Watkins, 2010-12-01 Child psychologist Chocolate Campbell learned self hate early in life At six years old she knew that her sea green eyes and silky golden hair set her apart from her sisters her beautiful black sisters in the eyes of the only father she knew The product of an adulterous affair as an adult Chocolate finds herself in turmoil of whether to forgive the man who rejected her and her biracial features while accepting his legitimate daughters While reminiscing on a past of longing for the same love from her father that her sisters received Chocolate is also reminded of how his rejection anger and drunkenness resulted in the death of two of her siblings Undercover detective Danni Campbell doesn't want to know love She has seen too much hate to consider giving herself her heart over to a man the way she witnessed her father give his to her mother only to end up with more pain and regret than anyone she knew She dates men that are already taken and lets no one close enough to her heart to break it When she meets Sikander who is a far cry from conventional ideas of handsome her footing becomes shaky and she finds herself seeking her true identity in him She battles with sticking to her vow to never love or letting go and falling head first into the unknown From a prison cell in East Texas James Ray Campbell serves time for the murder of his daughters Dying from cancer and seeking absolution from Chocolate he attempts to reappear in her life through letters and messages from Danni As the sisters face their pasts embrace the present and look forward to their futures a sibling bond is built held onto and threatened in a major way In order to heal completely Chocolate has to reevaluate the past and determine whether it is too late for her to forgive her father and give him a chance to make good on promises he never made let alone tried to keep The Bookseller, 1910 The Convergence of Theology Gerald O'Collins, 2001 The Convergence of Theology is a collection of essays written to honor Gerald O Collins S J beloved and highly esteemed author lecturer and professor of theology at the Gregorian University in Rome for his 70th birthday The 21 essays revolve around four different areas I New Testament Studies II Vatican I Vatican II and Catholic Theology III Fundamental Theology and Spirituality IV Resurrection and Christology The Publisher, 1904 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record, 1926 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1904 Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal, 1910 Gifts from the Poor John F. Loya, 2011-08-01 Gifts from the Poor asks a question It is a fundamental question that each person must ask him or herself will you live by fear or by faith Drawing on his experience as a missionary in El Salvador John Loya reflects on his encounters with the people of that country and presents these reflections as gifts from the poor These gifts are lessons in what it means to choose faith over fear He tells us many stories of persons and events and then he turns to scripture with a sensitivity that reaches to the heart of each story The result is a collection of gems in the great tradition of spiritual writing but with radical implications for our daily lives From the midst of strife torn El Salvador Loya's message is not one of strident anger but of compassion and love He calls us to love in faith not a sentimental
