Sounding Imperial James Mulholland, 2013 Spoken words come alive in written verse In Sounding Imperial James Mulholland offers a new assessment of the origins evolution and importance of poetic voice in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries By examining a series of literary experiments in which authors imitated oral voices and impersonated foreign speakers Mulholland uncovers an innovative global aesthetics of poetic voice that arose as authors invented new ways of crafting textual voices and appealing to readers As poets drew on cultural forms from around Great Britain and across the globe impersonating primitive speakers and reviving ancient oral performances or fictionalizing them in verse they invigorated English poetry Mulholland situates these experiments with oral voices and foreign speakers within the wider context of British nationalism at home and colonial expansion overseas Sounding Imperial traces this global aesthetic by reading texts from canonical authors like Thomas Gray James Macpherson and Felicia Hemans together with lesser known writers like Welsh antiquarians Anglo Indian poets of colonialism and impersonators of Pacific islanders The frenetic borrowing movement and adaptation of verse of this time offers a powerful analytic by which scholars can understand anew poetry's role in the formation of national culture and the exercise of colonial power Sounding Imperial offers a more nuanced sense of poetry's unseen role in larger historical processes emphasizing not just appropriation or collusion but the murky middle range in which most British authors operated during their colonial encounters and the voices that they used to make those cross cultural encounters seem vivid and alive

Voices in Revolution John A. Crespi, 2009-07-29 China's century of revolutionary change has been heard as much as seen and nowhere is this more evident than in an auditory history of the modern Chinese poem From Lu Xun's seminal writings on literature to a recitation renaissance in urban centers today poetics meets politics in the sounding voice of poetry Supported throughout by vivid narration and accessible analysis Voices in Revolution offers a literary history of modern China that makes the case for the importance of the auditory dimension of poetry in national revolutionary and postsocialist culture Crespi brings the past to life by first examining the ideological changes to poetic voice during China's early twentieth century transition from empire to nation He then traces the emergence of the spoken poem from the May Fourth period to the present including its mobilization during the Anti Japanese War its incorporation into the student protest repertoire during China's civil war its role as a conflicted voice of Mao era revolutionary passion and finally its current adaptation to the cultural life of China's party guided market economy Voices in Revolution alters the way we read by moving poems off the page and into the real time and space of literary activity To all readers it offers an accessible yet conceptually fresh and often dramatic narration of China's modern literary experience Specialists will appreciate the book's inclusion of noncanonical texts as well as its innovative interdisciplinary approach

Empire's End Akiko Tsuchiya, William Garrett Acree, 2021-04-30 The fall of the Spanish Empire that period in the nineteenth century when it lost its colonies in Spanish America and the Philippines How did it happen What did the process of the end of empire look like Empire's End considers the nation's imperial legacy beyond this period all the way up to the present moment. In addition to scrutinizing the political, economic, and social implications of this end, these chapters emphasize the cultural impact of this process through an analysis of a wide range of representations: literature, literary histories, periodical publications, scientific texts, national symbols, museums, architectural monuments, and tourist routes that formed the basis of transnational connections and exchange. The book breaks new ground by addressing the ramifications of Spain's imperial project in relation to its former colonies not only in Spanish America but also in North Africa and the Philippines, thus generating new insights into the circuits of cultural exchange that link these four geographical areas that are rarely considered together. Empire's End showcases the work of scholars of literature, cultural studies, and history centering on four interrelated issues crucial to understanding the end of the Spanish empire: the mappings of the Hispanic Atlantic, race, human rights, and the legacies of empire.

Postmodernism and its Others Jeffrey Ebbeson, 2017-09-25 The book analyzes Ishmael Reed, Mumbo Jumbo, Kathy Acker, The Adult Life of Toulouse Lautrec by Henri Toulouse-Lautrec, and Don DeLillo's White Noise, three authors whom critics cite as quintessentially postmodern. For these critics, such works possess formal narrative and/or content qualities at odds with modernism. In particular, according to influential thinkers like Fredric Jameson, postmodern works possess narrative form and/or content which eschews reality and embody a fundamental paradigm shift from the politically committed ideology of modernity and modernism to the politically relativistic ideology of postmodernity and postmodernism. The book contends that while the above authors do possess numerous so-called postmodern qualities, their critical forms and/or contents remain ethically and politically grounded. As most postmodern theory rejects such grounding, its discovery in these prototypical postmodern novels suggests problems with the postmodern category itself.

Science Fusion in Contemporary Mexican Literature Brian T. Chandler, 2024-03-29 Science Fusion draws on new materialist theory to analyze the relationship between science and literature in contemporary works of fiction, poetry, and theater from Mexico. In this deft new study, Brian Chandler examines how a range of contemporary Mexican writers fuse science and literature in their work to rethink what it means to be human in an age of climate change, mass extinctions, interpersonal violence, femicide, and social injustice. The authors under consideration here, including Alberto Blanco, Jorge Volpi, Ignacio Padilla, Sabina Berman, Maricela Guerrero, and Elisa D'az Castelo, challenge traditional divisions that separate human from nonhuman, subject from object, culture from nature. Using science and literature to engage topics in biopolitics, historiography, metaphysics, ethics, and ecological crisis in the age of the Anthropocene, works of science fusion offer fresh perspectives to address present-day sociocultural and environmental issues.

Out of Babylon Prof. Walter Brueggemann, 2010-10-01 It was the center of learning, commerce, wealth, and religion. Devoted to materialism, extravagance, luxury, and the pursuit of sensual pleasure, it was a privileged society. But there was also injustice, poverty, and oppression. It was the great and ancient Babylon, the center of the universe And now we find Babylon redux today in Western society Consumer capitalism a never ending cycle of working and buying a sea of choices produced with little regard to life or resources societal violence marginalized and excluded people a world headed toward climactic calamity Where are the prophets the Jeremiahs to lead the way out of the gated communities of overindulgence the high rises of environmental disaster and the darkness at the core of an apostate consumer society Walter Brueggemann a scholar a preacher a prophetic voice in our own time challenges us again to examine our culture turn from the idols of abundance and abuse and turn to lives of meaning and substance

British Encounters with Syrian-Mesopotamian Overland Routes to India, 1751-1795 Mohammad Sakhnini, 2023-03-14 This book argues that eighteenth century British travel writings about the Arabian Overland Routes to India offered fascinating anecdotes of encounters that allow us to rethink Enlightenment understanding of the meaning of improvement Travelling among and writing about the inhabitants government culture religion and ruins of Syria and Mesopotamia offered Britons opportunities to pose themselves in their narratives as men of improvement abroad To that end travelling appeared in their books as serious attempt to improve their readers knowledge about a region that many in Britain saw as decayed barbaric and primitive But the various encounters British travellers experienced in the region allowed them to negotiate the impact of excessive materialism on the traditions morality religion and landscape of eighteenth century Britain At the heart of this book s understanding of Enlightenment writings about the Levant is the idea that a journey in a region which many considered as a theatre for the arts sciences and military conquests in the past and decay in the present represents a fraught relationship modern Europeans had with the past present and future

German Empires and Decolonial Fantasies, 1492-1942 Patricia Anne Simpson, 2025-03-18 German Empires and Decolonial Fantasies 1492 1942 investigates the ways German speaking Europe s cultural narratives reflect histories of entanglement with the colonial world Drawing from an impressive range of sources Patricia Anne Simpson decodes the ironclad colonial logic that reproduces and inflects tropes of the conquistador scientific explorer and pioneers She brings them into dialogue with a cast of historical agents who reimagine the cannibal the enslaved the conquered Indigenous interlocutors and the ungovernable Throughout intersectional attributes of race gender ethnicity and religion reconfigure around shades of European whiteness Individual chapters explore the Hohenzollern legacy in early modernity debates about sovereignty and enslavement recruitment literature prose and fiction about migration and colonization in Africa and the Americas and colonial memoirs driven by recolonial fantasies after 1918 German Empires and Decolonial Fantasies advances efforts to decolonize the multiple disciplines that intersect the field of German studies including literary criticism history philosophy art history and anthropology German Empires and Decolonial Fantasies 1492 1942 draws from a wide range of sources from a seventeenth century Brandenburg fort on the coast of Ghana to a novella about a beleaguered colonial administrator in German East Africa to advance an interdisciplinary discourse at the nexus of colonial narratives and national imaginaries Through detailed case studies Simpson argues for the inclusion of voices that pushed back against imperialist expansion or intervention as well as those historical actors who disputed the supremacy of whiteness and the persuasive power of German centric national history The Oxford Handbook of Cognitive Literary Studies Lisa Zunshine, 2015 The Oxford Handbook of Cognitive Literary Studies applies developments in cognitive science to a wide range of literary texts that span multiple historical periods and numerous national literary traditions Intercolonial Intimacies Paula C. Park, 2022-04-05 As a nation the Philippines has a colonial history with both Spain and the United States Its links to the Americas are longstanding and complex Intercolonial Intimacies interrogates the legacy of the Spanish Empire and the cultural hegemony of the United States by analyzing the work of twentieth century Filipino and Latin American writers and diplomats who often read one other and imagined themselves as kin The relationships between the Philippines and the former colonies of the Spanish Empire in the Americas were strengthened throughout the twentieth century by the consolidation of a discourse of shared even familiar identity This distinct inherited intercolonial bond was already disengaged from their former colonizer and further used to defy new forms of colonialism By examining the parallels and points of contact between these Filipino and Latin American writers Paula C Park elaborates on the intercolonial intimacies that shape a transpacific understanding of coloniality and latinidad Choice ,2008 Post-Colonial Theology Robert S. Heaney, 2019-05-08 Hate is unveiled on our streets Politics is polarized and the cohesion of communities is under stress and threat Religious and theological leaders appear compromised or paralyzed Robert S Heaney grew up in a Northern Ireland where enmity paraded itself and policed the boundaries between segregated identities and aspirations Such conflict with deep historic roots is inextricably linked to religion and colonization The theologizing of colonialism and the ongoing implications of colonialism cannot be ignored by those who wish to understand the most intractable of human conflicts Religious adherents and scholars are increasingly seeking to understand colonialism and decolonization in theological terms The field of post colonial studies across a range of contexts and in a complex network of inter disciplinary analyses has emerged as a major scholarly movement seeking to provide resources for such a task Theologians have increasingly seen the field as a resource and have made their own contributions to its development However depending as it does on a series of theoretical and technical commitments post colonialism remains inaccessible to the uninitiated Beginning with his own particular context of formation in this book Heaney provides an accessible introduction to post colonial theology
