

4 Point Essay Scoring Guide

Score	Criteria	Performance Range
4	Essays earning a 4 effectively demonstrate understanding of the task in the prompt. The writer's interpretation or argument is convincing and clearly supported a specific position. The writer's interpretation or argument is convincing and has effective support from the source material, observation, or experience. The writing style demonstrates an ability to control a wide range of the elements of effective writing but may not be flawless.	Meets/Exceeds Expectations	Successful
3	Essays earning a 3 adequately take a position that demonstrates understanding of the task in the prompt. The writer's interpretation or argument is generally convincing and supported a position, but lacks sophistication or is less coherent than essays receiving a higher score. Though the language may contain lapses in diction or syntax, overall the prose is clear and understandable, demonstrating an ability to control the elements of effective writing.	Meets Expectations
2	Essays earning a 2 inadequately demonstrate understanding of the task in the prompt. They attempt to present an interpretation or argument and support their position, but may misunderstand, misrepresent, or oversimplify either their own interpretation or argument along with the support they include. The link between the interpretation or argument and the support is weak. The writing style of 2 essays may suggest immature control of writing.	Approaching Expectations	Unsuccessful
1	Essays earning a 1 do not demonstrate success in understanding the task in the prompt. They may merely allude to knowledge gained from reading the sources rather than citing the sources themselves. These essays may misread the sources, fail to present an argument, or substitute a simpler task by merely responding to the question tangentially or by summarizing the sources. The writing style of these essays often demonstrates consistent weaknesses in writing, such as a lack of development or organization, grammatical problems, or lack of control.	Not Meeting Expectations
0	Essays earning a 0 merely repeat the prompt or are completely off topic.	Off Topic

Essay Scoring Guide:

Automated Essay Scoring Mark D. Shermis, Jill C. Burstein, 2003-01-30 This new volume is the first to focus entirely on automated essay scoring and evaluation. It is intended to provide a comprehensive overview of the evolution and state of the art of automated essay scoring and evaluation technology across several disciplines including education testing and measurement, cognitive science, computer science, and computational linguistics. The development of this technology has led to many questions and concerns. Automated Essay Scoring attempts to address some of these questions including: How can automated scoring and evaluation supplement classroom instruction? How does the technology actually work? Can it improve students' writing? How reliable is the technology? How can these computing methods be used to develop evaluation tools? What are the state-of-the-art essay evaluation technologies and automated scoring systems? Divided into four parts, the first part reviews the teaching of writing and how computers can contribute to it. Part II analyzes actual automated essay scorers including e-rater™, Intellimetric, and the Intelligent Essay Assessor. The third part analyzes related psychometric issues, and the final part reviews innovations in the field. This book is ideal for researchers and advanced students interested in automated essay scoring from the fields of testing and measurement, education, cognitive science, language, and computational linguistics.

Automated Essay Scoring Beata Beigman Klebanov, Nitin Madnani, 2022-05-31 This book discusses the state of the art of automated essay scoring, its challenges, and its potential. One of the earliest applications of artificial intelligence to language data, along with machine translation and speech recognition, automated essay scoring has evolved to become both a revenue-generating industry and a vast field of research with many subfields and connections to other NLP tasks. In this book, we review the developments in this field against the backdrop of Elias Page's seminal 1966 paper titled "The Imminence of Grading Essays by Computer." Part 1 establishes what automated essay scoring is about, why it exists, where the technology stands, and what are some of the main issues. In Part 2, the book presents guided exercises to illustrate how one would go about building and evaluating a simple automated scoring system, while Part 3 offers readers a survey of the literature on different types of scoring models, the aspects of essay quality studied in prior research, and the implementation and evaluation of a scoring engine. Part 4 offers a broader view of the field, inclusive of some neighboring areas, and Part 5 closes with summary and discussion. This book grew out of a week-long course on automated evaluation of language production at the North American Summer School for Logic, Language, and Information (NASSLLI) attended by advanced undergraduates and early-stage graduate students from a variety of disciplines. Teachers of natural language processing in particular will find that the book offers a useful foundation for a supplemental module on automated scoring. Professionals and students in linguistics, applied linguistics, educational technology, and other related disciplines will also find the material here useful.

Early Holistic Scoring of Writing Richard Haswell, Norbert Elliot, 2019-11-01 What is the most fair and efficient way to assess the writing performance of students? Although the question gained importance during the US educational accountability movement of the 1980s and 1990s the issue had preoccupied international language experts and evaluators long before One answer to the question the assessment method known as holistic scoring is central to understanding writing in academic settings Early Holistic Scoring of Writing addresses the history of holistic essay assessment in the United Kingdom and the United States from the mid 1930s to the mid 1980s and newly conceptualizes holistic scoring by philosophically and reflectively reinterpreting the genre s origin development and significance The book chronicles holistic scoring from its initial origin in the United Kingdom to the beginning of its heyday in the United States Chapters cover little known history from the holistic scoring of school certificate examination essays written by Blitz evacuee children in Devon during WWII to teacher adaptations of holistic scoring in California schools during the 1970s Chapters detail the complications challenges and successes of holistic scoring from British high stakes admissions examinations to foundational pedagogical research by Bay Area Writing Project scholars The book concludes with lessons learned providing a guide for continued efforts to assess student writing through evidence models Exploring the possibility of actionable history Early Holistic Scoring of Writing reconceptualizes writing assessment Here is a new history that retells the origins of our present body of knowledge in writing studies
