Leave a Legacy J. Russell Turney,2017-09-15 In this second volume of the new APTS Press Monograph Series Dr Russ Turney presents a compelling case study of why some missionaries leave the field far too soon Normal attrition occurs because of health problems retirement or the obvious call of God to go elsewhere However Turney notes that far too often missionaries leave due to interpersonal conflicts with their colleagues or nationals problems with authority and other issues that Turney contends could be significantly reduced He then presents an excellent strategy for dealing with these and other issues enabling missionaries to continue in their calling long term and finish well This strategy will help equip not only missionaries and mission leaders from both the West and the Majority World but also pastors and church members who love and support missionaries and who want to learn how to strengthen them better through prayer and action Anyone who shares the warm hearted conviction that missionaries can and should leave a legacy will benefit from this book From the Foreword Missionary Expatriate Effectiveness John Farquhar

God     Churches on Mission Geoffrey Hartt, Christopher R. Little, John Wang, 2017-09-15 The twenty first century is marked by a renewed emphasis on the missional responsibility of individual Christians and local churches Churches on Mission God's Grace Abounding to the Nations is an attempt to explore the relationship between the local church and its missionary responsibilities Through history theology case studies and actual ministry practices each author in this collection presents an aspect of local church participation The book aims to be informational and inspirational on many levels and invites readers from local churches to become active participants in the mission of God     World Mission Scott N. Callaham, Will Brooks, 2019-06-12 World missions needs a fully biblical ethos This is the contention of the editors of and contributors to World Mission a series of essays aimed at reforming popular approaches to missions In the first set of essays contributors develop a biblical theology of world missions from both the Old and New Testaments arguing that the theology of each must stand in the foreground of missions not recede into the background In the second they unfold the Great Commission in sequence detailing how it determines the biblical strategy of all mission enterprises Finally they treat current issues in world missions from the perspective of the sufficiency of Scripture Altogether this book aims to reform missions to be thoroughly not just foundationally biblical a needed correction even among the sincerest missionaries     Training Missionaries Evelyn Hibbert, Richard Hibbert, 2016-09-08 Missionaries must know God be able to relate well to other people understand and engage with another culture and be able to use the Bible in a way that informs all aspects of their lives and ministries Missionary training must address each of these areas if it is to help Christians to be effective in taking the gospel to the ends of the earth Effective training has been shown to prevent people from prematurely leaving the field It also reduces the danger of cross cultural workers uncritically exporting culturally bound forms of Christianity This book details four key areas that every missionary training program whatever its context must focus on developing It shows how these can be holistically addressed in a learning community where trainers and trainees engage in cross cultural ministry together     Discovering the Mission of God Mike Barnett, Robin Martin, 2012-07-03 Written by a team of 21st century scholar practitioners Discovering the Mission of God explores the mission of God as presented in the Bible expressed throughout church history and in cutting edge best practices being used around the world today     Spirituality in Mission John Amalraj, Geoffrey W. Hahn, 2018-01-03 Authors from eighteen countries give us their perspectives on biblical principles and cultural expressions of spirituality particularly as the church engages in God's mission The anthology of texts enriches our understanding of the depth and the meaning of being spiritual and the diversity of forms to live out the Christian faith The issue today is how spirituality should direct and guide a daily life as followers of Jesus in the engagement in the mission of God No doubt that it has to do with our inner life and our relationship to God but it is in showing our love and concern to others that we prove our love to God according to the Apostle John 1 John 4 Mission without spirituality will only be a human effort to convince people of religious theories Spirituality without a missionary involvement of the church will not express

God's desire that the transforming gospel reaches every person. This book will help you rethink your understanding of what is spiritual, revisit your own spiritual journey, and appreciate the different forms of spirituality as they are described and performed around the globe. God's Empowered People Steven M. Fettke, 2010-12-15

Professional ministers and their work as church leaders have dominated church and pastoral ministry studies. Lay ministry studies have been neglected. In the local church, lay ministries are often defined solely by their voluntary service in the local church and even then are regarded as secondary to the work of the professional minister leading the local church. This study proposes that the word minister should be applied to all believers and that professional ministers and their ministries should serve the larger group doing ministry. The laity. Lay ministry should not be understood only as that service done in the local church but should be understood as a call received and obeyed by the laity to do the work of ministry in their work places and their neighborhoods as well as their local churches. Following Amos Yong's theology of disability and the formation of the L Arce communities found throughout the world, this God's Empowered People will show how the local church can welcome all in Christ's name into a community of the Spirit in which people are loved and respected for who they are. From such a welcoming, loving, and respectful community can come people of varying abilities who discover their special gifts of ministry, then take their gifts into the work world, market place, and neighborhoods to do the work of ministry in Christ's name. They will be able to go places and do things no professional minister could go or do, yet still need the professional minister to help prepare them to do the work of ministry. Thus, professional and lay ministries are not competitive but complementary. In such a community of professional and lay ministries operating cooperatively, all have the opportunity to express wisely their gifts in their arenas of calling and influence. Understanding Burnout Recovery Among Native-Born Korean Missionaries Hannah Kyong-Jin Cho, 2020-01-29

In this timely book, Cho provides mission scholars, sending churches, and mission agencies with an understanding of Korean missionaries' burnout recovery process. Her study of Korean missionary burnout recovery included thirty-nine research participants who had experienced burnout in missionary service and who subsequently recovered. Participants reported a variety of physical, emotional, and spiritual symptoms as well as relational difficulties experienced during burnout. Cho describes how their self-help approach, characterized by independent religious self-effort, brought only temporary relief. Through self-care, however, they experienced genuine recovery. Self-care that leads to lasting recovery is holistic and grace-based, characterized by a correct understanding of the roles of God and others in their lives and engagement in authentic community for interdependent care. This study also gives insightful recommendations to missionary member care systems, mission agencies, and other sending organizations in an Asian cultural context about how to care for Korean missionaries. It is also intended for counselors of home churches so that they can provide better member care for burned-out missionaries. Lastly, this study advances research into contextually appropriate paradigms and strategies helpful to cross-cultural missionaries in the area of both Korean missionaries and non-Western studies in missionary member care.
