme through to the end of your final placement and into practice. Developing Children's Critical Thinking through Picturebooks Mary Roche, 2014-07-25

This accessible text will show students and class teachers how they can enable their pupils to become critical thinkers through the medium of picturebooks. By introducing children to the notion of making meaning together through thinking and discussion, Roche focuses on carefully chosen picturebooks as a stimulus for discussion and shows how they can constitute an accessible multimodal resource for adding to literacy skills while at the same time developing in pupils a far wider range of literary understanding. By allowing time for thinking about and digesting the pictures as well as the text and then engaging pupils in classroom discussion, this book highlights a powerful means of developing children's oral language ability, critical thinking and visual literacy while also acting as a rich resource for developing children's literary understanding. Throughout, Roche provides rich data and examples from real classroom practice. This book also provides an overview of recent international research on doing interactive read-alouds, on what critical literacy means, on what critical thinking means, and on picturebooks themselves. Lecturers on teacher education courses for early years or primary levels, classroom teachers, pre-service education students, and all those interested in promoting critical engagement and dialogue about literature will find this an engaging and very insightful text. Reflective Teaching in Secondary Schools Andrew Pollard, Caroline

Daly, Katharine Burn, Steve Higgins, Aileen Kennedy, Margaret Mulholland, Jo Fraser-Pearce, Mary Richardson, Dominic Wyse, John Yandell, 2023-01-26 The book you can trust to guide you through your teaching career as the expert authors share tried and tested techniques in secondary settings.
