Empowering Couples Creative Pastoral Care And Counseling:

Empowering Couples Duane R. Bidwell, 2013-02-01 Couples can make significant progress toward resolving their own problems when they receive appropriate guidance from a caring person This book outlines five tasks focused on identity agency and meaning that spiritual caregivers can use to empower couples for significant change in just three to five conversations This form of empowering guidance is a dimension of pastoral conversation rather than formal counseling Critically integrating desert spiritual theology with empirical data about successful marriages Bidwell advocates for mutuality and partnership within covenanted relationships which allows partners to create an alliance strong enough to resist the forces that threaten relationships especially the negative influences of criticism contempt defensiveness and withdrawal

Redeeming Singleness Rev. HyoJu Lee Ph.D, 2017-02-16 Have you made a New Year s resolution to get married out of nowhere Did it work When the author turned thirty she put getting married on her New Year s resolution list not because she wanted to get married or had a boyfriend but because of social pressure in which she lived Social pressure made her think that if she wanted to ever get married it was better to do so sooner than later For three consecutive years she prayed about it and made efforts to form relationships After three years passed by she was still single and unhappy As she reflected on her unhappiness she finally realized that she was not happy because she was not able to accomplish a goal that was ultimately out of her control How absurd it was to put get married on my New Year s resolution As she eliminated marriage from her New Year s resolutions and focused on what she really wanted to do with her life her energy level was boosted Although she did not have any tool to frame her singleness she happened to choose the best course for her Only if she knew the socially constructed characteristics of marriage the first three years of her thirties would have been different The author hopes ministers and never married single women can learn what we think is normal is a very contextual product The author invites never married single women to own their own stories instead of being owned by metanarratives in their lives

I Bring the Voices of My People Chanequa Walker-Barnes, 2019-10-01 Disrupting the racist and sexist biases in conversations on reconciliation Chanequa Walker Barnes offers a compelling argument that the Christian racial reconciliation movement is incapable of responding to modern day racism She demonstrates how reconciliation s roots in the evangelical male centered Promise Keepers movement has resulted in a patriarchal and largely symbolic effort focused upon improving relationships between men from various racial ethnic groups Walker Barnes argues that highlighting the voices of women of color is critical to developing any genuine efforts toward reconciliation Drawing upon intersectionality theory and critical race studies she demonstrates how living at the intersection of racism and sexism exposes women of color to unique experiences of gendered racism that are not about relationships but rather are about systems of power and inequity Refuting the idea that race and racism are one size fits all I Bring the Voices of My People highlights the particular work that White Americans must do to repent of racism and to work toward racial justice and offers a constructive view of reconciliation that prioritizes eliminating racial injustice and healing the damage that it has done to African Americans and other people of color

Uncovering Spiritual Narratives Suzanne M. Coyle, 2014
All cultures use story as a way to make sense of life Yet for many only a single story line is seen as the real truth Using narrative therapy as a caregiving approach can help individuals uncover multilayered narratives that are far more complex and liberating Drawing on theological approaches and real life experiences Coyle creates a contextual pastoral theology that helps caregivers find the power of God in people s stories

Setting the Captives Free Ron Clark, 2005-11-01
Abuse is a problem that needs to be understood addressed and challenged The abused are humans in the image of God who need to be protected loved and empowered to stand with us and walk through life with respect and dignity When God brings a victim to us we have a responsibility to love them as we want to be loved and be faithful to that responsibility We must make sure that they and their children are safe protected and given the chance to live in peace and love Abusers are also humans who are in the image of God and they need to be taught how to live and respect all others They must be confronted and challenged to change or face prosecution by our legal system and our spiritual communities I believe that the faith community is in a great position to address this problem We have a God who grieves over the violence that occurs in families Yet we have a God who grieves even more over the fact that spiritual leaders have failed to act as servants of Yahweh in this respect The rest of this book is an appeal to you to gain an understanding of what it really means to face domestic violence and how to help bring peace and wholeness to victims and their children caught in the web of abuse It is an appeal to you to confront those who abuse others rather than shut your eyes from the Introduction Growing Love in Christian Marriage

Empowering Your Church Through Creativity and Change Marshall Shelley, ed SHELLEY, 1995 Short Term Spiritual Guidance Duane R. Bidwell, This book represents a significant departure from most contemporary writing about spiritual direction While most writers focus on long term relationships of guidance specifically envisioning long listening sessions Bidwell changes focus Spiritual direction he insists typically requires intervention in a specific crisis or situation or question is not formal lasts fewer than five sessions and must be actively and intentionally focused on the person's growth Bidwell's work shows what spiritual directors can learn from the short term therapy model especially about enabling people briefly but effectively to learn to listen on their own and with others for God's presence Focusing on how God is already active in the directee's life allows the participants to identify God's action and respond in ways that collaborate with that identified movement of the Spirit Metaphors in Counselor Education and Supervision Sarah E.
