Migration and Citizenship

Attribution Maarten Vink,2013-09-13 How do states in Western Europe deal with the challenges of migration for citizenship The legal relationship between a person and a state is becoming increasingly blurred in our mobile transnational world This volume deals with the membership dimension of citizenship specifically the formal rules that states use to attribute citizenship These nationally specific rules determine how and under what conditions citizenship is attributed by states to individuals how one can acquire formal citizenship status but also how this status can be lost Migration and Citizenship Attribution observes various trends in citizenship policies since the early 1980s analysing historical patterns and recent changes across Western Europe as well as examining specific developments in individual countries Authors explore the equal treatment of women and men with regard to descent based citizenship attribution along with the process of convergence between countries with ius soli and ius sanguinis traditions with regard to birthright provisions They consider how the increasing acceptance of multiple citizenship is reflected in a dual trend to abolish or at least to moderate the renunciation of the citizenship of origin as a condition for naturalisation and also to restrict provisions of loss of citizenship due to voluntary acquisition of a foreign citizenship Another trend observed and discussed is the introduction by many countries of language tests and integration conditions in the naturalisation procedure with some countries now concluding the naturalisation process by means of a US styled citizenship ceremony Contributors also explore the various things taken into account under state citizenship laws such as statelessness or membership of the European Union This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies      The New Expatriates Anne-Meike Fechter,Katie Walsh,2013-09-13 While scholarship on migration has been thriving for decades little attention has been paid to professionals from Europe and America who move temporarily to destinations beyond the West Such migrants are marginalised and depoliticised by debates on immigration policy and thus there is an urgent need to develop nuanced understanding of these more privileged movements In many ways these are the modern day equivalents of colonial settlers and expatriates yet the continuities in their migration practices have rarely been considered The New Expatriates advances our understanding of contemporary mobile professionals by engaging with postcolonial theories of race culture and identity The volume brings together authors and research from across a wide range of disciplines seeking to evaluate the significance of the past in shaping contemporary expatriate mobilities and highlighting postcolonial continuities in relation to people practices and imaginations Acknowledging the resonances across a range of geographical sites in Asia Africa and the Middle East the chapters consider the particularity of postcolonial contexts while enabling comparative perspectives A focus on race and culture is often obscured by assumptions about class occupation and skill but this volume explicitly examines the way in which whiteness and imperial relationships continue to shape the migration experiences of Euro American skilled migrants as they seek out new places to live and work This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies

Moving Subjects, Moving Objects Maruska Svasek, 2012 Most theories of material culture transnationalism and globalization have failed to incorporate a focus on emotions even though an increasing number of scholars in recent years have explored emotion dense processes This book fills the gap and examines how emotions can be theorized and serve as a useful analytical tool for understanding the interrelated mobility of humans objects and images Through diverse ethnographically rich and theoretically grounded case studies these chapters offer new perspectives that relate migration material culture and emotions by addressing the ways in which migrants and migrant artists express their emotions through objects and images in transnational contexts the ways in which particular works of art everyday objects and artifacts evoke specific feelings in migrants and members of migrant communities and the ways in which artists academics and policy makers may stimulate positive interaction between migrants and members of local communities Provided by publisher

Moving Subjects, Moving Objects Maruška Svašek,2012-05-01 In recent years an increasing number of scholars have incorporated a focus on emotions in their theories of material culture transnationalism and globalization and this book aims to contribute to this field of inquiry It examines how emotions can be theorized and serves as a useful analytical tool for understanding the interrelated mobility of humans objects and images Ethnographically rich and theoretically grounded case studies offer new perspectives on the relations between migration material culture and emotions While some chapters address the many different ways in which migrants and migrant artists express their emotions through objects and images in transnational contexts other chapters focus on how particular works of art everyday objects and artefacts can evoke feelings specific to particular migrant groups and communities Case studies also analyse how artists academics and policy makers can stimulate positive interaction between migrants and non migrant communities Asian Women, Identity and Migration Nish Belford,Reshmi Lahiri-Roy,2020-12-29 This book explores the influence which education and migration experiences have on women of Indian origin in Australia and the United Kingdom when re negotiating their identities The intersections of migration and transnationalism are critically examined through multiple theoretical lenses across three thematic domains encompassing socio historical discourses postcolonial theory theories on intersectionality and interceptionality emotional reflexivity and affects In doing so the book highlights the ambiguities around gendered access and equity to education migration experiences the acculturation process dilemmas surrounding transnationality and negotiation of identities belonging and struggles inherent in simultaneously maintaining ties with home and new social fields Chapters highlight the practical methodological and substantive aspects of affective dimensions and voice with a critical understanding of different tensions challenges complexities and conflicts underlining the stories The book raises the question of voice and agency in advocating emotion based writing in recalibrating conditions representing gendered subjective multivocality of women in breaking silences Presenting non Western perspectives through fragmented and often marginalised accounts within transnational and global spaces this book will be of interest to researchers in the fields of Sociology Gender Studies Migration Transnational and Diaspora studies Sociology of Education Feminist Studies Cultural Studies Literature and Cultural Geographies Tourism and Leisure Mobilities Jillian Rickly,Kevin Hannam,Mary Mostafanezhad,2016-07-15 This book reframes tourism as well as leisure within mobilities studies to challenge the limitations that dichotomous understandings of home away work leisure and host guest bring A mobilities approach to tourism and leisure encourages us to think beyond the mobilities of tourists to ways in which tourism and leisure experiences bring other mobilities into sync or disorder and as a result re conceptualizes social theory The proposed anthology stretches across academic disciplines and fields of study to illustrate the advantages of multi disciplinary conversation and in so doing it challenges how we approach studies of movement based phenomena and the concept of scale Part One examines the ways in which mobility informs and is informed by leisure from everyday practices to leisure inspired mobile lifestyles Part Two investigates individuals and communities that become entrepreneurial in the face of changing tourism contexts and reflects on the performance of work through multiple mobilities Part Three turns to issues of development with attention to the cultural politics that frame development encounters in the context of tourism The varied ways that people move into and out of development projects is mediated by geopolitical discourses that can both challenge and perpetuate geographic imaginations of tourism destinations
