Developing Place-responsive Pedagogy in Outdoor Environmental Education Alistair Stewart, 2020-02-25 This book is a rhizomatic curriculum autobiography that charts the author's efforts to develop and promote Australian outdoor environmental education practices that are inclusive of and responsive to the places in which they are performed. Joining philosophical concepts created by Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari with William Pinar's autobiographical method for curriculum inquiry, the author re-considers the interrelated concepts, contexts and complex conversations with colleagues, students and others that have shaped his approach to curriculum pedagogy and research for fifteen years or more. Emphasising the complexity of developing curricula and pedagogies that engage in a respectful and generative way with the natural and cultural history of the Australian continent, the author explicates and enacts his attempts to think differently about the cultural curricular and pedagogical understandings that inform the practices of Australian outdoor environmental educators. Outdoor environmental education in Australia has historically been influenced by imported universalist ideas, particularly from the USA and the UK. However, during the last two decades, a growing number of researchers in this field have challenged the applicability of such taken-for-granted approaches and advocated the development of curricula and pedagogies informed by the unique biogeographical and cultural histories of the locations in which educational experiences take place. As this book demonstrates, Alistair Stewart is prominent among the vanguard of Australian outdoor environmental educators who have led such advocacy by combining practical experience with theoretical rigour.

A Memory of Ice Elizabeth Truswell, 2019-08-01 In the southern summer of 1972-73 the Glomar Challenger was the first vessel of the international Deep Sea Drilling Project to venture into the seas surrounding Antarctica, confronting severe weather and ever-present icebergs. A Memory of Ice presents the science and the excitement of that voyage in a manner readable for non-scientists. Woven into the modern story is the history of early explorers, scientists and navigators who had gone before into the Southern Ocean. The departure of the Glomar Challenger from Fremantle took place 100 years after the HMS Challenger weighed anchor from Portsmouth, England, at the start of its four-year voyage sampling and dredging the world's oceans. Sailing south, the Glomar Challenger crossed the path of James Cook's HMS Resolution, then on its circumnavigation of Antarctica in search of the Great South Land. Encounters with Lieutenant Charles Wilkes of the US Exploring Expedition and Douglas Mawson of the Australasian Antarctic Expedition followed. In the Ross Sea, the voyages of the HMS Erebus and HMS Terror under James Clark Ross, with the young Joseph Hooker as botanist, were ever-present. The story of the Glomar Challenger's iconic voyage is largely told through the diaries of the author, then a young scientist experiencing science at sea for the first time. It weaves together the physical history of Antarctica with how we have come to our current knowledge of the polar continent. This is an attractive, lavishly illustrated and curiosity-satisfying read for the general public as well as for scholars of science.

Discovery and Empire John West-Sooby, 2013 The French connection with the South Seas stretches back at least as far as the voyage of Binot Paulmier de Gonneville, 1503-1505, who believed he had discovered the fabled Great South Land after being blown off course during a storm near the Cape of Good Hope. The story of his voyage remained largely forgotten for over 150 years but eventually resurfaced in 1664 thanks to the publication by the Abbe Jean Paulmier of a document in which he argued on the basis of this supposed discovery for the establishment of a Christian mission in this third part of the world While historians today contest the authenticity of various aspects of the Abbe Paulmier s Memoires there is no doubt about the impact it had in France both on the collective imagination and more concretely on French plans for exploration and colonial expansion It was not until the eighteenth century however that France began sending mariners to the southern oceans on a regular basis and by that time a new maritime power had begun to emerge Great Britain Together these two nations would play a decisive role in determining the configuration of these little known parts of the globe and particularly of the Pacific which had for so long been the almost exclusive preserve of Spain

From the Introduction by John West Sooby DISCOVERY AND EMPIRE is a collection of essays originating out of a symposium that was held at the State Library of South Australia on 8 July 2009 The symposium formed one of the strands of the XVIIth Biennial Conference of the Australasian Association of European Historians 6-9 July 2009 the overall theme for which was Europe s Expansions and Contractions

Pierre Bernard Milius Milius, Pierre Bernard, 1773-1829, 2013-12-01 Pierre Bernard Milius owes his fame to the Nicolas Baudin expedition of 1800-1804 On 19 October 1800 Baudin and his large group of scientists left Le Havre in two ships the Geographe and the Naturaliste to survey the coast of New Holland and the southern part of New Guinea and conduct scientific investigations as well as collect living and preserved specimens of plants and animals Milius was promoted to commander of the Geographe following the death of Baudin The journal of Pierre Bernard Milius is a rare opportunity to bring to life an important but lesser known chapter in the history of the discovery and exploration of Australia Milius first touched land in Australia in Geographe Bay in the south west and then in the Swan River district where he took a longboat ashore and was wrecked on Cottesloe Beach Here he repaired his boat using local resources such as stringy bark for caulking and resin and gum for sealing the seams At Cottesloe Milius noted children s footprints in the sand and shell fish debris that pointed to the presence of Aboriginal people
