affair with Marlene Dietrich Designs on the Past Lloyd Llewellyn-Jones, 2018-07-13 The epic glitter and glamour of Hollywood's Golden Age. In the period 1916-1966 during its so-called Golden Age, Hollywood developed a passion for the ancient world and produced many epic movie blockbusters. The studios used every device they could find to wow audiences with the spectacle of antiquity. In this unique study, Lloyd Llewellyn Jones shows how Hollywood carefully and skilfully created the popular modern perception of the ancient world. He analyses how producers, art directors, costumiers, publicity agents, movie stars, and inevitably a cast of thousands literally designed and crafted the ancient world from scratch. This lively book offers a technical as well as a theoretical guide to a much neglected area of film studies and reception studies that will appeal to anyone working in these disciplines. Key Features: Lavishly illustrated with film stills and examples of rare and fascinating marketing material. Broad coverage of films including The King of Kings, The Sign of the Cross, Samson and Delilah, Land of the Pharaohs, The Ten Commandments, Ben Hur, Spartacus and Cleopatra. Considers different aspects of film production: the Hollywood set, costume design, the role of the movie star, dialogue, narration, and music. Sets a new agenda for exploring the relationship between history and film, and between history and visual culture. Explores the archaeology of stardom, examining the onscreen/offscreen images of Elizabeth Taylor, Charlton Heston, and Rita Hayworth. Includes a filmography, chronological outline, and study aids.

The Red and the White: A Family Saga of the American West Andrew R. Graybill, 2013-10-07 Winner of the Labriola Center American Indian National Book Award. One of the American West's bloodiest and least known massacres is searingly re-created in this generation-spanning history of native-white intermarriage. At dawn on January 23, 1870, four hundred men of the Second U.S. Cavalry attacked and butchered a Piegan camp near the Marias River in Montana in one of the worst slaughters of Indians by American military forces in U.S. history. Coming to avenge the murder of their father, a former fur trader named Malcolm Clarke, who had been killed four months earlier by their Piegan mother's cousin, Clarke's own two sons joined the cavalry in a slaughter of many of their own relatives. In this groundbreaking work of American history, Andrew R. Graybill places the Marias Massacre within a larger three-generation saga of the Clarke family, particularly illuminating the complex history of native-white intermarriage in the American Northwest.

Screening the Stage Steven Neale, 2017-10-05 Introduced by a comprehensive account of the factors governing the adaptation of stage plays and musicals in Hollywood from the early 1910s to the mid to late 1950s, Screening the Stage consists of a series of chapter-length studies of feature-length films, the plays and musicals on which they were based, and their remakes where pertinent. Founded on an awareness of evolving technologies and industrial practices rather than the tenets of adaptation theory, particular attention is paid to the evolving practices of Hollywood as well as to the purport and structure of the plays and stage musicals on which the film versions were based. Each play or musical is contextualized and summarized in detail, and each film is analyzed so as to pinpoint the ways in which they articulate, modify, or rework the former. Examples range from dramas, comedies, melodramas, musicals, operettas, thrillers, westerns, and war film.
